

PERMIT SMOKING NO BUILDINGS ON AT THE JAIL CITY'S NARROW STREETS

Authorities Give the Prisoners an Allowance of Tobacco Every Day, But There Are Restrictions as to When it Must Be Used—Want Civic Lodging-Houses.

Rather than have the men committed to their charge suffer from a needless hardship, the authorities at the jail farm now permit all the prisoners to smoke. A moderate allowance of tobacco is provided daily to every prisoner who desires it, and pipes are also given gratis. The men, however, are only granted this privilege in certain hours, and those in charge make it distinctly understood that it must not occur during the working hours. It is expected that about 100 additional prisoners will be removed to the farm in about a week's time. Already there are signs of congestion at Toronto jail, but the completion of the new buildings in the upper Toronto district will alleviate the conditions very materially. These buildings are practically ready for occupation now and the men are expected to be transferred by the end of the week. One of the most gratifying features of the industrial farm is the vast improvement noticed in the health of all prisoners confined there. Many of the men are serving merely a 30 or 60 day sentence, and in the majority of cases, because of alcoholism. On arriving at the farm, they are often in poor health, but the change of air, the wholesome food and the regular hours work wonders. Men have been known to gain 10 pounds in 30 days, and in every case they leave in much better physical condition than they entered. Advertise Dealers.

In his latest bulletin, Dr. Hastings gives notice that on Oct. 30, a list of those dairies supplying milk up to above the required standard will be published. This is a part of the health department's campaign to insure a pure supply of milk, and the M. O. H. believes that a little publicity will bring excellent results. While it is certain that the careless dealer, the doctor contemplates that it will benefit those who make an effort to sell pure milk which is up to the standard. Dr. Hastings makes another appeal for municipal lodging houses. One year ago, he points out, it was recommended that a civic committee be appointed to deal with this problem, but this has not been done. In his bulletin he reviews the situation as follows:

Civic Lodging Houses.

"One of the most important housing needs is better lodging house accommodations," says the bulletin. "While the existing so-called lodging houses have been improved during the past two years, they are, as a whole, unsatisfactory and not nearly large enough to meet the existing demands. Our floating population is growing steadily larger year by year—new citizens are coming in daily from the old world, who require temporary accommodation, and we are doing nothing to provide for these people. "Toronto requires model lodging houses similar to those in Great Britain, where the newcomer can get a bath, a clean bed and a single apartment for ten cents, breakfast for eight cents, and a dinner for twelve cents. They are conducted on the best sanitary principles."

Teravul Street.

That Teravul street be widened to 85 feet only from College street northward is a compromise scheme suggested by Ald. Rowland, which the alderman will move at the next meeting of the council. The widening of this street is to be dealt with at the meeting of the committee on works this afternoon, when it is expected that strong deputations will be on hand from the business and trade and the civic guild to urge that the original recommendation of 85 feet be carried out.

Aldermen for Hamilton.

The city council have been invited to spend next Wednesday in Hamilton as guests of the civic dignitaries of that city, and it is likely the invitation will be accepted.

Premier's Assurance That Britons Are Not Decadent Inspires Some Barbed Wire Comment.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—(C. A. P.)—Today's Truth has some pungent comment regarding Premier Borden's assurance that England is not decadent. "It is strange," declares the journal, "that a colonial premier thinks it necessary to warn his fellow-citizens that we have to thank the press for proclaiming the degeneracy of our nation. There is no degeneracy of our nation during the last ten years."

Board of Control Instructed City Architect to Issue No Permits for Any Structure on a Street Less Than 40 Feet in Width—May Extend St. Anne Street.

No building may in the future be erected upon streets 40 feet or less in width according to the board of control's instructions to the city architect's department yesterday. Even in the case of a private street no permits are henceforth to be issued unless the thoroughfares are of an approved width. The matter came before the board as a result of an anonymous letter stating that it was the intention of certain builders to erect houses on Rolston avenue, a street which is only 15 feet in width. The information, however, was at variance with the facts. The architect's department explained that no permits had been issued in connection with this street and no applications had been received.

No Kiosks on Streets.

The application of Degrys & Co. to erect kiosks on a number of the city streets was refused by the board. The firm supplied blue prints showing that they proposed to place circular-shaped structures on the streets which would be equipped with thermometers, barometers, instruments for recording the wind pressure, etc. Revenue was to be derived from these by means of advertisements. The board, however, believed that they would both obstruct traffic and be unsightly.

Employer's Concert.

The Toronto Civic Employees' Benevolent Society invited the board to occupy a special box at their 24th annual concert to be held in Massey Hall on Oct. 8 and the controllers decided to accept.

Hospital Grant.

Dr. Hastings' request for an additional appropriation of $2000 to complete the furnishing of the new wing at the Isolation Hospital was not granted by the controllers who wanted further information regarding the previous expenditure.

POLITICS DOES NOT INTEREST ALL

Other Subjects of Equal and Greater Moment to Many Who Are Still Patriotic.

This being what is known as presidential year, it would seem that everybody is talking politics. A man usually considers that the only way he can show his patriotism is to take an interest in the political parties. While this is not correct, it is true that many people are still patriotic and still not particularly interested in politics as a subject for discussion or as a means of showing their patriotism. Abraham Lincoln said, "No library is complete without two certain books—The Bible and Shakespeare; hardly a quotation used in literature that is not taken from one of these works."

Lincoln was very much interested in politics but did not let it take his attention away from the study of the Bible as well as the study of the works of literature. One of the leading topics of discussion at the present is the distribution of the new illustrated Bible by the World. Everybody wants to know how it is possible to distribute such a magnificent volume on the terms explained in the certificate printed on another page today's issue. There is no secret about it.

The only possible way to do it is by taking advantage of quantity of production as it was necessary for the publishers to do in supplying the demand created by leading newspapers throughout the country. There are many editions of other Bibles all good in their way, but none of them contain the beautiful pictures printed in with the type and each one illustrating a particular subject. In addition to these wonderful pictures are numerous full-page color plates from the famous "Pictorial Bible." These, together with copious marginal references, educational self-pronouncing text and colored maps make this a volume of rare educational value.

While the $5.00 volume is by far the most magnificent work of its kind ever printed, there is also a three-dollar volume, exactly the same, except for the binding, which is in cloth. The two bindings are also furnished in the Catholic edition, in which the illustrations consist of full page plates and maps, approved by the Church, without the "Pictorial" and text pictures.

FORGE CHINA TO ACCEPT TERMS

If Loan is Negotiated With Private Bankers, Support of Governments Will Be Withheld.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—(Can. Press.)—Representatives of the so-called six-power syndicate and of the new independent Chinese loan of $50,000,000 both assert that their own positions are impregnable. The six-power bankers today announced that the ministers of their powers in Peking have been instructed to express disapproval of the new loan, and they also declared that China has liberty, pending a definite closing of the negotiations with the six-power syndicate, to make outside arrangements for the loan. The Chinese government does not want to do so at their own risk and without the support of the governments interested.

China informally approached the old syndicate during the present month, but the banking group will not reopen negotiations unless assured of China's sincerity. The independent syndicate, on the other hand, scoffs at the suggestion that the British Government will ask China to repudiate the contract made under the authority of the Chinese premier and minister of finance.
