Universally Acknowledged

to be superior to the finest Japan grown.

Get a Trial Packet Today.

LEAD PACKETS ONLY. 25c, 30c, 40c, 50c and 60c per lb. AT ALL GROCERS but my duty is imperative."

"It concerned ourselves alone."

slipped her hand into his.

first time into her eyes.

"It is quite true."

him alone. Is that true?"

him alone.'

"He spoke to me on an entirely pri-her eyes frankly to Mr. Derrington's.

"Yourselves alone?" questioned

by some of the members of the house-

"That on another you drove out with slowly creeping over her increasing.

her emotion only by a strong effort of self-control, "we were not on intimate threatened me with its exposure."

"Yes," Barbara answered calmly.

to be known?" said Mr. Derrington.

"Which would have harmed you with another faint smile.

t had been made public?"

rallied and sat erect again.

the truth of my assertion.'

was about to put to her.

second's hesitation.

changed his clothes?"

"It was a secret," the girl replied,

"Yes," Barbara answered; then sudchair, staring helplessly at the coroner's grave disturbed face, and her

In intense alarm Lord Elsdale bent near, but almost immediately the girl

"Thank you," those near her heard her say in faint but steady tones, "I suddenly, addressing the coroner with his usual urbane courtesy. "The secret

o which my adopted daughter alludes quite a family matter, of no interest to anyone but ourselves. My daughter feared that, if it were made public, it would cause me much annovance, therefore she tried to induce Mr.

questions I must trouble her with."

"It was," she answered, without

"You saw him again, of course?"

"Did you leave the ballroom?"

Keith, and then left the ballroom?"

her lips quivered over that "we"-

"Lord Keith left you there?"

had touched her to the quick.

"You did not remain there?"

and came down again."

"went into the oak hall for fresher

"Yes," she said with quivering lips-

the mention of Everard Keith's name

"No; I went up to my rooms, and

"What made you change your dress?"

"The gown I w s wearing was not a ball dress, and I thought I should pre-changed the dress I had been wearing,

am not faint-I need nothing."

ward into his.

unmanliness.

gasps.

steadily:

Bryant?

and after it."

were on rather intimate terms?"

Hidden Destiny

CHAPTER XXXI.

Mr. Derrington bent over his notes with some embarrassment. Whatever his opinion was, it was evident that he would have had some difficulty in ex- moved forward hurriedly to Barbara's amining Barbara, who sat quietly side; but she turned to him at once, waiting. If he could have guessed what anguish, what an agony of fear and little gesture entreating silence, and anxiety throbbed in the girl's heart, perhaps his hesitation would have been lessened; but naught of her misery was visible in the lovely marblelike face, and the coroner, who had one danced with Lord Elsdale's niece at a public ball at Stourton, felt very nervous, and embarrassed as he raised his eyes from his notes and looked eeross at her.

"You were acquainted with the deceased gentleman, Miss Hatton?" he began; while Mr. Bryant, seated near the corner, wondered if there had been anything but the merest acquaintance between this beautiful girl and his dead brother.

Barbara inclined her head in the af-Armative.

"You met him?" said Mr. Derrington a tone of interrogation. 'I met him here," Barbara answered firmly and quietly.

"You did not know him before meeting him at Darley Hall?" "I did not."

"Had you ever seen him previous to that time?"

"Yes, I had seen him." "May I ask where?"

"At Stourton. He was acting there." "But you had not spoken to him at that time?"

There was a scarcely perceptible hesitation before she answered. "I had spoken to him," she replied was leaving a house as he entered and he offered to call my carriage me. I declined. "Oh, then, all that passed was the ordinary courtesy of a gentleman to a lady.

"That was all." "Did you recognize him when you came to Darley or did he recall the circumstance to you?" "I recognized him. I him on the stage." "Did you see much of him he time he was here, just before his

Barbara's face quivered faintly. "A good deal," she answered with

"How was that?"

"I had rather a prominent part in the play we were going to act, and he was the stage manager.'

"Yes, of course; there were hearsals and so on; but you would not be alone with him on such occasions. Lid you ever have any private conversations with him?"

"Yes," answered Barbara steadily, Although her lips were parched and her heart was throbbing to suffocation. "On more than one occasion?"

"On more than one occasion." "Did the conversation relate to the

A WOMAN'S ORDEAL DREADS DOCTOR'S QUESTIONS

Thousands Write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., and Receive Valuable Advice Absolu-tely Confidential and Free.

