

Providence allotted him, and in the use which he made of those gifts, few men of his generation have excelled him.

He was a born orator. The writer has heard many illustrious speakers, but has never met his superior in the conventional characteristics of eloquence, while in the matter of concentrated thought, and nicety of logical deduction, he has yet to see his equal. When he was in his mood, there was something potential and oracular in Father Smarius' pulpit utterances. A splendid head, clear cut in profile from sparseness of hair; a commanding presence; a deep sounding voice with a peculiar peal or clat in it; a natural and wholly unstudied gesture; a rare felicity of improvisation, all these rendered his simple discourses impressive. But when he warmed up with his subject, when emotion mastered him, then the body rose, the head tossed upward, the fine lips quivered, that resonant voice exploded like cannon, and the effect was irresistible. He labored under only one physical disadvantage. He wore spectacles, and the writer has heard him complain that he thereby lost much of the magnetism of the eye in subduing an audience.

The undersigned is persuaded that if Father Smarius, instead of being a humble Jesuit, had been a public man, or professor of a lay college, his reputation for eloquence would be national, and his works would be in the hands of every body. Nay, if this man had been born in France or Belgium, he would rank with the Ravigonns and Lacordaires; his life would be written and his works edited. For really, as a natural orator, he was not inferior to these, and as a theologian, he was superior. The active missionary life in America is not favorable to a posthumous recognition of intellectual merit, as the more restricted field of priestly work is in Europe. But the merit is none the less real. Let us hope that Father Smarius' life may be written by some competent hand, and that a selection of his lectures, sermons and poems shall also see the light. A revised edition of his Points of Controversy, published in 1865, would be a spiritual benediction.

In the little Florissant graveyard, the pioneers of religion in the far West—the Van Quickenborns, Timmermans, Elets, and Verhagens rests under the lilacs and catalpas; Cornelius Smarius should be laid at their feet, for of all the sons of their loins, he was the greatest.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN THE CAPITAL.

OTTAWA, March 18th.

To the Editor of the True Witness.

SIR,—From the brilliant programme which I had the pleasure of reading in your columns, and from the manner in which the Irishmen in Montreal have in former years honored the memory of their glorious Apostle, I am led to believe that St. Patrick's Day was this year celebrated in your city with more than ordinary eclat. I can picture to myself the gorgeous banners, the cheering bands, and the thousands of elated Irish hearts, but more than this I cannot do; consequently, I ardently look forward to your next issue for such an account as the TRUE WITNESS alone can give.

Here in the rising city of Ottawa, where Irishmen are both numerous and prosperous, a display worthy of the Festival is always expected, and believe me, the most enthusiastic hopes were satisfied.

Though the day opened in a most ominous manner, with heavy snow and violent wind, yet the Irish citizens proceeded to carry out the order of the day, as if the weather were of a most favorable nature. At 10 a.m. the bells in the Cathedral spires invited all to assist at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, and thus religiously observe the day. As the different societies headed by their respective banners marched up the aisles of the Church, the band of St. Joseph's College rendered with great effect the popular air of "St. Patrick's Day." Crowds then poured in, and soon thronged the building, which I must remark, was tastefully decorated with Erin's never fading color. Mass was then begun, the celebrants being, Rev. Father Collins, of St. Patrick's, and Rev. Bros. Barrett and O'Riordan, O.M.I., of the Seminary.

The Mass was La Roche's, and was sung in a very artistic manner by the choir of St. Joseph's, under the able direction of Rev. Father Chaboret. After the Gospel, Rev. Mr. Salmon, of Montreal, ascended the pulpit and delivered a very eloquent sermon, during which he alluded in a very touching manner to the labours of St. Patrick, the progress of the Church in Ireland, the perseverance and attachment of the Irish race to the old Creed amidst trials and persecutions, and concluded with a very earnest exhortation to all Irishmen, to be united in attachment to their Country, and to the Religion which St. Patrick planted on their shores. The discourse occupied over an hour and a quarter, and is pronounced by all who had the happiness of listening to it, to be one of the most effective ever delivered in this city on a like occasion.

After Mass a procession was formed, composed of about two thousand five hundred persons, members of the different Irish societies, non members, and the students of the different schools. After marching through the principal streets, they returned to St. Patrick's Hall, where several able addresses were delivered by the President and officers of the Association.

SHAMROCK.

(From another Correspondent)

In the evening a grand Concert took place in the "Risk Music Hall." The attendance was large and highly respectable. The stage was beautifully ornamented with the banners of the several societies, amongst others that of St. Patrick's, having the golden harp and ancient crown on a green field. Space will not permit to notice the various morceaux in detail; suffice to say the Concert was carried out in "capital" style, reflecting great credit on the ladies and gentlemen who contributed to the programme.

On the stage were besides the President, Hon. Messrs. Howe, Anglin; M. P. Ryan, Esq.; Rev. Dr. O'Connor, Father Palmer, etc.

During the evening, Messrs. Howe, Anglin, and Ryan addressed the audience and were received with great applause.

Thus has passed the return of this glorious festival, and we trust that similar results shall always attend its celebration in the Capital.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN ST. JOHNS.

