

SCROFULA OR KING'S... 1851.

BAZAAR, IN AID OF FURNISHING THE NEW TEMPERANCE HALL.

THE New Temperance Hall in this Town being nearly completed... It is now necessary to provide the requisite funds for actually furnishing the same.

- Mrs. F. Young, Mrs. P. Davies, Mrs. C. Doolittle, Mrs. W. B. Watson, Mrs. G. Moore, Mrs. H. H. Young, Mrs. J. J. Papp, Mrs. A. H. Yates, Mrs. W. H. Moore, Mrs. F. G. Moore, Mrs. W. C. Towner, Mrs. M. Butler.

Articles may also be sent to the Rev. Mr. Fitzgerald, Messrs. W. B. Watson, W. H. Moore, J. J. Papp, & A. H. Yates.

ON THE EVENING OF THE 17th, (Immediately after the Bazaar) A Vocal and Instrumental Concert

Several talented Vocalists and Musicians, who have kindly volunteered their services for the occasion, are to be had at the Bazaar.

By order of the Committee, W. B. DAWSON, Chairman. October 6, 1851.

NOTICE. OWNERS of Farm-steadings or Proprietors of Land for Sale, and to Let or Lease, in Prince Edward Island, are solicited to send for the information of intending purchasers or lessees, a list of the names of the owners of such land, with the names of the persons who are desirous of purchasing or leasing the same.

WILLIAM LA MONT, Agent. General Post Office, Charlottetown, Sept. 25, 1851.

NOTICE. THE Members of the General Branch of the Royal Agricultural Society, whose subscriptions for the present year are not paid up, are hereby notified, that unless the same be paid on or before the 1st of January, 1852, they will be entitled to any of the privileges of the Society, &c.

By order of the Committee, MARTIN BYRNE, Secy. & TREASURER. Georgetown, Oct. 24, 1851.

TO THE TENANTS on Lots 9 & 61. THESE Lots, being the property of the late Mr. Andrew J. DODD, are now offered for sale, and the property is to be sold by public auction, on the 25th of November, 1851, at 10 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. JAMES YEO.

By order of the Committee, THOMAS OWEN, Postmaster General. Charlottetown, Sept. 25, 1851.

NOTICE. WHEREAS by Power of Attorney, bearing date the 25th day of July, 1851, I have been appointed the Agent of the said Mr. Andrew J. DODD, in relation to the said Lots 9 & 61, in the Parish of St. John's, in the County of St. John's, in the Province of Prince Edward Island, I do hereby give notice to all persons interested in the said Lots, that they are to be sold by public auction, on the 25th of November, 1851, at 10 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. JAMES YEO.

By order of the Committee, HANNAH COMPTON. St. Elizabeth's, Nov. 4, 1851.

NOTICE. WHEREAS any legal demands against the Estate of the late Mr. Andrew J. DODD, are to be paid to the said Mr. Andrew J. DODD, or to his Executors, Administrators, or Assigns, I do hereby give notice to all persons having any such demands, that they are to be presented to the said Mr. Andrew J. DODD, or to his Executors, Administrators, or Assigns, on or before the 1st of January, 1852, at 10 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. JAMES YEO.

By order of the Committee, HANNAH COMPTON. St. Elizabeth's, Nov. 4, 1851.

NOTICE. WHEREAS any legal demands against the Estate of the late Mr. Andrew J. DODD, are to be paid to the said Mr. Andrew J. DODD, or to his Executors, Administrators, or Assigns, I do hereby give notice to all persons having any such demands, that they are to be presented to the said Mr. Andrew J. DODD, or to his Executors, Administrators, or Assigns, on or before the 1st of January, 1852, at 10 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. JAMES YEO.

By order of the Committee, HANNAH COMPTON. St. Elizabeth's, Nov. 4, 1851.

BRITISH DOMINIONS IN AMERICA. Boscawen, in his well-known work on the subject, states, that the population of the British Empire, exclusive of the colonies, is 14,000,000. The population of the European continent is 200,000,000. The population of the British Empire, exclusive of the colonies, is 14,000,000. The population of the European continent is 200,000,000.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan. He had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

Miscellaneous. MINISTERIAL TACTICS. It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

KEEP YOUR BACK WARM. About twenty or thirty years ago, I read a medical treatise which stated, "that the back is the most vulnerable part of the human system, through which most of the cold enters."

