Women have Kidney Disease

And make the mistake of attributing the resulting backache to other causes.

Many women have kidney disease and do not know it. They confuse the symptoms with those of allments of a feminine nature. Backache, loss of flesh, dry, harsh skin, deposits in the urine, swelling of the feet and legs, stiffness and soreness of the muscles, weariness and despondency are symptoms of kidney disease, and call for prompt treatment inorder to prevent serious results.

Mrs. W. WILKINS, Henry St., Belleville, Ont., states:—"I suffered a great deal with pains in the small of the back caused by kidney trouble. Whenever I stooped I roughly again. Baldwin Lococomotive Works two new express passenger engines. They are the largest and most > Control Your Thoughts. In the firm control of our thoughts lies the secret of the most wonderful possession of which we can boastcharacter. It is quite as much a matter of habit as of will, this being honorable, truthful, just; having formed our principles of right living, conscience invariably points to a whole hearted loy-alty to them. And when baser motives plead, why, here is just where your will power may profit by exercise.

The lady who plays bridge whist cannot be expected to coun tenance the man who plays poker. That's different.

"Two years ago," says a writer in the Scientific American, "it was my good fortune to witness a combat between a king snake and a water moc-casin. I was attracted to the scene by a negro laborer. When I reached the spot I found the snakes coiled together in a pool of water, the king snake gripping his enemy with the tip of his tail just back of the head. It was clearly his intention to drown the moccasin. For the purpose of taking a photograph I lifted the two struggling, writhing serpents to a rock. Just before I took my photograph the king snake pulled the moccasin's head in the exact position he wished and quickly stretched his jaws over it. Thought-lessly enough, I put the snakes back into the water, thinking that the king snake would also drown. however, he left the pool, stretched his letim straight out before him and leisurely began to swallow him. In my efforts to take another photograph he was frightened away. Both snakes were nearly the same size, being about three and a half feet in length."

The Art of Listening.
There is a grace of kind listening as well as a grace of kind speaking. Some men listen with an abstracted air which shows that their thoughts are lsewhere, or they seem to listen, but by wide answers and irrelevant questions show that they have been occupied with their own thoughts as being more interesting, at least in their own estimation, than what you have been saying. Some interrupt and will not hear you to the end. Some hear you to the end, and forthwith begin to talk to you about a similar experience which has befallen themselves, making your case only an illustration of their own. Some, meaning to be kind, listen with such a determined, lively, violent attention that you are at once made uncomfortable, and the charm of conversation is at an end. Many persons whose manners will stand the speaking break down under the trial of listening.
