

No Disguise

We don't consider it necessary for us to continually boast of virtues. The faultless goods we handle are a stamping virtue in themselves. In their merits we pride and congratulate ourselves on the success we have obtained—mainly due to them.

But we won't attempt to disguise our faults, which became known through the loud criticism of our competitors.

They are as such:—

Never satisfied with our present enormous trade of our generous patrons we constantly greed to create new custom by offering and that we are

Price Cutters

We admit our guilt and deserve a heavy sentence, that is—to crowd us heavily with all your purchases.

has grown steadily in public favor, and is no place more popular than where it was first used. It is a sure and positive cure for leaks in a tin or iron roof, and as a preservative of wood it has no equal. Write for particulars and prices.

We have scores of testimonials as to its merits.

ROOFING

We do iron, cement, and gravel roofing and guarantee good work in every case.

We sell our paint by the gallon or barrel, or will contract to paint your roof or any woodwork liable to decay.

If you want a new roof or an old one repaired, let us hear from you.

A POPULAR WEDDING

On Monday, July the 6th, a very pretty wedding ceremony was performed in St. James' church, Trevelyan, when Rev. Father Crawley united in holy bonds of matrimony Mr. Frederick McDonald, of Lanstowne, and Miss Johanna Shea, youngest daughter of Mr. N. Shea, of Sheatown. The bride was attired in a pretty blue costume trimmed with white silk, and the bridesmaid, Miss Teresa Murphy, of Rockport, looked very attractive in a costume of similar color. Mr. Bert Ivy supported the groom during the ceremony.

In the evening a grand reception was given the happy couple at the home of the bride's father. A sumptuous repast awaited the guests, and before doing justice to the good things prepared, Rev. Fr. Crawley made a very appropriate speech, in which he spoke highly of the young lady, who had been a resident of his parish, and joined with the assembled guests in wishing the young couple a long and happy life. About 100 then sat down to a richly prepared table, and when ample justice had been done and every one had complimented the newly married couple, all retired to the lawn, where a spacious platform had been erected for those who enjoyed the amusement of dancing. A full orchestra furnished music for this entertainment, and the lawn with its crowded platform and brilliant lights presented a very pretty spectacle. Amusements were kept up until early in the morning, when all departed much pleased with the pleasant time spent. To learn the esteem in which the bride was held it was simply necessary to retire to a room which held the many and costly presents which were given by her friends and acquaintances. The following are among the articles received:—

Gift from the groom, $10.00.
Rev. Fr. Crawley, $2.00.
