The mill owned by Clarke Bros. will have inished sawing the last of this week and will be removed back to Bear River as soon after that as possible. Since beginning operations, the first of February, about one million feet of lumber have been sawn, the mill giving employment during that time to about thirteen men, while a great many more have been logging.

The lumber-yard on the station-ground is the scene of busy labor. At present a number of men under the superintendence of J. L. Phinney are loading cars for E. D. Davison & Sons, Bridgewater.

Edwin Berteaux and Isaac Saunders have been confined to their homes for the past few weeks from attacks of la grippe. We are pleased to note they are convalescing. On the 17th inst. Mrs. Edward Vidito passed peacefully "over the River." Although being ill for some time past, hopes of her recovery were entertained. The sympathy of the community is extended to the family, consisting of husband, three sons and two daughters. The funeral took place on Thursday atternoon and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends anxious to pay the last tribute of respect to one who had by her faithful christian walk in life won the love and esteem of all who knew her. The Y. P. S. C. E. has aroused a greatly increased interest in the great cause of Missions. Last year the Endeavorers gave $100,000 to the various denominational boards.

In the Maritime Provinces and in one denomination alone over $1,000 was given to Missions by the societies and this year will see a very considerable increase. An American pastor testifies to the usefulness of the Y. P. S. C. E., when in his unavoidable absence from Sunday or midweek service the young people take charge of such

Will the Montron please accept the thanks of its correspondent here for the much appreciated favour of its anniversary number. It is faultless in artistic finish and reflects all credit upon the proprietor. It is a souvenier well worthy of preservation. The warm winds of the last few days, together with Monday's rain, have mclted away the last of the snow-drifts,—sombre reminders of the terrible blizzard of the 9th. The face of nature is beginning to assure quite a vernal appearance. In a very few weeks now the air will be laden with the perfume of apple blossoms which will present an appearance excelled by no other country on earth.

We noticed a move at the lumber piles a few days since. L. D. Gesner was shipping 50m, on a scow to go to Annapolis. Wm. A. Piggott, Esq., of Granville Ferry was the purchaser.

We are pleased to state that Mr. Owen Bent, who has been very seriously indisposed for a long time, is slowly recovering.

We are informed that hay is very scarce among the farmers in the upper section. No doubt they will welcome an early spring.

Prosperous Canada. In the course of his budget speech, Mr. Foster, minister of finance, comparing the trade and commerce of Canada during the fiscal year 1892-3, with that of previous years and with those of other countries,

"The trade and commerce of the country "The trade and commerce of the country (Canada) showed not only well comparatively to itself in preceding years, but exceedingly well relating to the experience of other countries. The Australian colonies in their trade ran down by the hundreds of thousands; British commerce decreased in 1892-3 as compared with the preceding year to the extent of $133,289,644, and her exports decreased to the extent of $41,678,026. French commerce declined $97,811,239, her exports declining $49,883,914 of that amount. The commerce declined $97,811,239, her exports declining $49,883,914 of that amount. The United States trade fell off $133,182,229, the exports being in that amount $68,499,544. With this record of decrease and decadence in trade, it is pleasing to contrast Canada's experience, which shows an increase of trade of $11,183,431 and an increase of exports of home products of $6,459,344."

A Welsh engineer has prepared designs for a vessel which he claims will attain a speed of sixty miles an hour. His proposed vessel is flat bottomed, 550 feet long, 50 feet in width, wedge shaped at each end for 100 feet of her length, with a displacement of some 14,600 tons. Such a vessel, fitted with sixteen paddle wheels, driven at 170 revolutions a minute, this sanguine inventor believes would be propelled through the water at the trate of sixty miles an hour. This would be breaking the record with a vengeance, for the Lucania, which has just eclipsed all previous performances, averaged barely twenty-two miles an hour. The sixteen paddle wheels of the proposed express passenger steamer would be placed eight on each side, one behind the other in a water channel running fore and at just above the ship's bottom. They are of a peculiar construction, the paddle always maintaining a perpendicular position, and always entering and leaving the water at exactly the same point. When once used, you will like others, call Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, and nothing cussion but in a purely inquiring spirit I ask —where and what is the harm in dancing?

