59TH YEAR. NO. 23383

LONDON, ONTARIO, SATURDAY EVENING, JULY 8, 1922.

PRICE, THREE CENTS

QUESTS PALMER-RANEY TO NAME ELLIOTT

GEN. WILLIAMS TAKES OFFICER OUT OF COUNTY

Arthur Palmer Transferred to Duty in Whitby District by Provincial Chief.

CAME HERE 2 YEARS AGO

No Explanation Given by Toronto Official as to Reasons for Change.

As predicted by The London Advertiser three weeks ago, Arthur Palmer, member of the provincial police force, with supervision of the county of Middlesex, has been removed from the district.

From an authoritative and undisputed source it has been learned that Friday afternoon Major-General Williams, of Toronto, director of provincial police throughout Ontario, signed Palmer's transfer form compelling his removal to Whitby, County of Ontario, with duties effective in that district as speedily as circumstances will reasonably allow.

Officer Palmer has been engaged in his duties in this county for nearly two years, coming here from the Essex and Lambton County border, where he was particularly active, it is said, in the apprehension of rum-runners.

No official explanation is forthcoming from the Toronto authorities as to the reason for the change.

SAYS ALLIES RESPONSIBLE FOR COLLAPSE OF MARK

Sir George Paish, British Publicist, Condemns Attitude of France On Reparations.

London, July 8.—The collapse of the German mark, which is featured by the newspapers this morning, is accompanied by reports that Germany will be unable to meet her July reparations payment, due a week from today. The plight of the European exchange in general calls for some gloomy comments. The financier, Sir George Paish, who belongs to that section of publicists here who condemn France's attitude on the reparations question, has an article in the Westminster Gazette alleging that the Entente Allies, particularly France, deliberately chose a policy intended to prevent the recovery of Germany, and that the success of their policy is proving their own undoing. Sir George contends that the situation is rapidly moving toward complete destruction of the value of the German currency.

"Probably no country will suffer more than France in this disaster," he adds, "as it means that Germany probably will be unable to pay any reparations whatever."

HOLD THREE SUSPECTS AT MONTREAL FOR HOLD-UP

Montreal, July 8.—The police dragged three men out to catch the authors of yesterday's daylight hold-up, in which paymasters of the Dominion Textile Company were robbed of $29,000, had today picked up three suspects. It is the belief of the police that the bandits came originally from the United States. It is thought that they crossed into Ontario, stole an automobile, came to Montreal, committed the robbery and then made for the border at once.

Freed For Raising Check To Aid Dying Wife

LOS ANGELES, July 8.—William Strickler, 19, whose wife and baby were sick, got a day's work and a check for $4 in payment. He put a zero after the four, cashed the check, and spent the $40 on his family. Strickler admitted everything today in superior court, and the public defender told how, a few days later, Strickler's wife died and how the prisoner at her grave with his 4-month-old baby in his arms, was arrested and taken to jail. Then the public defender asked probation for Strickler. "Probation!" thundered the court. "Why, the case is dismissed."

SALE OF FLEET OFFERS WORRY

Disposal of Canadian Merchant Marine To Be Problem for New Board.

Vessels Will Be Laid Up As Each Ends Voyage.

Ottawa, July 8.—(By the Canadian Press)—The disposal of the vessels of the Canadian government merchant marine fleet, recommended by the management to be tied up and sold as opportunity offered, will, it is expected, be one of the first problems to confront the new board when it takes office. The C. G. M. M. steamers are administered by the board of management of the Canadian National Railways, though they are operated as a separate corporation.

The new board of management, to administer all the government lines, will, it is expected, be named shortly. The selection of a chairman is understood to be under consideration at the present time, and the members of the board to administer the railways will likely be named as soon as the chairman is decided upon.

The C. G. M. M. fleet is managed from Montreal, and the head offices of the board are in Toronto. Under present conditions it is not thought here that any attempt will be made by the present board to find a market for the vessels which are to be sold, but rather that the incoming board will find the ships on its hands when it takes over.

The vessels which have been recommended to be disposed of have been tied up at the wharves as fast as they finished their voyages there were on when the fiscal year ended, it is learned. Some are still on the ocean, but will be tied up on arrival at their home ports.

BAKER DIVIDES CITY INTO 90 SUBDIVISIONS

Warns Electors To Ascertain Polling Booths at Which to Cast Vote.

