Adequate Supply of Teachers Will Soon Be Forthcoming

Annual Report of Department of Education Expresses That Belief—More Than a Million Dollars Spent in Education in 1911 in Excess of 1910.

The report of the minister of education for 1911, which was presented to the legislature yesterday, deals especially with the supply of teachers, agricultural training, and the cost of education. The average salary of male teachers throughout the province has advanced from $680 to $711, an increase of $31. The average salary of female teachers increased from $442 to $483, an increase of $41. In urban schools the average salary for men is $1088, for women $665. In rural schools male teachers receive an average salary of $508, and female teachers $431, as compared with $484 and $399 respectively the previous year. The teachers' union normal school training are steadily replacing those with third-class certificates. The normal schools are well attended, the number of pupils admitted in 1911 being 1034. More certificated teachers graduated last year than in any previous year. There were thirteen model schools in 1911 with an average attendance of 35, a proof, says the report, "that the superior advantages of the normal schools, with the higher professional grades they ensure, and the prospects of better salaries, attract students in large numbers." The demand for Ontario teachers in the west continues and employment in the occupations is readily found owing to the normal training. The belief is expressed that, under existing conditions, an adequate supply of teachers will be forthcoming in a short time. The attendance of pupils in certain sections of the province is unsatisfactory and measures to increase the truancy law are recommended.

Agricultural Courses.
 The agricultural courses in connection with high schools in the province were held in 1911, two in New Ontario. The appointment of Mr. S. E. McCready of the Agricultural College as director of elementary agricultural education and the superintendent of school gardens is expected to produce results in the practical application of agriculture in rural schools. The short courses at the Guelph College for normal trained teachers are being continued and are bearing fruit. Mr. McCready sums up the plan now in force as follows: "To promote the work of teachers in the practical application of Guelph, material is sent for gardening purposes, special grants are paid both to trustees and teachers, especially in the district agricultural representatives, and the teachers assisted by bulletins, and instruction sheets."

Million Increase.
 The amount spent upon public and separate schools in 1911 was $9,848,202, an increase of about $1,200,000 over the previous year. The legislature contributed about 9 per cent of the total amount. The sources of the expenditures upon rural schools are:
 Legislative grants, $27,736; municipal grants, $1,490,487; raised by trustees, $1,213,815; other sources, $232,372.
 The total expenditure on high schools and collegiate institutes was $1,636,166, of which $1,048,038 went for salaries. The highest salary paid a high school teacher was $3500. The average salary for principals was $1522, an increase of $63. The total expenditure on primary and secondary schools was $11,000,000, toward which the legislature contributed $51,268. The province expends over 25 per cent of its total expenditures for all purposes on education. This is compared with 19 per cent in New Brunswick, 23 per cent in Nova Scotia, and 14 per cent in Manitoba. In 1911 the legislative grants to education in New Ontario were $190,000, and the policy of advancing money, upon inspectors' recommendations, for erecting school buildings in the north was continued. For this purpose $7000 was spent.

Free Libraries.
 The free public libraries in Ontario number 131 with an income of $310,153. The number of readers was 143,764, and the books issued 2,753,420. To April, 1911, Mr. Andrew Carnegie contributed $1,336,500 toward library buildings in Ontario. The first professional school for training librarians in this province was held during 1911, and was successful. The minister of education announced that during 1912 the departmental and matriculation examinations will all be held in June, so as to avoid the heat experienced by candidates last July.

Lindsay Town League.
 LINDSAY, March 1.—The league hockey in Lindsay finished its schedule last night with two first-class contests. The first game the Grand Rapids defeated the collectives by a score of 2-1. The Olympians also won from the McCarty medals and the Ferbert cup. They did not lose a single game during the entire season. The players are: Newton, goal; Preston, point; Motheral, cover; Hutton, rover; Sylvester, center; Newson and Mercer, wings; McMahon, spare. The class of hockey played in this league this winter was considered to be an intermediate and out of the bunch Lindsay expects to find material for a first-class O.H.A. outfit for next year.

Cartoons and Sketches

The Sunday World employs more men and ink artists than any paper in Canada. These include the well-known Sam Hunter, Canada's greatest cartoonist, Lou Skuce, an illustrator who takes second place to none, Nell Brinkley, inventor of girl studios; Bud Fisher, creator of Mutt and Jeff, and there's a host of others.

TROTTLING RACES AT THE FALLS.
 NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Feb. 28.—The new racing track that cost several thousand dollars at Niagara Falls, Ont., and which was denied a running race license last year, will see life again this coming summer, when a four days trotting meet will take place. This is one of the best half mile tracks in Canada, being nicely graded on the ends with long stretches, having new grandstand with one hundred private boxes and seating capacity of two thousand chairs. A paddock for hitching and un hitching with two hundred and fifty box stalls on the grounds, and a street car service will be run into the grounds. The new management, Messrs. Matheson of Tillsonburg, Harry Williams, the president and A. J. Cary, secretary, are both of Niagara Falls, and will manage the meet. The management will not run the meet for the purpose of gambling, but to give the people of this vicinity the opportunity of seeing the fastest light harness horses in the world perform. There will be six two thousand dollar stakes races, with class races, also, including race each day, with amateur and gentlemen's road races. This track is in the Canadian circuit and will give the largest purse ever offered in Canada. The track being a fast one anticipated records will be broken. The meet will take place July 29.

England Wins Fifth Test.
 LONDON, March 1.—The test match was finally finished to-day on a hot wicket. The Australian eleven only added 29 runs to the last seven wickets, scoring 22 runs. England won by 71 runs. The scores were: England, 204 and 215. Australia, 105 and 92.