(To the Editor of the True Witness.)

SIR,—The Festival of Ireland's Apostle and Patron Saint was celebrated on the 17th, by the Irishmen of St. Johns, with great pomp, and with an enthusiasm which only Irishmen can feel and understand. At eight o'clock, (notwithstanding the great snow storm which prevented many of those residing in the country from coming to town, and taking part in the proceedings of the day,) the members of the St. Patrick's Society, gayly decorated with badges, began to assemble in the Firemen's Hall. At half past eight, a procession, headed by St. John's Artillery Brass Band, and St. Jean Baptiste and St. Joseph's Societies, formed in front of the Hall, and marched directly to the church, where High Mass was sung by the Rev. Mr. Corbeil.

After the reading of the first Gospel, an eloquent and impressive sermon was preached by the Rev. Mr. Aubry, P. P. He took his text from the words: "And the Lord gave him glory in his posterity, and the blessing of all nations." A more eloquent or impressive discourse, Mr. Editor, it was never before my lot to listen to, and I regret very much not being able to give a synopsis of it. During the course of his remarks, the reverend gentleman pointed to the sufferings and the hardships to which our Apostle was subjected, and the many obstacles he had to surmount during his early life in Ireland; he eulogized the labors of his after life when a missionary; he then described the incidents of his Apostolic career, and proved that his labors had made Ireland for centuries a land of charity, a land of heroes, a land of Saints. He counselled Irishmen to love their country well, but their religion better.

After Mass the Procession again formed in the same order as before, and after parading the principal streets, the Band enlivening the march by the soul-stirring strains of St. Patrick's Day and other lively tunes, assembled in the Town Hall. Here the platform was occupied by the President, B. O'Connell, Esq., and the presidents and officers of the other societies. After a letter of apology from the President of the St. Jean Baptiste Society, Mr. Charland, Advocate, had been read by the Secretary, Jas. O'Connell, Esq., the President, B. O'Connell, Esq., addressed the assembly in a few well conceived words. He complimented the members on the creditable proceedings of the day, and exhorted them to preserve during the remainder of it the fair name they had earned in the morning. Addresses were then made by Mr. Sheriff DesRivieres, H. Frenner and H. McGinnis, which were received with much enthusiasm; after which the band played God Save the Queen, and the meeting dispersed.

In the evening several of the members of the Society met at Mr. O'Connell's Hotel, and partook of an oyster supper. In the absence of the President the Chair was filled by P. McQuillan, J.P. A very pleasant evening was spent, and speeches were made by P. McQuillan, J. Renigan, and H. McGinnis. The meeting broke up at a late hour.

Hoping that you will give place to the above in your next issue, I enclose my card, and subscribe myself, your humble and obedient servant,

AN IRISHMAN.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY IN KINKSTON.

It has been customary in chronicling celebrations on St. Patrick's Day, to prefix an account of the proceedings with a due acknowledgment of the grace of the weather, by stating that "the day dawned auspiciously," or that "Old Sol came out in all his glory." But this, with the slightest regard for truthfulness, cannot be said of yesterday. The snow storm, which led us to anticipate yesterday a failure of the Procession, prevented a general turnout worthy of the class and the day.

The storm kept up during Wednesday night and yesterday morning, and the streets presented a dreary, unbroken aspect. No tracks were beaten for sleighs, and the sidewalks, though partially cleared off, were cumbersome with snow. Further, snow, amounting almost to a rain, continued to fall, rendering out-door experiences all the more disagreeable. This was damping to the enthusiasm of the Sons of St. Patrick, who were singularly determined to celebrate the day with unusual demonstration.

The arrangement was that the procession should form at nine o'clock in front of the City Hall, and about that hour numbers congregated in Ontario Hall, where one of the Bands played those inspiring airs which Irishmen delight to hear. They were joined shortly by the St. Patrick's Society of Garden Island which had braved the blockade, and walked in goodly numbers and with flying colors, headed by a Marshal and Mr. Scott's Band. Then Mr. Macarow, the Vice-President of the St. Patrick's Society, addressed those in the Hall, and advised the abandonment of a formal procession, and the substitution instead of a quiet walk to church. This was assented to, and the order to fall in front of the Hall was given. Thence they walked along the side-walks to St. Mary's Cathedral, headed by the two bands of music. The procession was not one-third the usual size, and few of the banners were brought out, and fewer still unfurled, yet those who joined in it wore appropriate regalia, and did all in their power to do honor to the occasion. The Cathedral was well filled. High Mass was sung by the Very Rev. Father Farrelly, V. G., assisted by the Rev. Mr. Gauthier as Deacon, and the Rev. Mr. Kietly as Sub Deacon. Father Kietly preached an eloquent sermon on the Day and its associations.

After service, with indomitable spirit, the processions, to nearly their full number, again took up the line of march, in the street this time, the Bands being provided with carriages and four. After parading the city for nearly two hours under no ordinary difficulty, they dispersed. As might be expected the day passed off most decorously.—British Whig.

