The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

Twenty-seven nursery maids in a New York hospital for children went on strike the other day.

Did they want better wages or shorter hours or improved conditions of housing and feeding? No; as far as history relates they were quite satisfied with all these things.

The reason they struck was simply because the superintendent of the hospital refused to grant their request to be called Miss So-and-So, instead of merely Mary Ann, or whatever other cognomen their parents had endowed them with.

Funny? Doesn't seem particularly so to me. Instead, it seems to me like a very serious and very much worth thinking about sidelight on the domestic service problem.

I have recently been investigating the heartrending conditions of the girl who works in a shop or factory or office for four or five dollars a week, and manages to completely support herself on that sum.

When I tell people some of the pathetic facts I unearthed, many of them say, "Yes, that is all very sad, but why don't those girls go into domestic service? They would get very much better pay there and be always sure of a comfortable home and plenty to eat."

Well, there's probably the most powerful reason why they don't, epitomized in that nurserymaids' strike.

In a shop or factory or office a girl is Miss So-and-So. In the kitchen or nursery she is merely Mary Ann.

And I don't mean just in title, of course, but in standing.

The monotony and the lack of independence go far to make domestic service unpopular, but I don't believe they keep half so many girls out of the work as the feeling that a domestic servant is looked down upon.

I personally know a very fine, intelligent girl who has taken up domestic service because she likes the work better than office, shop or factory work, and because she can make more money at it.

And yet she is continually restless and unhappy, simply because she feels that she is looked down upon because of her position.

When she meets new people she always tries to conceal her occupation from them, and suffers agonies of foolish shame when they find out. She is just the kind of girl most women want to have in their homes.

And she is just the kind of girl we won't have many of, until we succeed in raising domestic service to the same level as other vocations.

And that "we" means every employer of a domestic helper.

How can you help raise the level of this vocation? Simply by treating the girl in your kitchen, in so far as her personality warrants it, as an equal.

Treat her as respectfully as you would if you were a business woman and she were your stenographer.

Be interested in her affairs and her friends, not in a patronizing but a friendly way.

Introduce her to your friends when occasion arises, and show them that you respect her.

Insist upon your children treating her respectfully.

Above all, think shame on yourself and give yourself a mental scourging if ever you find yourself, even way down in your heart, looking down upon her just because she is a servant.

Are these things impossible? They ought not to be.

Woman's Power Over Man

Woman's most glorious endowment is the power to awaken and hold the pure and honest love of a worthy man. When she loses it and still loves on, no one in the wide world can know the heart agony she endures. The woman who suffers from weakness and derangement of her special womanly organism soon loses the power to sway the heart of a man. Her general health suffers and she loses her power and prestige as a woman. It purifies, regulates and deranges her special womanly organism. Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., with the assistance of his staff of able physicians, has prescribed for and cured many thousands of women. He has devised a successful remedy for woman's ailments. It is known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive specific for the weaknesses and disorders peculiar to women. It purifies, regulates and deranges her special womanly organism. Medicine dealers sell it. No honest dealer will advise you to accept a substitute in order to make a little larger profit.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

Fads and Fashions.

Rough straws are decidedly smart this season and, strange as it may seem to the uninitiated, the rougher the straw the costlier the hat may be.

The Gibson plaits are used a great deal in children's dresses this season. By means of these plaits the necessary fullness may be admirably adjusted.

Turbans made entirely of net, arranged in a series of remarkable folds, swirls or loops, are now seen. They are decidedly smart, but very vulnerable to dust.

More and more vivid are the color effects seen in the new skirts as the season advances. Stitching is a favorite mode of finishing the joining of plaits to the yoke.

Color in lingerie gowns is sometimes introduced in the design of the lace or embroidery trimming, or again in the girdle or about the collarless neck and sleeve.

The coat, closing at the waist line is preferred for early summer suits, as it provides the deep opening which is pretty with the lingerie waist and the fashionable tulle.

Fantastically colored wooden beads have a distinct place in present fashions. Tunic's edged with wooden beads dyed to match the color of the gown are decidedly effective.

Two things especially the law of fashion requires this season—one is that the skirt must be short, clearing the floor about three inches; the other is that gowns must be collarless.

Modish one-piece dresses of linen, buttoned in front, have low necks with Dutch or lingerie finishes. Other one-piece dresses are of Henriette, pongee, poplin, foulard and other silks.

