Fargo Burned—Other Fire.FARGO, May 3.—The Erie and Huron

WOE FOR WEALERS.

Disease Threatens to Attack the Coxey to Camp.WASHINGTON, May 3.—The 400 commonwealers passed the night in the straw under the canvas awning and under the large tent in their pestilential camping ground, and breakfasted this morning on bread and fried fish, with coffee. After breakfast some charitable person distributed cigars among them.Quite a number of people this morning paid the admission of a quarter, despite the intense heat and the inaccessibility of the camp.Four more of the commonwealers have been sent to the hospital. Two who refused to be removed are suffering from malaria.There are no sanitary arrangements whatever. The health officers of the district insist that a healthier camping grounds shall be selected, and Coxey is reluctantly making some efforts in this direction. If the change is much longer delayed fever will certainly break out among the men. They pass their time reading (such of them as are able to read) and listening to their discordant band, andwaiting lazily and listlessly for their meager rations to be served out. Scarcely a man among them seems to have any ambition or hope or purpose in view except to get fed without the disagreeable necessity of working.Coxey again paid $5 for a license to charge admission to his camp. The commissioners ordered the health officer to make an immediate inspection of the camp. The commissioners told Coxey he would be held responsible for any violations of health regulations, and be subjected to arrest for maintaining a nuisance.HAMMOND, Ind., May 3.—Gen. Randall's street, was found by a policeman at the corner of Mount Elliot and Gratiot avenues yesterday afternoon drunk.He was taken to the central station and placed in a cell. Toward evening his condition became such that he yelled and shuddered in a way that made the officers suffering from delirium tremens.He was taken before Justice Whelan this morning, and to him said a boy he had met out on Gratiot avenue yesterday had a bottle of whisky, and gave him some to drink, which went to his head.An elder brother of the boy was in court, the future the justice suspended sentence.

wich, were driving into Walkerville over the railway bridge their horse became frightened and ran down the hill, upsetting them and throwing them out in a heap.Mrs. Spier had her arm broken and the

The Strike Situation.

Indications of an Important Change.President McBride of the Miners' Organization and the Big Operators in Conference—Early Settlement of the Trouble Looked For.PITTSBURG, Pa., May 3.—There are indications of a change in the miners' strike situation. President John McBride, of the Miners' National Organization, arrived in Pittsburg to-day. On the same train with him were J. C. Morton and Mr. Chapman, two of the largest coal operators in Ohio.President McBride went directly to the Home Hotel, where he met Secretary J. Nugent, Organizer Meir and District Secretary Warren. Messrs. Norton and Chapman went to the office of Francis Robbins, where they met several other extensive coal operators, and they went into a conference lasting three hours.President McBride said he did not know whether a conference with the operators would succeed or not. The Ohio operators came to Pittsburg for the purpose of con-fering with the operators here, and if possible bring about a meeting with the miners and the officials.The coal miners now believe the strike will be settled in a very short time.CARPET-WEAVERS WANT BETTER TERMS.
LOWELL, Mass., May 3.—All the ingrain workers of the Lowell Carpet Company went out to-day because the company would not grant their request to run the mill more than 30 hours per week, nor advance wages 10 per cent. The advance asked is 7 per cent less than the recent cut down. Some 500 hands are involved.CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 3.—The city hall looked more like a barracks this morning than a municipal building. There were soldiers in blue everywhere. Few believed there would be further trouble, but thought best to be prepared for it.While on his way to the Standard foundry this morning Supt. Allen and one of his employees, Fred Engel, were surrounded by an angry crowd of idlers. The mob surrounded Allen's carriage and hurled stones. Allen warned them to desist or he would shoot. They continued to hurl stones and Engel fired upon the mob, the members of which fled.MOBS ON THE MARCH.

MONTREAL, May 3.—The local car-

Many of the bosses have accepted the demands of the men for a 20 cent an hour rate and nine hours a day, and a large number of them have commenced work.MORE C. P. R. MEN LAID OFF.
MONTREAL, May 3.—Another batch of Canadian Pacific Railway employees, numbering 50, were discharged to-day, and more dismissals are expected to follow.BROOKING MINERS.
DULUTH, Minn., May 3.—The Third Regiment of the National Guard arrived at Virginia to-night. Two more of the Duluth companies are under arms, and will go forward in the morning. Gen. Rend, in command of the Minnesota militia, has been notified by the Governor of the situation. A thousand rounds of ammunition were sent from St. Paul to-night to the range country.Franklin, Oliver, Norman, Iron King and Mountain iron mines are out on strike, parading in large bodies and threatening destruction of life and property. The troops have been ordered not to fire on the mobs unless it becomes absolutely necessary. The situation at Virginia is the most serious. The Finns there are drinking alcohol and making threats that they will loot stores for provisions.SPREADING.
ALBANY, Ia., May 3.—The miners' strike ordered by the Columbus convention has spread to Iowa, and 6,000 men will go out as the result of to-day's convention of Iowa miners.STRIKE NOTES.

as a result of the strike.MISERS' WEALTH SCATTERED.
Ten Persons Get Windfalls Ranging from $10,000 to $2,000.HOLLY, Mich., May 2.—A little over a year ago two of the queerest misers that ever lived in Michigan or anywhere else died near Holly. John and Thomas Fagan had been disappointed in love, or something, when they were very young. Life no longer seemed a blessing, and for a time they tried to make themselves less miserable by sailing on the salty seas. After a time they returned to Michigan, settling on a farm, where for years they lived in filth and apparent poverty, saving their cents, and in due time accumulating dollars.They died very suddenly. In due time something like $33,000 in money was found stowed away in nooks and crannies of their house and barn.This money has just been divided among the heirs by the probate court. Mrs. Peter Fagan, widow of the only brother, who had succeeded in getting married and rear a family of creditable children, gets $10,000 of the money. The remainder is divided equally among Peter's nine children and one grandchild, whose mother died several years ago.Twenty-five persons filed claims at the time the money was found, asserting that they were relatives, but their claims did not pan out. The ten beneficiaries are Thomas H., Edwin, John, William, Imogene Fagan, of Holly, Mary Foreyth, Dean, of Fawcett, and Wortman and Peter Spaulding, of Holly.The proceeds from the sale of the farm, which sold for $4,500, and the timber thereon, which sold for $3,000, have not yet been divided.Besides the money the Fagan misers left a valuable collection of books.Try Derby Plug Smoking
