

take a kindly interest in this little Work, and to advise that it should not be published anonymously.

The friend of the Writer willingly accepts the full responsibility of disobeying her injunction, when coupled with the gratification of acting on a suggestion from such a quarter.

November, 1861.