There can be no more terrible ordeal a delicate, sensitive, refined woman than to be obliged to answer certain questions in regard to her private ills, even when those questions are asked by her family physician, and many continue to suffer rather than to submit o examinations which so many physicians propose in order to intelligently reat the disease; and this is the reason why so many physicians fail to cure ale disease

This is also the reason why thousands apon thousands of women are correonding with Mrs. Pinkham, daughterin-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, at Lynn, lass. To her they can confide every detail of their illness, and from her great knowledge, obtained from years of experience in treating female ills. Mrs Pinkham can advise sick women more wisely than the local physician. Read how Mrs. Pinkham helped Delle. Emerentienne Montreuil, of 114 atourelle St., Quebec, Que.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham :-"I suffered for eight months with what the soctors called prolapsus, which caused great weakness all over my system, with faint lissy spells. I kept growing weaker and weaker. I tried several medicines which they claimed would cure my trouble, but nothing was of the least benefit until I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Conipound, and this helped me so rapidly that I could hardly believe my good fortune. I would risdly have paid $25,00 for that first bottle, by it started me on the road to health, and the bottles cured me. I am hote grateful ar my splendid, robust health, and shall trainly recommend the Vegetable Compand in glowing terms to all my friends and acquaintances, for it is deserving of all the praise I can give it." "I suffered for eight months with what the medicine in the world equals. Pinkham's Vegetable Comfer to to wear one." "How long altogether were you absent from the ball-room?" "Lord Keith is hot present, I be- sonment in Liverpool, position here. He says half an hour. Was it longer?" "I do not know." "You changed your dress without as-lieve?" the coroner said, glancing round the room. "But I have his de-

"Yes. My maid was not in the room and I did not wait to summon her." "Haif an hour is not a long space of Dead Man's Wife and a Hired time in which to arrange an elaborate tollet, I suppose?"

"I generally require more than double that period," said Barbara, with a little assumption of her old haughty, negligent manner, which seemed almost pitiful to James Francis, as he watched her keenly.

"Then it is almost an impossibility that you should have been in the grounds before going up to change your dress?" said the coroner, with a slight expression of relief on his face. "Can you tell me to what it related? "But, notwithstanding its absurdity, I You must pardon the apparent intrusmust put the question to you, Miss veness of the question, Miss Hatton, death?"

vate matter," the girl replied, raising She glanced over at him with a wild, hunted look in her eyes-a look which made his next words sound like an apology.

Some of those present exchanged swift, uneasy glances. Lord Elsdale own face pale as he looked at her. "Yes," she answered faintly. and with a faint sweet smile made a

Mr. Derrington broke it, he appeared death by foul play, and on Sunday it to speak with an effort. Derrington, in some embarrassment. "Did you go to meet the deceased?" "You must forgive me if I cannot be

"I did not." satisfied with that answer, Miss Hat-A sigh of relief broke from the spec-I understand, from evidence tators, an expression of surprise ap- coroner. Dr. J. M. Shaw, acting under peared on many faces. hold, that you were constantly in the society of Mr. Bryant, and that on one were in the grounds?' occasion you were in the grounds with "Nothing." "No voices, no report?" "That is so," said Barbara, a Lint gleam of apprehension stealing for the as she remembered the awful still-"You are sure?"

"I am certain." "How long were you in the grounds, "That on the very evening before his Miss Hatton?' death he was alone with you for a "A few minutes, I think." considerable time in the gallery called

"And that you were in the neighbor-'my lady's corridor.' Is that also corhood of the spot where the body was found we have most positive proof," "Quite correct," Barbara answered said one of the jurymen sternly. "Did faintly, the terror which had been you see anyone there?" The girl's dazed eyes were turned "Then are we to conclude that you upon his face for a moment, then they moved away and rested on the coroner's "No," Barbara answered, mastering anxious countenance. "Must I answer?" she asked. "If you please," he replied, a trifle terms, Mr. Derrington; but an un- huskily.

lucky chance had put Mr. Walter Bry-"I saw no one," she said, after an ant in possession of a secret of mine, almost imperceptible pause. and on more than one occasion he "No one?"

