CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 25.

A great fire occurred at Ordvort in Asia Minor, a Black Sea market place. A thousand houses have been destroyed.

CHATHAM, Mass., Sept. 25.

The three-masted schooner Nellie F. Sawyer, of Portland, slid into deep water and sunk, after striking a shoal in the Pollock Rip Channel today. She was bound from New York to Calais with coal. The crew is safe.

LONDON, Sept. 25.

Lord Alverstone has recovered from his long illness, and unless a relapse occurs it is certain that he will resume his position as Lord Chief Justice on October 12th. This will bring relief to the Administration, which had selected Sir Rufus Isaacs for the position, but feared a popular outcry on account of the Marconi troubles.

QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 25.

The White Star liner Olympic today followed the example of the forward steamers, and shunned Queenstown harbor, where she had been accustomed to anchor. She sailed from here at 6 p.m. without taking on 200 passengers and 1,500 sacks of mail for New York. The captain refused to enter the harbor, and the tenders were unable to transfer them owing to the heavy swell.

LONDON, Sept. 25.

Messrs. J. and G. White, British Harbor Engineers, have secured a contract, involving some $30,000,000 for the Harbor extension scheme in Vancouver, where the Provincial Government recently granted shore rights to the Vancouver Harbor and Dock Extension Co. It is intended to provide 25 miles of dockage at Lulu Island and Sea Island, and many miles for industrial sites and railway terminals.

DUBLIN, Sept. 25.

Sir George R. Askwith has issued a memorandum, outlining a plan whereby a conciliation committee comprising six members nominated by employers and six by transport workers, with himself as chairman, will meet on Monday and sit till the present strikes and lockouts are terminated. Conditions have become so grave here that troops are held in readiness to assist the police in the event of the starving people commencing looting.

PARIS, Sept. 25.

Wreckage, supposed to be the remains of the Bonsole, the vessel of the French explorer La Perouse, which sailed on a voyage of discovery in the Pacific in 1788, and never returned, has been found buried in the sand of the Island of Vanikoro in the Pacific. Admiral Casteaux headed an expedition in search for him, but without success. He believed that the Bonsole was lost among the Santa Cruz group of Islands, to which Vanikoro belongs.

LONDON, Sept. 25.

All strikes in Britain were settled today when the Manchester Ship Canal directors agreed to consider the claims of their dock laborers for better wages, and when the coal miners at South Wales returned to the work which they left on Sept. 17th, owing to the employment of non-unionists. The only trouble in the labor world in the Kingdom is now the Transport workers' strike in Dublin. This is believed to be in a fair way towards settlement, as Sir George Askwith, the official strike-breaker, is endeavoring to bring about a compromise.

A Child's Laxative Is "Syrup Of Figs"

They love to take it and it doesn't harm the tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

If your little one's tongue is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a very happy child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California-Figs Syrup Company." Don't be fooled!

Varicose Veins and Itching Piles

Usually Arise From Same Cause—Relief and Cure Effected by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Nearly everybody knows of Dr. Chase's Ointment as the most effective treatment for piles or hemorrhoids that medical science has been able to compound. So much suffering and misery arises from this ailment that one is not long in telling his friends when he has found an actual cure. This accounts for the enormous sales of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

This letter tells of relief from the suffering of varicose veins by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Many suffer from this trouble not knowing the comfort to be obtained by the use of this great soothing ointment.

Mr. R. J. Evans, 183 Munro street, Toronto, writes: "We have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for years. I have been troubled with varicose veins and itching piles, so much so that I was unable to do my work. For every purpose when a soothing, healing ointment is needed there is nothing so good as Dr. Chase's Ointment. 60 cents a box all dealers." R. J. Evans, 183 Munro street, Toronto.

Ragtime.

Ragtime is a form of peg-legged music which has seized the American people by the feet and caused the music critics to throw off bright brimstone sparks. It is a cross between ball on a tin roof and a buck and wing artist with the St. Vitus dance.