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTER. As they who, for every slight indignity, take pains to repair their health, do rather impair it; so they who, for every trifling, are eager to vindicate their character, do rather weaken it.

IMMORTALITY. It is estimated that over one hundred thousand acres were made in Albany last year, and that full one hundred and twenty thousand will have been manufactured this year.

OBSTINACY. An obstinate man does not know when he is wrong, but he holds his ground with great tenacity. Whatever he says he holds on, like a drunken man, he never leaves, though it do but help to sink him sooner.

THE ROSE AND THE BREEZE. Night had passed, and the dawn was breaking. The breeze was fresh, and the sun was rising. The rose was in bloom, and the air was fragrant.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

WONDERS OF THE UNIVERSE. What more American will make any one believe, that in one day, the sun will travel 91,400,000 miles, and that in one year, it will travel 32,670,000,000 miles, and that in one century, it will travel 3,267,000,000,000 miles.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTERS OF THE GREAT GLASS HOUSE. If for nothing else, the glass house is a fine specimen of the human mind. It is a house of glass, and it is a house of glass.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

HYPERBOLICAL TRUTHS. A promising young man, George Taylor, of the 12th Lancers, aged 27, was married at Lisson Grove, on Monday the 12th inst. to Miss Anne, daughter of the late Mr. Taylor, and the ceremony was attended by three persons, with whom they had undergone the same ceremony.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTERS OF THE GREAT GLASS HOUSE. If for nothing else, the glass house is a fine specimen of the human mind. It is a house of glass, and it is a house of glass.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTERS OF THE GREAT GLASS HOUSE. If for nothing else, the glass house is a fine specimen of the human mind. It is a house of glass, and it is a house of glass.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTERS OF THE GREAT GLASS HOUSE. If for nothing else, the glass house is a fine specimen of the human mind. It is a house of glass, and it is a house of glass.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTERS OF THE GREAT GLASS HOUSE. If for nothing else, the glass house is a fine specimen of the human mind. It is a house of glass, and it is a house of glass.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTERS OF THE GREAT GLASS HOUSE. If for nothing else, the glass house is a fine specimen of the human mind. It is a house of glass, and it is a house of glass.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTERS OF THE GREAT GLASS HOUSE. If for nothing else, the glass house is a fine specimen of the human mind. It is a house of glass, and it is a house of glass.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTERS OF THE GREAT GLASS HOUSE. If for nothing else, the glass house is a fine specimen of the human mind. It is a house of glass, and it is a house of glass.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTERS OF THE GREAT GLASS HOUSE. If for nothing else, the glass house is a fine specimen of the human mind. It is a house of glass, and it is a house of glass.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTERS OF THE GREAT GLASS HOUSE. If for nothing else, the glass house is a fine specimen of the human mind. It is a house of glass, and it is a house of glass.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTERS OF THE GREAT GLASS HOUSE. If for nothing else, the glass house is a fine specimen of the human mind. It is a house of glass, and it is a house of glass.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTERS OF THE GREAT GLASS HOUSE. If for nothing else, the glass house is a fine specimen of the human mind. It is a house of glass, and it is a house of glass.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTERS OF THE GREAT GLASS HOUSE. If for nothing else, the glass house is a fine specimen of the human mind. It is a house of glass, and it is a house of glass.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTERS OF THE GREAT GLASS HOUSE. If for nothing else, the glass house is a fine specimen of the human mind. It is a house of glass, and it is a house of glass.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTERS OF THE GREAT GLASS HOUSE. If for nothing else, the glass house is a fine specimen of the human mind. It is a house of glass, and it is a house of glass.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTERS OF THE GREAT GLASS HOUSE. If for nothing else, the glass house is a fine specimen of the human mind. It is a house of glass, and it is a house of glass.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.

CHARACTERS OF THE GREAT GLASS HOUSE. If for nothing else, the glass house is a fine specimen of the human mind. It is a house of glass, and it is a house of glass.

It is well-known, that when the late Rev. Rowland Hill, of London, commenced his ministry, some eighty years ago, there was in many parts of England a settled aversion to evangelical religion, so that, notwithstanding his talents in life, and his constant labors, he had to contend with a population that was almost entirely pagan.