13 ADDITIONAL BOOTHS

Changes Do Not Affect Present Representation in Each Ward.

Revision of the city of London, divided according to population into 90 subdivisions instead of the usual 77, which have been in existence for years, has been completed, City Clerk S. Baker announced Saturday.

The significance of this announcement is dependent on the fact that every citizen entitled to cast a ballot on municipal and provincial elections will in future vote in a different subdivision to that which he has been accustomed.

For this reason City Clerk Baker urges ratepayers to scan the voter's list, prior to the next election, in order that they may ascertain the subdivision in which they are listed. The revision, which was instituted to comply with the provincial law, stipulating that there must be less than 300 voters in each subdivision, entails the creation of thirteen new subdivisions in London. Prior to the change there were 77 subdivisions.

TO EXTEND ROAD AT TALBOTVILLE

Provincial Government Decides To Pave Additional Three Miles of Highway.

Good news for the motorists of London and district is contained in an announcement by Dr. H. A. Stevenson, M.L.A., that three additional miles of road between Lambeth and St. Thomas is to be paved immediately.

At the present time, pavement is being laid between St. Thomas and Talbotville. It has been decided to extend this work three miles north of that village to permanently improve one of the worst stretches of road in the district.

This decision was reached by the Provincial government following an inspection by Hon. F. C. Biggs, minister of public works, and Dr. Stevenson of the road from Lambeth, where the present pavement from London ends, to Talbotville, which originally was to mark the end of the pavement north of St. Thomas, for this year at least.

The action was taken as the result of considerable agitation on the part of motorists generally for an extension of the government's paving plan in this district.

Improvements will also be made to a particularly bad stretch of roadway on the top of the hill east of Delaware on the Longwoods road. A system of under drainage is to be constructed to do away with the deep mud holes that form there following each heavy rain.

Two of the principal malcontents, who were supported in their refusal to go on duty by the fifty carabinieri in the Vatican, have resigned, and it is believed that one of the demands of the carabinieri for increased pay has been granted.

Brands Movies "A Powerful Influence Badly Used"

REV. AGAR VISITS CITY.

LONDON'S opportunities for combining both prevention and cure in its social service relief and investigation work, its possibilities of being foremost throughout the province in community advancement and its potential influence as a factor in gaining the utmost effectiveness in the carrying out of social service legislation were manifested in an exclusive interview afforded The London Advertiser Friday night by Rev. Gilbert Agar of Toronto, chief secretary of the Ontario Social Service Council.

"London, as a city views from the angle of social service work," Mr. Agar said, "enjoys a peculiarly splendid position. With the number of industries located here, London must realize the problems confronting the province, and yet the city is of such a size that individuality is possible in its relief work, and the giving of relief need not be separated from investigation into the causes which bring about want and privation.

The legislation brought about by the workings of the Social Service Council, the mothers' allowance act—an act of inestimable value in preserving the home life of our province—the minimum wage act, the act for the protection of unmarried mothers, all have made their influence felt in the social and industrial life of the city, and it is in the carrying out of these laws that social service work in London, permitting, as it does, individual consideration of both cause and effect, would render an untold service to the community advancement of the province."

Mr. Agar's opinion of moving pictures was expressed in one terse phrase, "A powerful influence badly used."

"One of the overwhelming desires of the Social Service Council," he said, "is to see moving pictures diverted from the channels in which they now run to become an uplifting power in the province. The influence they now exert on the minds of children cannot be estimated, and the aim of cleansing that influence of all impurity, and confining it to the highest motives and visions of life constantly before us.

"Work among underprivileged girls is another factor in our community life toward which our attention must be turned. Throughout women's clubs and throughout our churches, with always the individual touch of friendship, we must win those girls whose lives are bordered by the four walls of factories and the drab interiors of boarding houses.

"London is in a position to stand as a community behind its social service work," Mr. Agar concluded, "backing it with loyal and wholehearted support, that here the problems confronting the whole province may be wrestled with and solutions found to aid our social progress."

STEALS CLOCK IN COURT WHILE JUDGE WATCHES

Berlin Thief Is Regarded As Most Audacious Robber.