Your Boy

Ask your doctor how often he prescribes an alcoholic stimulant for children. He will probably say, "Very, very rarely." Ask him how often he prescribes a tonic for them. He will probably answer, "Very, very frequently." Aspet's Sarsaparilla is a strong tonic, entirely free from alcohol.

Wesleyville's Sympathy

Editor Evening Telegram:
Dear Sir,—The following incident, we believe, deserves mention in your valuable paper, as showing the spirit of loyalty of the people in some of our outports.

After the death of our late beloved Sovereign the following expression of sympathy was called to the Secretary of State for the Colonies from Wesleyville and Newtowna Circuit.

To the Secretary of Colonies,
London, England.

"Please convey beloved Queen Alexandra and Royal Family sympathy loyal subjects Wesleyville, Newfoundland."
(Signed) HOLMES,
WINSOR, M. H.A.
Wesleyville, May 7th, 1910.

To this cablegram a reply was sent through the Governor, and the following is a copy of the message received from Government House:—

Government House,
St. John's,
12th May, 1910.

Sir,—I am directed by the Governor to inform you that he has received instruction from the Secretary of State for the Colonies to convey to you the thanks of His Majesty the King for your telegram of sympathy.

Yours faithfully,
T. C. FITZHERBERT,
Private Secretary.

This goes to show both that our people possess a spirit of deep loyalty and sympathy with the Royal Family, and that His Majesty is a King who appreciates the sympathy of his subjects.

It is to be hoped that such a spirit will always prevail in our midst.

On Sunday evening, May 15th, a Memorial Service was held in the Methodist Church at Wesleyville, in honour of our late King. The pastor, Rev. A. A. Holmes, gave a stirring address, filled with the spirit of loyalty and deep sorrow for the death of our beloved monarch. The text was from 1 Kings, 2nd and 10 verse:—"So David slept with his fathers, and was buried in the city of his fathers."

Afterwards the "Dead March in Saul" was rendered while the congregation stood with bowed heads.

Yours sincerely,
SUBSCRIBER.
Wesleyville, May 17th, 1910.

The Empire Club's Sympathy.

At a meeting of the Empire Club, held last night, the following Resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

Whereas it has pleased the Almighty in His far-seeing wisdom to call to Himself our beloved Sovereign King Edward VII.

And whereas by his wisdom and graciousness His Majesty has peacefully ruled His vast Empire since the death of his beloved mother, Victoria the Good, and by his overmastering desire to be at peace with all the world's nations, by his kindly interest in the welfare of all his subjects, by his wonderful tact and genial, affable disposition he has made himself beloved by all his people;

Be it Resolved that the Empire Amusement Club put on record an expression of its deep and lasting regret at the great loss sustained by the Empire, and its very sincere sympathy at the still greater loss which has fallen to his widowed Queen, and the Royal Family.

Be it Further Resolved that this Club also put on record an expression of its loyalty to the Throne and Person of King George V., whose reign, we pray, may be long and happy, and may be marked with the virtues that were so characteristic of his illustrious predecessor;

And be it Further Resolved that a copy of these Resolutions be recorded in the Minute Book of this Club, forwarded to the city papers for publication.

FLAGS AT HALF-MAST.

During the memorial service in the C. E. Cathedral to-morrow flags will be at half-mast wherever there is a flag pole in the city. All the public halls will show this token of mourning and the shipping in port will also fly their flags at half-mast. The great number of local craft in the harbor will show this mark of respect to the dead King; also.

ONLY TWO ARRESTS.—The police made only two arrests for drunkenness last night.

CITY COUNCIL MEETING.

As to-morrow will be a general holiday the City Council will meet this evening.

SERGEANT CORBETT BETTER.—Sgt. Corbett is gradually improving and will be able to get out in a few days.

Serviceable Black Dress Fabrics.

BUY BLACK ALPACCA for your mourning dress; it is the most serviceable for general wear—its smooth surface does not allow the dust to cling—in fact the wind that blows the dust on takes it off again, owing to its peculiar smooth, glaze surface finish. Alpacca hangs in graceful, round folds and has all the appearance of Glace Silk.

Black Alpacca is the proper and correct mourning, especially this sad season when Empire mourning is demanded. See our stock to-day. Here are the prices to select from: 30c., 35c., 40c., 50c., 65c., 75c., 80c., and $1.00 yard. Widths run from 38 inches to 44 inches, all best makes and finish. Figure on six yards for a dress and buy yours to-day.
