gant strictures on the character of Irish Catholicity. Here, however, there were no Irish or Romanists to blame; and the worst of it is that the case we have mentioned, although the most aggravated instance of inhumanity exhibited during the terrible accidents that occurred to so many vessels even in comparatively sheltered situations, was by no means a solitary one. Most of the men who should have manned the Broad street Life Boat were not only drunk and incapable of rendering any assistance, but threatened to throw overboard the Coastguard men if they attempted to offer any assistance! Such a scene as this, we venture to assert, was never witnessed in this country, and we should hope, for the sake of humanity, is very rare in any other. Even some of the poor creatures whose bodies were cast on some of the poor creatures was bottles were cast on shore after the awful catastrophe of the Royal Charter, were subjected after death to the felonious search of the wreckers of the adjacent villages. The gold for which they had travelled so far and labored so hard, and which was indirectly the cause of their loss of life, was thus reft from their poor families or their representatives, and only for the presence of the militia, who were very promptly summoned, even worse outrages would have been committed. In the height of the famine in this country, when thousands were dying from absolute want, a vessel laden with Indian corn was cast ashore on the Southern coast in a populous district where the people were in a state of the utmost distress, and although there was much valuable property on board, not a single thing was taken out of the vessel by the poor people of the place but barely a little of the corn to keep themselves from actual starvation; and yet many of the English journalists seized the opportunity at once and attacked the character of the whole Irish nation, whom they did not besitate to characterise as naturally dishonest and mercilessly selfish.

THOMAS NEWHINGA:

LAKE DISTRICT-GUY FAWKES DAY IN ULVERSTONE. -Had it not been for the precautions and honest, straightforward and courageous conduct of Mr. Cooper, the Superintendent of Police here, the Catholic chapel would most certainly have been burnt down on Saturday evening last. During the long down on Saturday evening last. During the long periods of the Rev. Hugh McKeen's and the Rev. G. J. Morris' missionary career in Ulverstone, the rabble had been encouraged by some of the town tradesmen to kindle a bonfire every 5th of November before the chapel. Unmistakeable evidences of ill-nature was on these occasions manifested by the crowd. On the last 5th of November—in Mr. Morris's life—he ven-tured to remonstrate with the mob. They replied by derisive shouts, and by hurling tar-pots at him, and breaking the windows of his house. Only two years ago, the 5th of November was celebrated here by a ago, the still of the charlet space and the checked by the police, before the chapel-house. The Ulverstone superintendent of police, shortly after that, died; and last year the precautions of Mr. Gooper, his successor, effectually prevented (the first time I believe within the memory of any Ulverstone man) the kindling of bonfires in the town. Last Saturday, Mr. Cooper had taken the precaution to station one of his force near the Catholic chapel from 6 o'clock p.m. Towards ten o'clock, while the officer was thinking that there would be no further thought of disturbance, an ignited tar-barrel was sudden brought to the corner of the narrow street on which the side of the Catholic chapel abuts, and was thrown down close to the chapel wall. A crowd, chiefly composed of men, was instantly there, and one of the foremost, and seemingly the most interested, the son of a respectable tradesman of the town. The police-officer singly and for some time unaided, did his best to prevent the additional fuel that was cast from the mob upon the tar-barrel. The first show of fire in this quarter brought Mr. Cooper and his men. In the Market-street, while running, one of the rabble attempted to trip the Superintendent. This failed, and Mr. Cooper's presence soon cleared the chapel and the chapel-house of the mob. He and his men acted coolly but resolutely. One poor policeman was dreadfully cut and bruised. Happily, I um told, their coolness enabled the police to recognise some of the more active of the rabble. It is to be hoped that the magistrates will, by their conduct on the bench, effectually put an end to such dangerous and disgraceful exhibitions. A very respectable Catholic woman-the mother of a large family-ventured in face of the crowd to empty two or three buckets of water on the fire. She was pursued back to her little shop with cries of "No Irish! no Irish!" After three quarters of an hour, tranquillity was restored, and the only intimation of the affair remaining, were the black ashes, which, on the Sunday, close to the chapel wall, told the Catholics as they went to E. J. Horan, Bishop of Kingston. mass, of the folly of the mob of last night, and the malice of the few who had incited them.

