Even Song.

Soft, soft fades the gold in the sunset sky,
Night stoops, and sleep for the world is nigh,
Rest, rest, O weary and burdened heart,
Dwell from thy cares afar apart;
Dream not of strife nor storm.
Safe be thy sleep and warm,
Rest, sweetly rest,
Dream, sweetly dream.

Deep, deep grows the dusk of the dark'ning sky,
Faint, faint blows the breeze from the mountains high,
Slow, slow flies the bird to her nestlings' home,
Night with her hosts is come, is come.
Win's spreading o'er thee,
Heaven's angels near thee,
Deep, deeper sleep,
Dream, deeper dream.
