A DRESS GOODS PALACE.

The store is a long way ahead in dress goods. "Simpson's for Dress Goods" was the talk of the people a score of years ago, and the supremacy secured then has been more than maintained in these latter days of keenest competition. Mother and grandmother will tell you of the dependable character of the dress goods that Simpson sells—and who to-day wants anything else? You are astonished at the variety, the quality and the many exclusive specialties on the shelves—goods no other store keeps. Best of all, you get superior qualities for less prices than you often pay for the commoner and cheapest goods.