It was a strange, sudden, daring admission, and the girl's lips were colorless as she uttered the words. All eyes in the room were fixed upon her at that supreme moment, some in curiosity, some in surprise, a few in compassion; but she only saw Lord Elsdale's face bending over her as he said something in a low tone - something which caused her lips to part in a faint sorrowful smile as her eyes looked up-

Mr. Derrington; while Antony Bryant dress that you rose suddenly to his feet with an angry flush on his face, brought there by the sudden knowledge of his dead brother's with moisture, a bit of the lace trim- death. They had no children. "Then you did not wish the secret where the body was discovered; a married man of about 32 years of age. to be perfectly frank with us now, complicity. denly the significance which her hearers would give to her words seemed to whom you met in the shrubbery yon- ly. Tonight Crown Attorney Brown strike her; she began to tremble exceedingly, and she sunk back in her

WINNIPEG TO THE BAY breath coming in quick, hurried over her, while Mrs. Fairfax drew Core Talk About That Proposed New Winnipeg, May 2.—Premier Roblin and his colleagues are giving much "May I trespass upon your attention consideration to the Hudson's Bay Railway Route.

or a moment, sir?" Lord Elsdale said Railway question and a further declaration may be expected from the Government in the course of a few days. This information comes from a local house may be dissolved about Walter Bryant to keep silent. Lord Railroad as its trump card. Cheveley will, I dare say, certify to The surprise card which Mr. Roblin proposed route of the line to the bay. "There is no need, my lord," Mr.Derrington answered courteously, "I will- At present the projected route is from a point a few miles from the ingly accept your explanation; still, if Miss Hatton has sufficiently recovered westerly border of the province and to answer them, there are a few other then north.

This would not give to Manitoba There was a moment's silence, then single mile of additional railway, as Barbara said, in a low tone, but quite the Dauphin road would serve as a sort of trunk line. The politicians fig-"I am at your service, Mr. Derring- ure out that it would be a much stronger card to have the line run-He looked across at her with quick ning to the bay almost due north from keen eyes; some subtle change had Winnipeg.

come over her face, which, slight as it In line with this view the Governwas, struck him; she was afraid, he ment is considering the advisability thought suddenly, of the questions he of adopting a route between Lake "Was the interview in 'my lady's route would probably lie east of Lake corridor,' the last you had with Mr. St. Martin, crossing the Dauphin River, which empties into Lake Winnipeg, at Sturgeon Bay, and, continuing north, cross the Saskatchewan at Grand Rapids. "Oh, yes, I saw him during the play By the adoption of this route there would be a considerable saving in dis-"Did you see him after he had tance and the Hudson's Bay line proper would run almost directly north and south across the entire province. excepting 60 miles between Winnipeg and the boundary. It would also "You danced, I believe, with Lord be a direct outlet for products from the American side and, the report "Yes, I felt faint, and we"-ah, how adds, might be joined to the J. J. Hill system. It is not yet settled whether the Government will back Mackenzie & Mann, as has been the past policy, or adopt government ownership and operation in its true sense. Private promoters are said to using every influence to induce the Government to pledge its credit under the guise of public ownership, but several of their following in the House have told the Government that $20,-000,000 is about enough backing for Mackenzie & Mann.

-For swinging a monkey round his head by its tall George Brown, a showman, was sentenced to 28 days' impri

FARMER CHARGED

Man Under Arrest.

Vicera of Henry Allen of Lang

downe Forwarded to Toronto

EXHUMED BY POLICE

for Analysis. Brockville, May 3.-The litle village Hatton. Were you in the grounds on of Lansdowne, a few stations west of the night of the-of Mr. Bryant's Brockville, on the Grand Trunk Rail-"I must ask you," he said gently, his late Henry Allen, a comparatively young farmer, residing about a quarter There was a sudden stillness in the of a mile from Lansdowne, who died room, a stillness as of death. When about five months ago, came to his reached a climax, when an information was lodged before H. C. Mulvaugh. J.P., to that effect. The county crown attorney was at once notified, and the "Did you hear anything while you yesterday, and the viscera removed instructions, had the body exhumed for an analytical examination. The information sworn to against Mrs. Allen. "Nothing," she replied, shuddering, complainant had just cause and reason to suspect that within the period of five months Allen came to his death by poison unlawfully administered by his wife. Information was also sworp to against one Wm. O'Connor, implicating him in a similar manner. Constable Plunkett, of Rockport, arrested O'Connor, and brought him to Lansdowne. Later on Mrs. Allen was taken into custody, and there being no lockup in the village, both prisoners were kept at the Stewart House under the eye of the constables. Coroner Shaw then took the preliminary steps in the matter of holding an inquest, empaneling a jury, which was informed of the action of the crown in having the body exhumed. They instructed Dr. Shaw to proceed to Toronto with the viscera to have an analysis of its contents made by the provincial authorities, and an adjournment was made to Her voice was growing weaker; her await the result, no evidence being strength so sorely tried, was failing taken. In the event of any suspicion her; she was beginning to find it dif- of poisoning the prisoners will be ficult to keep her attention fixed on brought before the coroner's inquest the examination; her power of thought and the investigation proceeded with. was deserting her; only one thing Ailen was a hard-working farmer, who seemed to be clear to her-she must came to Leeds County from the old not say who it was she had gone to country about 15 years ago. He was meet on that terrible night. The cor- employed on the farm of David Copeoner looked at her with deep compas- land, and there met his wife, Mar- gone. garet Blanche, an orphan girl from "He threatened you?" questioned wisest to conceal nothing from us. The the Copeland family. After their marwore that evening has riage, some eight years since, the betrayed that you were in the grounds couple rented the Copeland farm and -the edges of the skirts are stained worked it up to the time of Allen's ming was found on a branch in the O'Connor, who is the son of an immediate neighborhood of the spot Escott Township farmer, is an unshawl which you had worn also bears For two years previous and up to the against the damp ground. The pre- on the farm, and his alleged relations May I beg of you, for your own sake, to account for his arrest charged with and to tell us who the person was Both prisoners take their arrest cool-had heard nothing further in the case. The deceased suffered from a lingering illness for a year or more prior to death, and his case was said to be an ailment of the stomach.

