

A Wise Elephant

"Gunda" in the New York Zoo, has been taught to do many tricks that delight spectators. These pictures are published by courtesy of Dr. W. T. Hornaday, of the New York Zoological Society.

Rocky Mountain Goats

In the New York Zoo the flock has been given access to the roof of the barn by means of steep runways of planks.

Transporting Alligators

The removal of alligators from one house to another, made necessary by their growth, was a difficult task for the Zoo officials.