Berlin, July 8.—A thief who stole the big wall clock from the Moabit court while the tribunal was in full session, is regarded as Berlin's most audacious robber. The man walked into the courtroom with a ladder while lawyers and judges were engaged in profoundest argument.

He said he had been sent to fetch the clock, which needed repairing. When sharply reproved by the judge he humbly added that he had come six times, and had always found the court sitting.

The judge allowed the workman to proceed. In a minute he finished his work and was gone. It was not until the next day that it was discovered that no order had ever been given for the removal of the clock.

DECLARES PEACE AND WAR CANNOT BE SEPARATED

Admiral Pakenham Gives Talk At Montreal Board of Trade Luncheon.

Montreal, July 8.—Admiral Sir William Pakenham, commanding the British North Atlantic Squadron, speaking at the special luncheon in his honor given by the Montreal Board of Trade here yesterday, said peace and war could not be separated, "a continuance of peace," he said, "inevitably leads to war, just as a state of war leads towards peace."

He said the last war had taught us that the Empire could not be carried along on parched lips, and that the test in future must be for the Empire for all and all for the Empire. The whole development of naval affairs during and since the war, the admiral concluded, was to cause a new relationship between the various dominions, with the idea that no part would act for itself alone, but for itself and the Empire, with the navy as the great connecting and protecting link.

CLOSE NOTED N. Y. RESTAURANT

New York, July 8.—Reisenweber's restaurant, on the rim of the mid-night fox-trot belt, was ordered closed Friday for one year, but on conditions that no liquors be made, sold or stored on the premises. Execution of the order is suspended for six months.

The order emanated from Federal Judge Manton, who called the dining and dancing place at Columbus Circle a "common nuisance." The decision was given in an action brought by United States Attorney Hayward.

REPORTS STREET RAILWAY REMITTED FULL TAXATION

Commissioner Grant Claims Company Paid Regular Amount for Track in Annexed District.

Although there is one mile of the London Street Railway Company's tracks in the annexed district of East London which should enjoy a fixed rate of taxation of 15 mills, Assessment Commissioner Stephen Grant states that the company has paid the full rate of taxation on it without demurring.

Mr. Grant mentions this fact in token of the activity of City Engineer Brazier, who is measuring up the company's tracks in London by order of the city council. This mile of track is assessed at $5,000, and would mean a financial saving to the company, if it were taxed at the fixed rate for the annexed district.

City Engineer Brazier is measuring all "straightaway" and curved tracks separately, and expects to have his report on the mileage of the London Street Railway Company completed early next week.

FEARS BLUNDER MAY COST CITY $36,000 TAXES

City Clerk Baker in Doubt as to Status of McClary and White Exemptions.

EXPECTS FIGHT IN COURT

Will Bill Firms in Question in Full This Year in Hope of Collecting.

Upon the interpretation of the law laid down by the provincial legislature on the terms of fixed exemption of the McClary Manufacturing Company and George White & Sons' buildings and properties in London, $36,000 hangs in the balance between the city and these concerns.

This fact was announced by City Clerk S. Baker today, who is in a quandary with regard to interpreting the law regarding these fixed assessments. One interpretation of the law gives these industries a fixed assessment until Jan. 1, 1922, while the other interpretation adds a year to this period.

The assessments involved are $906.95 for the McClary Manufacturing Company, and $34,400 for George White & Sons, or a total of $35,306.95, which involves taxes of approximately $36,000 at the full mill rate.

When ratepayers of London voted on this fixed exemption ten years ago, they indicated that these firms should be allowed a fixed exemption.

McCLARY WORKERS LEAVE FOR PORT

Tin Band Plays 2,000 Employees to Lakeside Resort.

Headed by a band of golden tin with every piece different, 2,000 employees of McClary's Manufacturing Company and their families left for Port Stanley on special trains at 9:20 this morning to enjoy what promises to be one of the merriest picnics in the long history of that firm.

Announcement that the employees had left all cars locked in the factory for the day and were dealing only in joyful frivolities from then on was made to a startled Londoner creeping sleepily to work at an early hour this morning, by the breakfast band that ever paraded the business district of the city.

Tea kettles, water spouts, cuspidors, frying pans, tubs and what-nots, all carefully fashioned into wind instruments with gazooks for mouthpieces, gave forth weird sounds as fifteen members of the McClary band, in picturesque costumes, followed George Moll, bandmaster for the day, through street after street. Each and every instrument had been manufactured in McClary's establishment and sounded the part.

