a Home g often at your agon at home-d that?

think know

ERS

ortment of prices that ng sense." t us with a effort to think, beas been so perience a come, so w, and be values, and ou cannot are good, rns are at-They are special pro-eing light, covering. uality magree these nvestigate.

ton, coverch, $4.00 .. $3.50

ERY ions. Good nder artistic s, textures. ck pools by rples, clairhers which each bloom, with each nd purchas-

INTER phies

and most les in this is as to the claim re strong

o enumeriselves—a time you Yes, lookget a pro-iteresting.

SOON shown on n to your time-the

MAKERS

--OF--AND OFFICE FITTINGS

That Are Better

BRAVE FIREMEN PREY OF FLAMES GRAVES OF BRITISH CELEBRITIES

Meet Death While Trying to Save Great Building in New York

New York, Jan. 10.—Four firemen went to their death when they responded to a fire that burned the Parker building, a twelve-story business structure, occupying the block between East 18th and 19th streets on Fourth avenue, tonight. Fought by half the firemen of Manhattan, and apparatus that blocked the streets for blocks, the flames were never controlled, and only with difficulty confined to the building in which they originated. Floor after floor gave away originated. Floor after floor gave away and dropped to the basement, and beneath these and crumbling walls no less than thirfy firemen were caught and either killed outright or seriously

When the fire had burned itself out and the firemen's roll was called, four firemen failed to answer. They were: Thomas Phillips, Thomas O'Connor, John Lynch and John Fallen.

Tim Hutchinson was removed dying to a hospital. Capt. Weldon and Capt. Darvon, who were injured internally, were among those dangerously hurt. When the casualties began the Florence hotel, which adjoins the burned building on 18th street, was made a temporary hospital, where the fire department physician gave aid to the

The monetary loss was estimated at $1,500,000. The fire was one of the most spectacular as well as disastrous in recent years. From start to finish its course was marked by heart-rending scenes, sensational escapes, and flashes of heroism.

The building was occupied chiefly by publishing houses, though a score of other businesses had workrooms or offices there. The loss to the tenants is total. The fire started on the fifth floor, in the office of Kopr & Jackson, publishers, and before a stream of water had fallen upon it, had shot through the elevator shafts, and presently all of the upper floors were ablaze. On the fifth floor, where the watchmen discovered the fire, five ran up to the fifth floor, after eighty-five-feet extension ladders had been raised to the windows of the story, to make possible the firemen's return. After a fruitless effort to stay the flames at the place of origin, the fire-men were driven to the windows, only believed that the water of certain lakes and streams in which the shawis are dipped has virtue to make the col-

Exhumation of the Bodies of Charles

MANY OTHERS BADLY HURT

Which was once shown him by an official of St. George's Chapel, Windsor a fragment of the flesh of Charles I., enshrined in a locket, and the story its owner told of it was this: "When he was a lad he accompanied his master and George IV. into the vaults of Windsor Castle to open the coffin of the 'Martyr King.' The head had been removed for George's close inspection. After the head had been restored to the coffin the boy discovered on the

After 'the head had been restored to the coffin the boy discovered on the floor a piece of fiesh, which he quietly secured and preserved all his life as a precious relic of the unhappy king."

The head of Charles' great enemy, Cromwell, met with much more irreverent treatment. After the late Protector's remains had been dug up from their burial place at Tyburn his head was exposed for twenty-five years on the top of Westminster Hall un'til one stormy night it was blown down and was picked up by a sentry who, hiding it under his cloak, took it home and secreted it in the chimney descendants exhibited it in a place near 'Clare Market. By him it was sold to James Cox, owner of a mus-

Dr. Woods Hutchison writes about sleep in the American Magazine. On the subject of eating before sleeping,

To many people who have been following the Druce-Portland case it may be interesting to recall cases where the last resting places of great men have been disturbed for various

Member of Crew When Loch Maree Was Salved Tells

of Incident of Incident

WON $37,500 FOR THE TUG

How Abandoned Cotton-Laden Steamer Was Recovered From Island Coast

The British Columbia Salvage com vage company does not wish to make any change, naturally desiring to maintain the name which has been

This man spent ten years on the William Jolliffe, and was on board the steamer when her most famous salvage haul, the picking up of the steamer Loch Maree was made. He was also on the tug when she picked up the British ship Pass of Brander, a sister vessel of the Pass of Melfort which was lost with all hands off Amphitrie point, in the English channel, and on other salvage cases and long distance tows in which the will

Young's January Clearance Sale

Six Big Blanket Bargains For Monday's Sale

We would call special attention to their excellent "All Wool" quality-the nice, soft "fluffy ruffles" kind of blankets that will make sagacious housekeepers delighted with their purchase. Many should buy at hese low figures:

5-lb., 56 x 74 in.,	$4.2
6-1b., 60 x 80 in
7-lb., 64 x 42 in	$5.90
8-lb., 68 x 86 in	$6.71
10 4, 64 x 80 in	$4.90
9 4, 60 x 78 in

Immense Reductions in Whitewear and Every Department

HENRY YOUNG & CO.

"The White House"

Government St.

THE CAUSES

OF SEDITION

Loval Fraser Discusses Reasons for Prevalent Unrest in India

With the state of the part of Many influences have contributed to pring about the prevalent unrest in india, but there was one immediate predisposing cause which seems to be thready half forgotten in England. I a collection of archangels, and if their methods were idealized perfection, they would not win over the growing section of irreconcilables who aim at nothing less than the overthrow of British control. This is the section that prompts obscure editors to write flaring sedition, that instigates students to form themselves into bands, that cover the whole country with a network of underground intrigue, while remaining forever behind the veil. No reforms will conciliate its adherents:

This Week Ends the Big Clothing Sale