BURGLAR OUITS JOB

Discovers Victim Was a Mason and Refuses Cash.

Mason? This query, uttered with all the glad surprise of a child who has found a made a wonderful change of front lost treasure, rang out in the bedroom friend of the administration. The of an imposing three-story brown- tions and replies were properly made, stone house at No. 137 Bainbridge the time of the announcement, the street, Brooklyn, occupied by George Government playing the Hudson's Bay E. Gale, his wife and two children.

The hour was 5 a.m. A few moments before, the questionhas up his sleeve is said to be the er, a handsome, well-knit burglar of Will Sock to Learn Whether Graham an improved Raffles type, had entered the house at the rear and rather unpleasantly had attracted the attention of Mr. and Mrs. Gale toward himself

-a dark lantern and a revolver. An interesting conversation between Mr. Gale, his wife, and the gentlemancertain properties belonging to the Gales, had preceded the thrilling moment at which this narrative opens. Mr. Gale had just begged to be allowed to keep a ring he was wearing, because t bore a Masonic design and had greater sentimental than intrinsic

"Let me keep it, won't you?" urged. "It is a Masonic ring. It can do you no good.'

A DIMPLE MAKER.

Find a child with dimples and chubby arms and legs and you find a healthy child. Find one with drawn face see one that needs Scott's no doubt tell you the child is fat-starved—its food is not or a promontory. nourishing it.)

Nothing helps these thin, pale children like Scott's It supplies them with a pernourishment. Scott's Emulsion brings dimples and rounded limbs.

SCOTT & BOWNE, Torente, Oat.

HIGH-PRICED

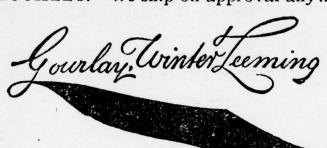

Gourlay Pianos High-Priced, Worth the Price

But do not misunderstand us. The price is neither prohibitive nor extravagant; it is as low as the high standard of our pianos will allow.

Remember, it is possible to be foolishly economical in buying a piano. It is easy to save fifty or more dollars, only to find in a short time that the purchase is dear at any price.

A GOURLAY Piano is worth all it costs. Indeed, it does not cost all it is WRITE FOR BOOKLET. We ship on approval anywhere in Canada.

HEAD OFFICE: 80 YONGE STREET TORONTO, ONT. LONDON REPRESENTATIVE: C. W. Treadgold, 195 Dundas Street

It was then that the man behind the gun and the lantern asked: "Are you a Mason?"

"I am," replied Mr. Gale, blinking in the dazzling light, adding with as much dignity as his recumbent position in bed would permit: "Are you a Mason?"

"I am," replied the burglar. "What!" exclaimed Mrs. Gale, her astonishment overcoming her terror.

"You a Mason and a burglar?" The unconscious brutality of Mrs. Gale's direct question discomfitted the intruder. Every action betrayed him as a beaten man. The superb confidence in his own powers exhibited when he first entered the room was

He hung his head. His lips trem-"Miss Hatton," he said, "it will be Scotland, who had been adopted into bled. His words, when they came, were broken and uttered hesitatingly.

"Come! My money is in my coat pocket there. Take it and get out," interrupted Mr. Gale.

"No," replied the stranger, shaking his head, "You may keep the ring and the money, too. I want nothing from a stain as if it had been pressed time of Allen's death he was employed a brother Mason. But will you give me your word as a Master Mason that sumption is that you knelt upon it. with the female prisoner are thought neither you nor your wife will get up until I have been gone from the house five minutes?"

