questioned as to his authority for such a deciston, he sagely nodded his head, winked one eye; expanded his chest one moh, and trimmphanty renarked "I saw the Montreal match!" The battle went on bravely. but neither side gained any decided advantage. When the referee's whistle announced that the contest was over, the score stood - Co'lege, . 2 ; St. Joseph's School, o.

NOTES.

The referce ruled off Bawlf, the College's best wing, and Doran, St. Joseph's latest acquisition from the all-round Scotland team.

Duruis and H. Gaul were St. Joseph's best men; while Iachance was the College's bright and only star. Had it not been for his brilliant work, the College would have been disgracefully defeated.

After appointing two royal commissions, we have discovered that B.illy was the umpire; some may doubt the truth of this statement, as he was not to be seen on the field.

Chabot, the College centre alwaysheeled the bail out with his hands.
H. Martin, College half-back, made a a brilliant run after time was up, and might have been in locomotion yet, had he not collided with a crooked rail fence down near Hawkesbury.

Favreau invariably played off.side, but was invariably touched down by Dupuis.

At the first mecting of the Society of The Holy Angels, the following officers were clected :

President-R. Barter.
First Assistant-R. Lapointe.!
Second Assistant -J. Cassidy.
Secretary-J. Morin.
Treasurer-Jno. Dowd.
Sacristans $\left\{\begin{array}{l}\text { A. Martin. } \\ \text { E. Bouchard. }\end{array}\right.$
Counsellors
$\left\{\begin{array}{l}\text { Jno. Neville. } \\ \text { P. Taillon. }\end{array}\right.$
The following held first places in their classes for the month of October.
First Grade $\therefore\left\{\begin{array}{l}\text { P. Taillon } \\ \text { G. Taillon } \\ \text { E.Laverdure }\end{array}\right.$
Second Grade A $\left\{\begin{array}{l}\text { A. Martin } \\ \text { F. Davie } \\ \text { L. linard. }\end{array}\right.$

Second Grade $3\left\{\begin{array}{l}\text { Chas. Cavanagh. } \\ \mathrm{J} \text { I Timbers } \\ \text { Wm. Richards. }\end{array}\right.$
Third Grade A $\left\{\begin{array}{l}\mathrm{B} \text { Houde } \\ \text { Win. Burke }\end{array}\right.$
Third Gra le $\mathrm{B}\left\{\begin{array}{l}\text { P. Pitre } \\ \text { Jno. Sullivan } \\ \mathrm{E} . \text { lisson. }\end{array}\right.$
Fourt Grade
fl. Coté A. Mclonald (Geo. Kelly

ULULATUS.
Have a game?
A peculiarity among a crowd of stodents is a lone gosling.

Pope-What are you playing Albert?
Albert-Oh. it is only the scales.
Pope-Well that's pretty fishy, isn't it ?
Joe's ankle is again well, and we are glad to see him back, after having taken horizontal refreshments.

Gerling, do you want to buy any figs?
After meeting a bald-headed genteman a student remarked." He parts his hair in the middle, dosen't he ! But contrary to all geometrical axioms the part is greater than the whole:"

The present snow is much regretted as Captain Dowhing's golf team have to suspend play.

Prof. C.-sh purposes opening a kinderguten and with Flemmin's assistance the project will succeed.

Joc's gesticulation is calling forth great applause.
Pete is a failure as a vendur of apples; better tey peanuts.
l'rof.-Now, Mr. L, what do you mean ly a versatile poce?

Mr. L.-A Apet who wrote in verse.
What is antithesis, Mir. C.
Antithesis, sir, is the repration of the initial consonam.
The Muck Printing Co. announces a new hook by Mr. O'R-ly on the lise and Abus-ive language.

Prof.-Transiate Mancr, Mr. W W.
Mr. W. W. --Why; Manes-mat's Shades: and the professor couldn't understand the laugh.

Snowed under-.The College Lazer.
Willic still protests that he has mo aumt in Olawa.

Prof. F-nn-g•n delivers a resular after-dinner lecture to a well-filled inall.

We have quite a few who can fight a storm but not one appeared this morning except Fally:

Spider-Say Tommy there's no pmstime I enjoy more than drixing.
Tom....Wcll if you come (") romm I'll give you a hammer and some nails.