At the lakeside a long list of sports, novel and otherwise, was begun in the morning. Baseball games and other attractions were scheduled for the afternoon.

BIGGEST PEDDLER OF DRUGS GUILTY

Detroit, July 8.—David Oster, "the biggest dope peddler in Michigan," according to Joseph P. Dykes, United States narcotic officer, pleaded guilty in federal court Friday to a charge of having violated the narcotic law, and Judge Arthur J. Tuttle sentenced him to two years in Atlanta penitentiary on each of the two counts, the sentences to run concurrently. Oster is said to have had $4,000 worth of narcotics in his possession when arrested.

2 Princesses Seek Rich Mates By Advertising

GENEVA, Switzerland, July 8.—"Two royal princesses, sisters, aged 23 and 26, desire friendship and eventually marriage, after mutual tests, with English or Canadian gentlemen, who must be young, wealthy and handsome, specially not upstarts or newly rich," reads an advertisement in an Innsbruck newspaper.

"The princesses, who belong to the old royalty, are accomplished, but very poor. The gentlemen must give full details and references. A meeting could be arranged for August."

It may be recalled that an Austrian archduchess advertised in a similar manner about a year ago, and it is believed, found a suitable husband.

DENIES LABATT VIOLATES LAW

John M. McEvoy, K.C., Claims Act Does Not Apply to Liquor Exports.

Deputy Magistrate Bartlett Reserves Decision in Transportation Case.

One problem Deputy Magistrate P. H. Bartlett will have to determine when he decides the case of John Labatt & Co., licensed brewers, charged with transporting liquor on a public highway contrary to subsection 1 of sub-section 3, of the carriage of liquor act, which was heard in police court Saturday morning, and in which judgment was reserved, is whether the act was intended to apply to any case of liquor being transported for export.

John M. McEvoy, K.C., counsel for the defence, contended that the act was not intended to apply to liquor for export. The Ontario Legislature would clearly have no jurisdiction to prevent the transport of liquor for export, he submitted. Liquor is a substance of trade and commerce, Mr. McEvoy pursued, and if the province can prevent the export of liquor, then it can prohibit foreign commerce in liquor. "That, I submit, they are unable to do."

The Ontario act received royal assent on June 12, its third reading being given June 7. Dominion legislation on this subject was passed on June 15, taking the form of an amendment to the Canada temperance act.

"Under Dominion legislation the act," he said, "is intended to apply to liquor for export."

SEEK TEMPORARY SCHOOL QUARTERS IN LONDON EAST

Trustee Bice and Inspector Greer Continue Hunt For Suitable Building.

While members of the board of education voice assurance that actual work will commence on a new public school in southeast London before many days have elapsed, Senior School Inspector V. K. Greer and Trustee (Rev.) A. B. Bice, chairman of No. 2 committee, are still active in their endeavor to secure suitable temporary buildings in that district that may be equipped for use September next.

It was reported that while accommodation may be secured by use of the Sunday school room of a Hamilton Road Church, the rental of the same cannot be definitely arranged until Monday next, when the directors of the church in question meet in special session and consider the request of the school trustees and officials.

RECORD YIELD FOR NIAGARA.

Hamilton, July 8.—E. J. Mahoney, president, and C. W. Baxter, manager of the Niagara Fruit Growers, Limited, say the fruit crop in the Niagara Peninsula this year will be second only to the record yield of 1920. Plums are an exceptionally heavy crop.

Reports Inch of Rain Fell In Hour In London

THE rainfall Friday afternoon which sent many orchards and nudes frocked daisies and palm beach suited and straw-battered young men scurrying for shelter, was one of the heaviest in London for some time past. In the short space of an hour, one inch of rain fell, and in but a few moments the streets were flooded.

Coming suddenly as it did the rain caused more or less inconvenience and disgruntled dispositions in the city, but reports from the country show that the farmers were delighted with a shower, which gave much moisture and took up very little time.

REVOKES ORDER ATTORNEY MUST QUIT PRACTICE

Ex-M.L.A. for West Middlesex Likely To Win Crown Post On Monday.

DID NOT SEEK POSITION.

Members of Legislature Laud Choice as Able Successor to J. B. McKillop, K.C.