Ragtime is a series of musical characters, no two of which hit the ground at the same time. It is played with a hop, skip and a jump, averaging about twelve hops to the measure, and is about as easy to dance to as a kettle drum solo.

Ragtime was invented about ten years ago by somebody who discovered that by taking an old Italian aria and running it through a feed chopper a very weird effect could be produced. Some of these effects are so weird that people who are fond of classical music would just as soon listen to a duet between an accordion and a bagpipe.

Probably nobody has made more money out of ragtime than a French acrobat named Debussy, who gathered most of his material by attending negro cakewalks. Nobody pretends to understand what Debussy is trying to say, as he writes mostly for the black keys and breaks out in a new kind of tempo every few minutes. No one but the critics for the New York, Boston and Chicago papers can listen to a program of Debussy music without winking up in a padded cell or calling feebly for ice water.

Ragtime music is made in several different styles of body, on one chassis, and is sold in carload lots to dealers per copy to throbbing customers who are passionately fond of music. No one who has ever heard the stately stappings of a ragtime march, torn from the paraded throat of a discouraged phonograph, will confuse it with the knee action of the Kneisel Quartet.

People stick up their noses at ragtime in public, but have to give up when it attacks them in the soles of their feet, where musical faculty is located in most of us.

Confesses to Murder of Young Girl

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—The identity of the perpetrator of the brutal murder of Anna Catherine Schumacher in Holy Spirit cemetery in Rochester, N. Y., on Aug. 7, 1909, was established here early today, it is believed, when Jacob Wolfsohn, arrested for larceny, confessed to having committed the deed.

After his arrest here on the charge of larceny and forcible entry guards noticed that he seemed to have something on his mind, but refused to talk. Finally the prisoner asked for pencil and paper and wrote a note addressed to the District Attorney containing the simple statement that he had killed a girl in a cemetery at Rochester and that her name was Schumacher. His alleged confession, as repeated by detectives, was substantially as follows:—

"Wolfsohn worked in a suburb of Rochester and had to pass the cemetery on his way home each day. Several times he saw the girl at a grave laying flowers upon it.

"I flirted with her and she smiled back at me." Wolfsohn confessed, "then next day I saw her bending over her father's grave and went up and spoke to her. I walked up to her and held her hand. I tried to kiss her, but she resisted this and tried to run away. I grabbed her by the arm and began choking her." She screamed but no one heard her, and then I grabbed her around the throat and strangled her. She then died."

Continuing his story Wolfsohn said: "I then attacked her and after that dragged the body to the woods of the cemetery. I dug a hole large enough to place the body in it, and covered it with dirt and leaves. No one knows how I suffered for doing this. I could keep it secret no longer."

The Public and the Police.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Sir,—At the foot of Theatre Hill last evening a most disgusting scene occurred—a drunken brawl well aided by the most vile and filthy language ever listened to; this keeping up for one solid hour, much to the joy of the inquisitive crowd and very much to the disgust of respectable people and residents of the place.

During this most disgraceful scene absolutely no police of any kind appeared—it being up to the residents on all such occasions to find the policeman—which I have very seldom seen even passing my door.

New Mr. Sullivan and the public who have to witness these most lowering and objectionable exhibitions, do we pay for police protection? If we do—well, let us have it, and let us have it without further delay.

The whole community along this section of the town—weekly, and very often daily—are compelled to witness such absolutely vile and objectionable scenes, which most assuredly are aggravated by the fact that there is no fear of interference from His Majesty's police, and they may hang away at one another and let their filthy tongues work as will.

Now why should this continue? Give us a smart capable man to patrol this thoroughfare, which is very badly in need of the strictest attention, particularly after 6 o'clock. Only those living here know what it is and what goes on continually. And when a young lad appeared last evening and attempted to arrest this man, which was evidently impossible, why then he with a smiling face handed him over to his friends to take him home. But anyhow this is one of the performances we are always witnessing, and I am about sick of them, having on these occasions to procure the policeman more than once.

Thanking you very much for space, which I trust may be turned into good account, believe me,

Yours, etc.,

A DISGUSTED WOMAN.
