

BY THE SAME AUTHOR. NEW AND ENLARGED EDITION.

The Fruit of the Spirit

By the VEN. W. J. ARMITAGE, M.A., PH.D.

RECTOR OF ST. PAUL'S, AND ARCHDEACON OF HALIFAX, N.S.

With Introductory Note by the Rev. W. H. GRIFFITH THOMAS, D.D.,
Principal of Wycliffe Hall, Oxford.

From the Press of MARSHALL BROS., Keswick House, Paternoster Row,
London, AND OF ALL BOOKSELLERS.

His Grace, the late ARCHBISHOP OF TORONTO, Primate of all Canada, writes :

"Your valuable book. . . . I feel sure that I will find it very useful."

The BISHOP OF NOVA SCOTIA :

"I have read it with great pleasure. The subject is a most interesting one, ably and comprehensively treated."

The Right Rev. FREDERICK COURTNEY, D.D., New York :

"Good, sound, helpful, spiritual ; likely to be very useful."

The Rev. R. A. FALCONE, D.D., Litt.D., President of Toronto University :

"I am sure it will be very much treasured by a large number of people, and cannot fail to help them."

Rev. Canon VROOM, D.D., Professor of Divinity in King's College, Windsor, N.S. :

"I have no doubt many of the Clergy will find it helpful in the preparation of addresses on the subject."

The Hon. H. S. BLAKE, K.C., Toronto :

"I like the book. I do not think that the Church sufficiently proclaims the person, power, and work of the Third Person of the Trinity. I therefore believe that it will be very useful at this time and will be helpful to many."

The Rev. Dr. REXFORD, Principal of the Montreal Diocesan College :

"I am sure that it will prove very helpful in deepening the spiritual life."

The Rev. Canon O'MEARA, LL.D., Principal of Wycliffe College, Toronto :

"The gracious working of the Spirit as touching the formation of Christian character is dealt with in a most interesting and helpful manner."

The Rev. DYSON HAGUE, M.A., London, Ontario :

"It is admirable in every way."

The Rev. Canon COPE, D.D., Rector of St. Paul's Church, and Professor of Dogmatic Theology in Wycliffe College, Toronto :

"The style is concise, lucid and attractive. The pages abound in apt quotation and helpful illustration. You have added one to the number of devotional books which really help and interest. The subject is especially timely."

The late Professor A. V. G. ALLEN, D.D. of the Cambridge Theological School :

"Its merit is out of all proportion to its size. I have found it most interesting and helpful. It is a practical treatise on Christian character, clear and discriminating."

Church Work :

"This valuable contribution to the literature of the subject . . . deeply spiritual yet practical."

The Presbyterian Witness :

"The theme of the book is that lovely, beautiful and blessed cluster of perennial fruit growing abundantly in the Lord's Garden. Gems of choice quotations flash on many pages, and well-selected illustrative incidents feather many an arrow."

The Wesleyan :

"It furnishes a strong incentive to a life of practical godliness. A prayerful perusal of this volume cannot fail to interest and benefit the reader."

The Life of Faith :

"The teaching is practical, spiritual and illuminating in a high degree."

The Maritime Baptist says :

"We welcome the book as a real contribution to devotional Christian literature. It may be read with equal appreciation and profit by Churchmen and Non-Churchmen."

The Canadian Churchman :

"We heartily commend this little book to the diligent study of all Christians of every name."

The Rev. Principal MILLER, D.C.L., in the Editorial Correspondence of The Westminster :

"It makes an excellent manual for devotional reading. The chief Christian graces are treated in clear, well-written style and are expressed with the fervour of conviction."

The Rev. Professor JAS. DENNEY, D.D., of Glasgow, says :

"I am sure it will prove useful to any who are in quest of help in the devotional study of the Bible, or in the culture of the spiritual life."