Indications point to the appointment Monday next or Tuesday morning at the latest, of J. C. Elliott, ex-M.L.A. for West Middlesex, as crown attorney jointly for the city of London and the county of Middlesex, to succeed the late J. B. McKillop, K.C., who capably held that position for many years.

Three days ago The Advertiser was informed Saturday morning by those closely associated with the Hon. W. E. Raney, attorney-general for Ontario, the latter announced that his mind was made up and "he would recommend 'Jack' Elliott for the vacancy."

Whether the latter is seeking the position or whether he would accept the same is not definitely known to The Advertiser, but Saturday morning the attorney-general stated decisively that no longer was it considered necessary, at this time at least, for the new crown attorney to relinquish his private practice.

J. C. Elliott Favored. During the past two weeks it has been freely admitted by district members of the Legislative Assembly that J. C. Elliott could have the position should he so desire, and the only hitch in the appointment seemed to be, the supposed ruling that an appointee would be compelled to abandon his private practice.

It was frankly acknowledged by the members that considerable delay has resulted, in the consideration of the question, occasioned by this fact. It would appear now from the statement by Mr. Raney that, temporarily at least, the Toronto authorities are content to adhere to the present system.

To Be Named Monday.

Supporting the announcement in the Friday edition of The London Advertiser, the attorney-general stated that formal announcement would be forthcoming early in the week, and more than likely Monday.

Returning Friday afternoon from his home constituency of Wellington East, Mr. Raney held a conference with members of parliament from Middlesex ridings.

BRITISH COLUMBIA FOREST FIRES GIVEN NEW IMPETUS

Lang Bay Wiped Out, Leaving Six Families Homeless and Destitute.

Vancouver, B. C., July 8.—Forest fires on the northern half of Vancouver Island gained new impetus last night, when the Comox fire joined one from Menzies Bay, and swept forward to wreak destruction on timber areas hitherto untouched. Weather forecasts are for continued dry weather, and fire fighting has become almost a hopeless task. Loggers have exchanged their normal tasks for fire fighting.

The absence of railways and roads hampers the work in the lumbering areas. Logging railways are burned out in several places. Late arrivals from Lang Bay, which was practically wiped out Thursday night, say six families there are homeless and destitute, and all other residents of the summer resort have been compelled to leave. Only two houses out of a dozen are left standing.

Sing a song of ragweed
Groining in the fall;
Sing a song of noses,
Blowing one and all;
When the season opens,
Loud the sneezes ring;
Isn't this hay fever
For every little thing?

ARE you a member of the Pollinosis Club?

If you are, you needn't blow about it.

That is, you won't have to any more, if you take the new serum treatment and it "works."

Of course, you all know what pollinosis is. At least, your nose knows. Pollinosis is the technically formal and proper name for your little old hay fever.

Just the mere mention of a sunflower waving in the breezes used to be sufficient to set all the poor little members of the Pollinosis Club chrousing out the club slogan, "Kerchoo, kerchoo!"

Now, thanks to science and serum (again, if it "works"), their orbs and nasal appendages are as dry as Ontario is supposed to be.

You see, the seat of the whole hay fever trouble is right in the mucous membrane of the little old sniffer. Now, a normal mucous membrane will digest and take care of all the loose floral and grass pollen in the atmosphere.

An abnormal mucous membrane, on the contrary, cannot digest the pollen, so the waste matter remains, sets up a lively irritation, and that's pollinosis!

In the old days, the hay fever sufferer had to sniff, sneeze and blow it or follow his nose on the run, of course, to some distant clime far, far from pernicious pollens.

Now, if he begins six weeks before the date of his annual attack, and has a successful inoculation, every few days, of serum made from the pollen or pollens that affect him, he can just naturally camp out in a field of timothy and look a whole flock of goldenrod in the face.

Beware of August. The most virulent, persistent and pesky form of hay fever arrives promptly in the nose August 15, and just won't leave till it gets a good frost. Sunflowers, golden rod, the late grasses and ragweed, all do their worst for it.

The main thing in the serum cure is to determine just what your particular brand of pollen is. A scratch on the hide and an application of every variety until you react should settle that question. A little more of the same, hypodermically ("The needle, Watson") is what you get, then and thereafter, every few days for six weeks.
