South Africa's Defeat. South Africa's Defeat.

The role of prophet is generally a thankless one, but, as was predicted last week, Africa suffered their fourth defeat in the imperial tournament, Australia winning the match and the "rubber" by 10 wickets. The scores were South Africa 263 and 173, while Australia made 390 and 48 for no wicket. Charles Kelleway, the clubmate of Warren Bardsley. may not be a delight to the eye, or make in any way a sensuous appeal to the ideas, but he is a splendid safety batsman, of the character that one might expect test matches in Australia to develop. Neither the lapse of time nor the opinion of the crowd weighs with him in the least.

He is a man with a mission—to wear away the strength of the bowlers, to away the strength of the bowiers, to extract the sting from their deliver-ies, and incidentally to make as many runs as he can without risk. His value

St. James vs. Simpsons.

A regrettable incident in connection with the City League match between St. James' Cathedral team and Simpson's occurred on Saturday at Trinity College grounds. Simpsons batted first, sending in Saxton and Greene to the bowling of Ellis and Hall. Ellis commenced the attack from the north end and Hall from the south took the second over. On the third ball of his over. Hall was no-bailed by Mr. Grace, Simpson's umpire, who was standing at square leg. He declared that Hall was throwing, and, altho the St. James' team and the crywd of spectators present recognize the square-leg umpire's legal right to no-ball Hall, yet it would have been better "cricket," in its widest sense, for him to have conferred with the other umpire. The St. James' men naturally felt very incensed at the umplire's arbitrary and hasty manner, and the unatch had an abrupt termination. The committee of the City League, second division, will consider the whole facts and decide as to a replay. It should be stated that the Simpson's men were not pleased at the indecisive result altho Mr. Flavelle, their captain, was the first to leave the field. St. James vs Simpsons.
