Radical Reforms on the Land Question Gain America-Royal Bickerings-A Notorious Spendthrift.

LONDON, Jan. 20.—The correspondent of the N. Y. Sun writes:—In England the speeches of Mr. Chamberlain indicate that he has come to the conclusion that the doctrines of radical re-form on the land question have taken a hold so deeply that every astate politician must count upon them as potent factors in future combina-tions. The landlords of Scotland voluntarily of-fered terms to their tenants which they would fered terms to their tenants which they would have resisted to the death one short year ago, and the meetings of the unemployed, which have now become common, indicate that general hunger is ready to take command, demanding great lative and social changes. In France the ord is more apparent than any concentration of energy on the remedy—there are no less than 300,000 people out of employment in that country. In on the remedy—there are no less than 300,000 people out of employment in that country. The Germany, Bismarck acknowledges that the persent duration of working hours leaves the mechanic a slave, and the Chancellor asks in desmechanic as leaves and the Chancellor asks in desmechanic as slave, and the Chancellor asks in desmechanic as slave, and the Chancellor asks in desmechanic asks in desmechanic as slaves. pair for some one to propose a remedy.

NO MORE APPEALS TO AMERICA. In answer to a question as to the condition of the people of Ireland, Mr. William O'Brien, editor of United Ireland, said:—

"The prospects of the Irish peasantry were never better than they are at the present moment. There have been many winters before this when it has required desperate means to get food and fuel. Thank God that is over. The Irish people are now so situated that they can take care of themselves and each other can take care or themselves and each other, and that is about all they have ever asked. Come what may, there will be no more famines in Ireland to appeal to the benevolence of the rest of the world. The farmers have learned the lesson taught for so many years by Charles Parnell that they must secure for themselves and for their children a decent means of support. They are as a rule striving to support themselves properly. The landlords now recognize the fact that the support of the family is the first charge upon the rental of a farm, and their claims upon the farm are gradually slipping away from them. Their interest in the farms is worth but little now, and it is decreasing year by year.

"The level of comfort in Irish farmers' homes has been distinctly raised within the past few years, and Ireland will never again be compelled to go cap in hand to ask. America or any other Power to keep her people from starving."

The affairs of the Royal Family still engage a good deal of attention, and there is a wide-spread impression that at this moment there is an amount of quarrelling and ill-feeling beyond the ordinary average in even royal circles. Thus it is universally remarked that the bridegroom of the Princess Beatrice has not received the congratulations of the Prince of Wales nor the Duke of Edinburgh, and the resentment of the young lady is indicated by her absence from the repointings over the coming of age of the Prince's son. The young Prince's youthful sister, the Princess Louise of Wales, got her first dinner dress on the occasion of her brother's majority. The materials were a skirt of white satin me reilleux and a tunic of a new material called

AN HEREDITARY LEGISLATOR.

The death of the Earl of Aylesford has not attracted much notice, and the notice is unusually unfriendly. A Radical journal points out that there were no less than three acts of Parliament for the purpose of raising money on his estate, that by the first two he raised $1,950,000, and by the third $200,000; that these two sums, with a rent roll of $150,000 a year, represent an expenditure of $3,750,000 in the course of a few years, "and yet," adds this journal, "this man was an hereditary legislator at twenty-three years of age."

A FIEND IN FEMALE FORM

CUTS UP HER HUSBAND'S BODY AND FREDS HIS FLESH TO HOGS-REVOLTING DE-TAILS OF THE CRIME.

Urica, Jan. 20. Additional particulars of the horribio Herkiner County murder state that Mrs. Druse, after compelling the boy Gates to shoot her husband, fired several more shots herself, and then clubbed him with an axe while he was saying, "D u't, Roxy." She then cut his head off and made the boy get a straw tick his head off and made the boy get a straw tick and put it in the parlor, on which she cut the body up. The remains were cremated, with the assistance of her daughter, and the rest of the day was given up to burning the body and clothing. They boiled the body and fed the flesh to hogs and burned the bones. The boy says the woman cut her husband's head off and put it first in the stove. The boy acted as fireman, and had a terrible time destroying evidences of the crime. The inquest will be continued on Monday. Willie Druse, son of the rividences corroburated the confession of the murderess, corroborated the confession of the boy Gates about the shooting of Druse, the burning of his body, and the burial of the bones. The remains found have been identified as human bones.

THE QUEBEC CONTRACT.

QUEEEC, Jan. 21.—The angry discussion between Messrs. Chas. Langelier & Benjamin Trudel in the columns of the Nonvelliste a nd L'Electeur still continues, apparently increasing in intensity. The last edition of the Nouvelliste contains the text of agreement as made by Mr. Chas. Langelier as follows:—"With reference to the contract to be given on the 15th May, 1883, on the Quebec water supply, we, the undersigned, agree to the following:—Upon the award of the said contract to Mr. Beemer, contractor, of Montreal, Mr. C. O. Perrault, of Montreal, binds himself to pay over to Mr. Chas. Langelier, of Quebec, advecate, the sum of $15,000 in the following manner, viz. :- Two thousand dollars within two weeks after the said contract is signed and acknowledged by all parties interested. The balance, viz: $13,000, to be paid to said Charles Langli r on a prorata scale as the work progresses and out of the sum received upon duly approved estimates. It is specially stipulated that this sum of $15,000 will cover Mr. Langelier's services and all other contingencies from the beginning of the contract to its completion includes all extras which may be decided upon.
