INDIAN BRAVES OPEN LACROSSE SEASON HERE

Longboat's Iroquois Team Appear Here in Full War Paint Saturday.

A challenge issued by Chief Long-boat's Iroquois Tiger lacrosse team from the Brant Indian Reserve has been taken up by the London Club, and a tattic will be staged at Tecumseh Park on Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock, rain or shine.

The braves will turn out in full war regalls with beads, wampum and eagle feathers, scalping knives, tom-toms and tomahawks. Being the original exponents of the game of lacrosse, the warriors are naturally adept at handling the gutted stick, and an exciting game is anticipated. The open game of the Indians makes their style pretty to watch.

Indians makes their style pretty of watch.

There will be four quarters played of fifteen minutes each, and between each quarter the redskins will give exhibitions of scalping, tomahawk dancing, war dancing, green corn dances, etc., so that there will be action every moment of the two hours' entertainment.

The London boys are anxious to bring a victory to the garnet and white colors as a starter for the season, and a good, fast, clean contest should be witnessed.

ures which have made it so popular for many years past, and the financial result will doubtless be of great benefit to the charities connected with the fighting charities connected with the fighting forces.

Probably the ordinary private who spent weary months in France or Flanders would be hard put to it to find much in the tournament to remind him of his own days of service. The musical drive by the Royal Horse Artillery, for instance, is the prettiest thing imaginable, but they did not go in for such things on the western front. However, it is performed at Olympia this year by "O" battery from Aldershot, which was 100 years old when it went out to the great war, where it was almost continually in action from August, 1914, until the armistice.

One of the displays most acceptable to tournament audiences is that concerned with the millitary evolutions in times past. The Guards this year gave an exhibition of guard mounting in the 18th century. Of more modern military work, the Royal Engineers contribute a show of bridge building. There are combats with rapter and dagger, with broadsword and buckler and even with the old English quarterstaff.

KITCHENER, May 17.—The Kitchener ball team, in the games up to and including Monday batted 270 and fielded 344. The batting figures may be a surprise to some, but the fielding is fair, prise to some, but the fielding is fair, or societies the authority is at the same that any order hitters, namely: Tex Erwin, Len Hartline. Ernie Sharp, Charlle Hindt and Cletus Berry. Hartline is the real leader, his average being 389. Roche, who was supposed to be a weak batter, has piled up the fair average of 271, and is improving daily. Bill Regan is just commencing to strike his stride, and as yet is down the ladder shit, as is Ray Dunn. Regan, however, is fielding well along with Hindt, and those two bid fair to have a great season. HAMILTON. May 17.-With over 250 time).
