

Hr. Grace Notes.

The work on the Handley-Page machine is being rushed to completion, and great interest is being taken in the work by our people who delight to visit the place each evening and note the progress made. We are looking forward to the success of this our airship.

Mrs. Beveridge, nee Nurse Francis Cron, is in town on a visit to the delight of all our citizens, who are her friends every one. No need to wish her a pleasant holiday, her genial disposition, both past and present is a guarantee of this.

Miss McKay, of McKay's Grocery, who had been at St. John's for a few days purchasing goods, returned by last night's train.

It is said that work will shortly commence on another aviation site near the old race course here. Lots of room, and there are still other excellent sites here should any be needed.

Codfish, salmon, and herring are now on sale each morning. We have not heard if any lobsters being taken in this neighborhood yet, but the price being so good is certainly a temptation to try the venture.

The Returned Soldiers Association are anxious to do something for one of their number who owing to his serious wounds in action is unfit for manual labor—Pte. Wm. Hunt. Pte. Hunt has purchased a horse and carriage and will take up driving. The soldiers ask the public to contribute a little to the fund to help pay for the above. The manager of the Bank here, Mr. Dixon, has kindly consented to receive and acknowledge any amounts.

A large number of the male portion of our citizens attended at the court this morning to hear the result of a case against a resident of Riverhead who was charged with disorderly conduct on the street. The young man when arrested was hit in the temple by the chief of police here with a stick, and an ugly cut was inflicted. The humane portion of our community are of opinion that other means should be used to arrest a man than resorting to such brute force, and we are of the same opinion. Let us not see any more of this inhumane work.

Hr. Grace, May 25, 1919.

Mounted Police on Streets.

Many people were agreeably surprised this morning to see two of the Police force mounted on splendid black horses, going up Water Street. They were Head Constable Noseworthy and Sergeant Savage, both members of the old mounted Police force. They rode the horses like veterans, and as they passed up Water Street were the cynosure of all eyes. Many memories of the oldtime mounted Police were revived, and on all sides was expressed the hopes that this was a sign that presaged the re-establishment of the Cavalry force upon enquiry at Headquarters, however we were informed that they were mounted merely for temporary purposes, and to be used in case of emergency, in breaking any crowds that may congregate upon the landing of the soldiers coming by the Corsican.

State Ownership.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—The Newfoundland Industrial Workers' Association, since its advent amongst us, has been an advocate of public ownership of public utilities.
To the unthinking the idea may appear altogether too utopian for serious consideration, but to the earnest, thoughtful man who peers a little into the future by the light of current events, public ownership appears to be an assured fact before many years shall have elapsed. The few seeds of public education along these lines sown by the N.I.W.A. are already bearing fruit, is evidenced by the remarks of some of our legislators in the House of Assembly this week.
Mr. Geo. Grimes, in speaking of the Nfld. Railway, advocated Government ownership of the line, the business matters connected therewith to be administered by a non-political commission nominated by the Board of Trade and the railroad employees.
Mr. Downey, in speaking of the coastal service, advocated Government ownership of the northern and western boats.
It is to be hoped that some others of our law-makers will also begin thinking along the same lines. State ownership of public utilities need not necessarily be accompanied with the abuses which many people fear would creep in were such a policy to be adopted. Already we have Government ownership of a telegraph service and the system works well, then why not also state ownership of all our internal and coastwise public carrying facilities.
Hoping, Mr. Editor, that these few words will set some abler pens than mine busy on this subject, and thanking you for space.
Yours very truly,
N. I. W. A. MEMBER.

"AD." WAS MISLEADING.
An advertisement published in a Manchester, England, paper aroused much indignation, it is said, among its readers. It was as follows: "A German wanted; experienced. Apply—"
The manager of the firm concerned, which operates a bleaching and dyeing plant, explained that the advertisement should have read: "Agerman wanted," etc. "We certainly don't want a German," he said.
THE WARNING.
"They will cheat you yet, those Junkers! Having won half the world by bloody murder, they are going to win the other half with tears in their eyes, crying for mercy."—Carl Rommeier, a German in Switzerland, to the Allies.

WAS SHE TOO SCRUP
Here is an interesting little tale I heard about one of the many parades that have been inspiring the country in these times that thrill men's souls. A week or two before the parade a friend of mine accepted an invitation from some friends to go to town with them in their car on parade day. They did not have any seats but hoped by going early to establish themselves in some good place.
She Refused Four Tempting Invitations.
A day or two afterwards she had an invitation from another friend who had the good fortune to have an extra seat on a grand stand. Of course, that was a great temptation, but, having accepted the other, she refused. And between that time and the time of the parade she had four such invitations and refused them all because she would not go back on her first friends.
As it turned out they managed to establish themselves at one of the most interesting points on the steps of a Church where they not only had an excellent view but were sheltered from the wind that made many of the inhabitants of the grandstand miserable. From her description she seems to have enjoyed the parade rather more than most of the people who had reserved seats. Perhaps that was partly because she had the happy sense of having done the square thing instead of going back on her friends.
Just Hearing About It Refreshed Me.
Anyhow, just hearing about it refreshed me. Perhaps it meant more to me than it otherwise would because, as the chairman of a social committee, I've had rather a depressing experience lately with the sort of person who regards the fact that a promise inconveniences him or that he has found some more interesting way to use his time as an automatic excuse from that promise.