Anumber of young animals—suppose lambs—meet and frolic on the green. In pure exuberance of spirits and excess of animal life, they skip and leap, performing figures more intricate and graceful than those used in any dance. When the world was young, in the good old bible days, the young men and maidens sang and danced together for very joy. The world was fresh and beautiful, the young blood coursed richly through their veins, and in light springing movements they kept time to the songs their hearts sang.
Even now when the earth is growing old and weary with wickedness and misery, every year the wonderful mystery of the springtide brings again to thoughtful eyes a climpse of its youth. Our young people of to-day are the same beings as the Jewish youths and maidens, filled with the same rhythm and melody, yet people sanction the dancing of the lambs and forbid nature taking its course in those who are but young animals of a different growth. Of course I am not advocating the public dance hall, or any place where fast dances are kept up until "after the break of morn," but am merely showing why I fail to see harm in any games where the feet step around blithely in time to music, either vocal or instrumental; or in the square dances whose graceful figures please the eye, and exhilarate the pulses of youth. And either vocal or instrumental; or in the square dances whose graceful figures please the eye, and exhilarate the pulses of youth. And then there is another aspect to the case. I have seen men—good staunch church members, and others who are as loud in denunciation of dancing as if they were—to bitterly condemn dancing, but they would spend a long evening playing "Copenhagen" and talking about their neighbours, and the next day drive their oxen to the woods, pile on a long even to the woods, pile on a talking about their neighbours, and the next day drive their oxen to the woods, pile on a load of twenty hundred when the animals had only a pulling capacity of twelve hundred, and then cruelly beat the dumb brutes until goaded by pain the poor beasts rush forward; and up and down hills, over rough places and smooth, the load is safely drawn to its destination; while as its driver walks behind he complacently thinks of the fine arbest align he gave in prayer meeting the

to its destination; white as its driver walks behind he complacently thinks of the fine exhortation he gave in prayer meeting the day before and smiles wreathe his countenance as he fondly thinks what a hit he made when they pleaded with even "the vilest dancer to return." And worst of all—although I hope such cases are few—there are some animals maimed and deformed, their injuries dumbly crying out-for the rocks and stones to shield them from themodern Pharoh who in a fit of senseless rage inflicted such suffering upon them, and now arrayed in a robe of spotless reputation loudly inveighs against dancing. Verily "let him who is without sin cast the first stone." And then again,—does the little strip along the bay shore from Hampton to Phinney's Cove embrace all the salt of the earth? Outside in the valley and farther up and down the shore, moderate dancing is counted an innocent amusement. There must surely be some good people among all this number, 'else had these places shared the fate of Sodom and Gomorrah, and if they do sink, wee betide the inhabitants of this narrow strip of counters when heave been looking so intraverse. the inhabitants of this narrow strip of coun try, who have been looking so intently at these workers of iniquity, though it was only for criticism. Canada's Columbian Victors. The Wm. Weld Co., publishers of the Farmer's Advocate, London, Ont., and Winnipeg, Man., have just favored us with a copy of an exceedingly handsome and lifelike engraving, entitled "Canada's Columbian Victors." It contains the portraits of a large group of pure-bred Ayrshire cattle that won phenomenal honors at the World's Fair, Chicago, last summer. Canadian live stock breeders and dairymen especially will appreciate the commendable enterprise displayed by the Farmer's Advocate in thus giving the public such a permanent mement of the success of Canada in that great prize ring. Out of $2,035.00 in prizes, Canadian Ayrshires won $1,885.00; United States, $150.00. It is also highly creditable to Mr. F. Brigden, who is, without doubt, the leading live stock portraiture we have seen nothing finer than this, the shading and grouping heigh artisically done, and the way of live stock portraiture we have seen nothing finer than this, the shading and grouping being artistically done, and the individual characteristics faithfully brought out. We might mention that the cattle portrayed in this engraving were from the herds of Messrs. R. Reford, St. Annes, P. Q; R. Robertson, Howick, P. Q; Thomas Guy, Oshawa, Out.; W. M. and J. C.