THE CATHOLIC WORLD—April, 1870.—We think that, like good wine, this periodical improves with age, and every succeeding number more than justifies the high eulogies that have been awarded to its predecessors. The other articles, of which a list will be found in the usual advertisement, are all excellent. Le Journal des Trois Rivières has information, which it believes to be well founded, to the effect that the Hon. Mr. de Boucherville, President of the Legislative Council of the Province of Quebec will shortly be appointed Lieutenant Governor of the North West Territory. Mr. de Boucherville is related to Bishop Tache of the diocese of St. Boniface. He formerly represented Humbly in the Legislative Assembly of Canada, and on the formation of the Chateauval Ministry, in 1867, was tendered the Presidency of the Council with a seat in the local Cabinet. Our Three Rivers contemporary says, that his liberal ideas, his spirit of conciliation, and his relationship to the Bishop of St. Boniface, eminently qualify him for the post to which the rumour has called him.

Two farmers named Cardinal, residing at Lorette in the vicinity of Quebec have been arrested for a murder alleged to have been committed three or four years ago. The supposed victim was an elderly man named Francois Dion whose remains were then found in the woods under circumstances which now lead it to be supposed that he was murdered by the brothers, one of whom Antoine, was his son-in-law. The Police Magistrate opened the case a day or two, and after hearing two witnesses "adjourned the proceedings" until Wednesday, by which time a school mistress residing at Murray Bay, who was overheard telling Antoine Cardinal—"you know well that if I liked I could have you arrested for killing old Dion," will be in attendance as she has been sent for. When found Dion's body was horribly mutilated. The head and neck were torn off, and not to be found and a portion of the intestines were scattered about. It was generally believed that the old man had been assailed by some wild beast while entering the bush, until a few days ago, when Dr. Larue met a person who gave him some particulars respecting Dion's death, and told him some persons now believed that Dion had been assassinated. Dr. Larue thereupon made an other inquiry into the appearance of the remains, and came to the conclusion, in concert with Dr. Meraden that the head had not been carried off by some beast of prey. A warrant was the result, under which the Cardinals and the wife of Antoine Cardinal are now held for examination.

District of Montreal.

KNOW ALL MEN THAT LES DAMES RELIGIEUSES SECOURS HOSPITALIERES DE ST. JOSEPH DE L'HOTEL DIEU DE MON REAL in the City and District of Montreal, by their petition filed in the office of the Superior Court on or before the 10th day of March, 1870, pray for the sale of certain immovable situated in the said District, and which were heretofore occupied in whole or in part by the commercial firm of O. W. Williams & Co., Sewing Machines manufacturers, and now by one Bard Plumer Paige, machinist, and one James Effe, scale manufacturer, to wit: "the lots of ground situated and being in the said Fief Nazareth, said lots being contiguous and bearing respectively the Numbers one, two, three, and four upon the plan representing the said property, annexed to the deed of sale hereinafter mentioned, and also the Numbers one hundred and seventy-three, one hundred and seventy-four, one hundred and seventy-five, and one hundred and seventy-six upon the plan of the said Fief Nazareth, bounded in front by Wellington Street, on the rear by the property of McNaughton and Cooper or their representatives, on one side by George Street and on the other side partly by Prince Street and partly by the property of the heirs McShan, containing one hundred and forty-two feet and four and a-half inches in front on Wellington Street, and thence ninety-six feet on George Street, thence turning at a right angle one hundred and ninety-two feet from George Street to Prince Street, thence seventy feet and four inches on Prince Street, thence at a right angle forty-eight feet, thence again at a right angle, seventy four feet and five inches, thence five feet three inches and finally thence to Wellington Street above mentioned, twenty seven feet and two inches, the whole English measurement, with two blacksmith shops and furnace, steam house and boiler, and other buildings thereon erected."

And the said "Les Dames Religieuses Secours Hospitaliers de St. Joseph de L'Hotel Dieu de Montreal," allege that by deed made and passed before Mtes. L. R. Lacoste and his colleague, Notaries, at Montreal aforesaid, on the twenty-eighth day of February eighteen hundred and forty-nine, Bard Plumer Paige, of the said City of Montreal, Machinist for good and valuable consideration, to wit, the commutation of the above described lots, did create and constitute an annual and perpetual rent of eight rounds eight shillings on a capital of one hundred and forty pounds, currency, in favor of the said "Dames Religieuses Secours Hospitaliers de St. Joseph de L'Hotel Dieu de Montreal," said rent to become due and exigible on the first day of October in each year and to be redeemable at all times by the debtor or his successors, upon his or their paying the said capital sum of one hundred and forty pounds, currency, and all arrears of rent then due, and in order to secure the payment of the said rent and of the capital thereof, the said Bard Plumer Paige, in and by the said deed hypotheicated in favor of the said "Dames Religieuses Secours Hospitaliers de St. Joseph de L'Hotel Dieu de Montreal" the lots of land above described.

The said Petitioners moreover represent that at a date posterior to the making and passing of the above mentioned deed, to wit, on or about the twenty-second day of January eighteen hundred and sixty-three, by deed passed before Mtes. Smith and his colleague Public Notaries at Montreal, the said lots of land and dependencies were sold by the Assignees to the estate of the said Bard Plumer Paige, then an Insolvent to Wyman B. S.
