The panic was credited to the approaching change in Government and a growing belief that no Minister would be able to curb prevailing trying to secure a foreign loan.

ENTOMBED WITH SOLEMN CEREMONY

BURIAL TOOK PLACE AT 3 O'CLOCK

ROME, Jan. 26. Beneath the flagstones of St. Peter's lie the mortal remains of Pope Benedict, whose benignant ef-foris through war years was directed towards peace and after war to the pacification of Europe and the world. The burial ceremony took place at three o'clock this afternoon, and in the light of perpetually burning tapers the body was lowered into the tomb. Those Cardinals who have gathered in Rome for the conclave which is to elect the new Pope assembled in the Basilica together with the diplomatic representatives of nations accredited to the Holy See. Outside great crowds knelt in prayer. The strain of the Miserere swelling through the vast Basilica, the martial step and clank of swords of the Pontifical armed forces, the flowing robes of Prelates, their rich violet blending with the striking costumes of the Swiss Guards, Gendarmes and Noble Guards and contrasting with the simple black of the diplomatic corps, combined to give a picturesque impression to the high pontifical rite of burial.

THE IRISH CONFERENCE

PARIS, Jan. 26. The nationalization of Irish railways and banks were among the measures recommended to the Irish Government in to-day's debate in the World Congress of the Irish race. The necessity of transforming English-owned industries in Ireland into distinctly Irish enterprises was insisted by some of the speakers. Miss Mary McSweeney, Cork, declared that the common citizenship of the Irish with the British provided in the Anglo-Irish Treaty would have to be done away with before Ireland could do anything towards keeping British capital out of Ireland. Thomas Hughes Kelly, New York, declared all the economic machinery of Irish life was in the hands of interests antagonistic to Ireland.

My back hurt me so I could hardly get around and I lost my energy until finally I got to the place where I was all in. Tanlac has benefited me in every way. In fact, I'm feeling like a new man. I eat three big meals a day, my stomach is in perfect condition and I sleep all night long without a break. All that miserable feeling has gone out of my back and I feel good to my fingertips. Tanlac was certainly what I needed. Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

railroads, ports, and all means of transportation, and that national trade would be strangled until this machinery was gotten out of foreign hands. The eventual return of Irish emigrants to their native homes to help in building the country was discussed. The speakers agreed that Ireland could use a great many Irishmen who have learned technical trades abroad and that she would ultimately be able to utilize much additional farm labor, bringing her agricultural production up to the maximum which the speakers estimated would be three times her own needs in food.

Herring Fishery Should be Developed.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir,—Lord Morris is credited with saying that our Herring Fishery should equal our Codfishery in value. When he made that pronouncement he wasn't a Lord, but he was just as good a man and that is saying a mouthful. Now, Sir, although we may not hope to get within measurable distance of that in the near future, I am sure that we could at least export every year one hundred thousand barrels at present value of say sixteen dollars per barrel would mean over one million and a half of good American gold dollars coming into this country. What an impetus to trade in general and also to the general revenue. What a boon to the mill-men and hoop-makers, freighters, truckmen and saccs and every person in the Colony would benefit, either directly or indirectly. Now then why has this great fishery lapsed to the insignificant proportions of the present year's output? Mr. Editor, just take a glance at the mess we are in now, because last year we were depending almost solely on the codfishery as the most of our industries were either closed or partially so, a lamentable fact which shows conclusively that other industries besides codfishing must be developed to their fullest extent if we want to retain the present growing generation at home, if not there is no alternative but wholesale emigration or starvation in this Island home of ours. With few exceptions all those engaged closely in handling codfish are living in a state of semi-starvation. The fisherman, the laborer, the cooper, the sailor who risks his life to convey it to market are all in the one box; even the merchant hasn't got pie all the time, but he is constructed differently from us, he never complains of his losses or boasts of his profits. Although codfish must be for some time to come the mainstay of the country the quantity of fish dried and made each season will be a negligible quantity. The people who performed this arduous and badly paid labor are doing it no longer, the daughters of the women who did this work are not going to drudge at fish nowadays, the days of the quilted peacock and paisley shawl are gone, the doings and days the memories of which Mr. Sheehan and the Canon Lockyer delight to revel in are gone, never to return, and I fervently hope they won't. The present generation have got in touch with the schoolmaster, and are imbued with new ideas. The outport girls are here in this and other cities, holding positions as nurses, shop assistants, stenographers, secretaries and domestics, and each and everyone of them keeps the end of their plank with the city born and bred. Oh, yes, the codfishery is not of the same importance to this country as it has been, the full value of the fishery this year doesn't equal the revenue required to carry on the Government services. Now, Sir, I contend that it's the Government's bounden duty to see that our resources are fostered, protected and safeguarded, especially in those times of stress which we are certainly facing. This Humber project holds out alluring prospects and we all sincerely hope that matters will be smoothed out so as the necessary labor may be gone on with as soon as possible. Mr. Editor, we have an industry here that requires no guarantee, it is not even problematical. The finest herring in the world are swarming in myriads around our shores, the teeming millions of Europeans in the United States are hungering for them and ready to pay up for the proper kind of goods they want. Why don't we cater to them, they can take care of all the fish we can put up and a few

"Those Who Dance Must Pay The Fiddler"

There's a settlement in profit or loss, for nearly every indulgence.

Sometimes the pay-day is long deferred, and in that case the settlement may bear compound interest.

Often a payment in ill health is required for the dance had with tea or coffee during earlier years. Sometimes the collection comes in sleeplessness, sometimes in headaches, sometimes in high blood pressure, or in nervous indigestion—sometimes in all these penalties.

Nerves won't always stand the whipping of tea and coffee's drug, caffeine.

If you've been dancing to tea or coffee's fiddling, why keep on till payment time comes? If you're beginning to pay, now, why not cancel the contract?

There's an easy and pleasant way to avoid tea and coffee's penalties, as thousands have found who have changed to Postum. It is a delight with any meal—rich, comforting and satisfying—and it never harms. Even the little children can have a breakfast cup of Postum, with no fear for what may happen to sensitive nerves.

Instead of paying penalties for your meal-time drink, let it pay benefits to you, by giving natural health a full chance—and begin the new arrangement today. Any grocer will sell you, or any good restaurant will serve you Postum.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in the tin) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.