SERMON FRES .-- A story which went the round of Oxford " high tables" a few years since, relates how a poor woman having lost her husband, requested the "parson" to preach the usual eloge. He kindly expressed his consent, adding that his charge was two guinens. "Oh, your reverence," was the answer, "I be a poor widow woman, and cannot space so much money." "Well," said the parson in less bland accents, "it is contrary to my usual rule to take less, but I don't mind obliging an old parishioner in trouble and so will say only one guinea." "Ah, Sir, but the gude man has left me next to nothing, and there will be his funeral to pay for, and what not, and sure, too, you'll be having the burial fees; can't ye do it for ten shillings?" "Yes I'll do it, was the angry reply, "but it will be the greatest stuff you ever heard in your life."—Universal Review, for November.

The causes of England's unpopularity with France at the present moment have, this week, received very copious discussion amongst the French themseves, and several able writers in the Siccle and Patrie have undertaken our championship. Alas! we cannot greatly congratulate ourselves on the particular quarter in which our defenders have appeared, and still less so when we find them saying, as they do, that they owe their first inspirations of liberty and free-thought, i.e. infidelity and revolution, to England. This is not the ground taken by Montalembert, when he is our apologist. As to the causes of the present irritation against us, one of the chief, we fear, is found in the attitude taken up by our Government, or rather a small portion of it, on the Italian question. Our Foreign Secretary is bent on throwing the whole moral weight of Britain into the scale of partisanship with the revolted Governments; a course which must inevitably end in the discomfiture of himself, and the neutralisation of England's influence abroad. The opinion of a great country obviously counts for very little where it is clearly understood that she is resolved under no circumstances whatever to back that opinion by an exertion of her physical strength. Assuredly the bitterest enemy of Lord John Russell could not wish to see him placed otherwise than he is at the present moment; and our astute Premier, if he retain a memory of old grudges, must eye with a grim satisfaction the career his colleague is pursuing. And yet Lord John is not reckless, In his reply to the Mortara deputation last week, his language was, for him, guarded and moderate. He dared not, even he, commit his Cabinet to intervention; and for once we were thankful that he held office. Another cause of uncasiness is binted at in the following paragraph from the Times Constantinople letter, dated Nov. 2, and published last Thursday :- " The on dit of the day in Pera is, that the stoppage of the works of the Suez Canal has been made the subject of an explicit and somewhat disagreable note from the French to the English Government." It is certain that the French are indignant at the persistent opposition of this country to this favourite scheme of theirs. A rumour prevailed in the city, on Thursday, that the Emperor had insisted to Lord Cowley on the carrying out of the Hatti-scheriff of the Porte, which authorised the construction of the Canal; and had intimated in language as calm and conciliatory in tone as Morning Advertiser would discover in its occurrence it was decided in import, that any further delay demonstrative proof of the justice of their late elements trucked a casus belli against Turkey, which, of course, involves England. If this rumour contain any particle of truth, it is due to the extreme improba-bility of France in her present temper, relinquishing in complaisance to England, the project of the Suez Canal. It is a strange thought, and one hard (especially for Catholics) to realise, that we are on the brink (according to the opinion of so many) of war, with a great country, our nearest neighbor and our ally, with whom we have lived so long on terms of friendly intimacy. The Times, for reasons of its own continues fomenting, with all its power, the ill-feeling between the two countries. One of its assertions is certainly false—that the French Clergy desire war, and that the religious organs advocate it .-Weekly Register.

MESSES. PERRY DAVIS & Son :- Having used your PAIR KILLER for two years, I find it to be the best medicine for what it is recommended for that I have ever used. I feel thankful for the benefit I have received from it. I have been troubled with dyspepsia for ten years, and tried to no benefit. But us soon as I got to using your PAIN KILLER I found relief, and by the use of it am entirely cured. For chills and fever or congestive chills, it is the best medicine I have ever used. I have used it for a great many complaints, and it has never yet failed in giving immediate relief. CHAS. L. GANGH.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak, and poor. Being in the circulation, it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, dis-ordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venercal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of Him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, cruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently, vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this serofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, of all the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous; their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this every where prevailing and fatal malady. It is com-bined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as Emprive and Skin Diseases, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose, or Envirelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Rlains and Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, RHEUMATISM, SYPHILITIC and MERCURIAL DIS-EASES, DROPSY, DYSPERSIA, DEBILITY, and, indeed, all Complaints arising from Vitya-TED OR IMPURE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital finid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills, FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search, and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanae, pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, pleased to infinish graits my American America, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costicc-ness, Heartburn, Headache arising from disordered Stomach, Nausca, Indigestion, Pain in and Maried Inaction of the Bowels, Fictaliney, Loss of Appe-tite, Janualice, and other kindred complaints, arising from a low state of the body or obstruction merons are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons pub-licly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its other medicine of its kind is ton apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections polynomery organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and pro-duced cures too numerous and too remarkable to forgetten.