> quiet, "I beg your pardon for all the trouble I have caused you," the unbidden guest was gone. In telling the story yesterday, Mrs.

The pledge was made, and with Gale insisted her burglar was a "perfect, gentleman." The "gentleman" evidently thought.

twice over his good resolution. On his way out he took silver and ivories to the value of $150, and exchanged hat and coat with Mr. Gale. "The man came in during the thunder storm," said Mr. Gale, "and was a most determined sort of a burglar until I told him I was a Mason. I am.

however, loathe to believe he is a member of my lodge. He certainly when he saw the ring and his quesaccording to lodge rules."

ANTARCTIC EXPEDITION Land Is Only an Island.

New York, May 3. - Three, if no with the conventional tools of his trade four, expeditions are expected to be in the Antarctic area again within the next eighteen months. The six expeditions, from Capt. Gerlache, of Belly intruder, conducted in well-modulat- gium, to Dr. Charcot, of France, that ed tones, relative to the transfer of spent the past few years in the far south discovered new lands and penetrated far inside of one long stretch of coast, but failed to ascertain whether these lands are all bound together, forming a continent.

Capt. Scott made his way up the gentle ice slope for 300 miles into the interior of Victoria Land, but was not able after all to show whether he had marched into a continental mass of only a large island. Every expedition that is going to this field hopes to shed light on the question of the southern continent. The problem is to be attacked or the American side of the Antarctic by Lieut. Michael Barne, of the Discovery, who is preparing to go to Graham Land, about 600 miles south of South America. Explorers have been up and and poor, thin body and you down the east and west shores of Graham Land, and what they have found of it is about 450 miles long and from Emulsion. Your doctor will | 50 to 100 miles wide, but it widens rapidly toward the south; they do not know yet whether it is a large island

If, as some of the students of the Antarctic problem conjecture, the extent of land in the south polar regions is about 3,500,000 square miles, these Emulsion. It contains the states, including Alaska. Human curlands are about as large as the United fect and quickly digested now that for the next twenty years this can he get paid for those trees. field will be the scene of the largest exploratory activity.

With a Bison Hot Water Furnace in the basement, there is little need for brush or scraper.

No place in it for soot or dirt to lodge, and its flues are practically self-cleaning. In most furnaces the water jackets are constantly covered with soot and ashes, requiring constant cleaning to enable the fire to heat the water -a dirty job. The Bison has more good heating points than all other heaters combined. THE H. R. IVES CO., LIMITED, MONTREAL.

Corsets that hold their shape and give ease with style Pay what you dare pay for even a custommade corset, and your money buys no more than if a fraction of it bought a D & A corset. Be your corset demands never so fastidious, never so hard to meet fully-the D & A corset will surely content your body and your purse,-why? you cannot know till you look at the corset itself .how? you will know once you wear this madefor-you corset. Your best local store can show the D & A-if it doesn't, permit us to inform you which good store will. D & A 215-Price $1.00 Others-$1.00 to $3.50 last and greatest problem of geography jury to or loss of trees is a material to be solved in the twentieth century. | part of the compensation to be con The statement has been published sidered in fixing the compensation. If several times recently that no investi- there is no bylaw, the township would gations are now in progress in the be liable for the damage as trespass-

Antarctic. This is slightly inaccurate, ers. The Argentine Government has just established a meteorological and magnetic station at Wandel Island far south on the west coast of Graham Land. So the Antarctic regions are at present not entirely deserted by ex-

Queries Answered.

AILSA CRAIG-Can a man, who has a gravel pit in his bush on his farm, prevent the pathmaster or other very element of fat they need. josity will never be satisfied till the township officer or servant from drawwhole extent of the land is laid down ing gravel from his pit if they are on the maps, and all geographers know undermining shade trees, and if so, exploratory activity.

It is strange that the mysterious and the compensation to the owner chants keep it for sale. Rheumatism and south land which long before the dis- for the price or damage is to be fixed all bodily pains disappear when it is apcovery of America was marked on the by arbitration if not agreed upon by maps as Terra Australis, should be the the township and the owner. The in-

DR. A. W. CHASE'S O CATARRH CURE ... ZOC. is sent direct to the diseased parts by the Improved Blower. Heals the ulcers, clears the air passages, stops droppings in the throat and permanantly cures Catarrh and Hay Fever. Blower free. All dealers, or Dr. A. W. Chas Medicine Co., Toronta and Buffale heretofore. Galvanized wires at the PAINS DISAPPEAR BEFORE IT .- No can he get paid for those trees.

Answer—The township have power available Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. If not in the house when required it can be intersections, fed automatically from reels, are wielded by means of small

