Drifts were returned to the mail boxes. About 50 opened letters have been found.

Honored the Chief Ranger. Court Abstinence, No. 7135, A. O. F., honored Bro. John Boyd, its chief ranger, last evening, by presenting him with a handsome emblematic gold pin. Bro. P. G. Butt made the presentation, and in doing so spoke feelingly of the services rendered the court in the past by Bro. Boyd. The recipient expressed his gratitude to his fellow Foresters for their kindly act, and expressed a hope that he would continue to do his duty, by his acts and devotion to the court in the future.

OVERCROWDED STREET CARS. It is no doubt true, as the Street Railway officials say, that one great cause of overcrowding is the persistent refusal of the public to use the trailers. The reason for the preference of the motor car over the trailer is obvious. The latter is a decidedly second-class affair, and most passengers as instinctively avoid the closed trailer as they would a second-class coach on a railway train. Let the company build an up-to-date trailer, after the pattern of its latest motor cars, and they will find no disinclination on the part of the people to use it. The company in its own interests cannot too soon get rid of these relics of the old horse car regime. Besides, the agreement that "cars be of the most approved design for service and comfort," etc.

THE GRAVENHURST SANITARIUM. The Gravenhurst Consumptive Sanitarium has been running a little more than four months. Up to Jan. 1 last forty-five patients had been received, coming from all over Ontario, and representing different ages and occupations. According to the official report the patients have wonderfully improved under the regime of the institution. The gains in weight, as seen in the table printed elsewhere, speak volumes for the climate of Northern Ontario and the curative influences of the sanitarium. Before a thoroughly reliable estimate of the institution can be obtained we must, of course, have further details as to the condition of the patients, when arriving and at other periods, and we must also have the statistics of a larger number of cases. But so far the results obtained at the sanitarium are most encouraging. The World has all along maintained that we have right here in Ontario a climate that cannot be surpassed by that of any other country for the cure of pulmonary troubles, and the assertion that the climate of Ontario will be found better adapted for the cure of pulmonary troubles than the climate of the most noted health resorts of the South. And there are good reasons for this should be the case. Snow and frost are death to bacteria and disease-producing germs. The further south we go the more numerous and destructive do we find the invisible army that preys upon the human system. When we come up north to Canada we find that for four or six months in the year the deadly army is buried under snow and held fast to the ground by the frost. The first report of the Gravenhurst sanitarium substantiates this theory. We believe before long physicians all over the world will recommend consumptives to go to snow-bound countries such as Canada.

Having made such substantial progress already, and having shown such wonderful results in the treatment of consumptives, the Gravenhurst sanitarium is sure to become one of the most popular institutions in the country. It is an institution that will appeal to all classes of the community, because

There are none of us who have not personal knowledge of the great waste of life caused by this most terrible of all diseases, consumption. The sanitarium will, we hope, demonstrate in a practical way that consumption is not necessarily a fatal disease, that as a matter of fact it is quite curable if treated during its earlier stages. We know of no form of charity that is worthy of more consideration at the hands of the people generally and of men of wealth especially than the institutions which Mr. Gage and the National Sanitarium Association have undertaken to erect in different parts of the Dominion. The one at Gravenhurst is particularly worthy of the support of the people of this province.

THE PACIFIC CABLE. The English press is again emphasizing the necessity that exists for the speedy construction of the proposed Pacific cable. The events now transpiring in the far East have brought this question home to the people of Great Britain as it has never been presented to them before. At the same time the feeling is becoming stronger in England and Canada and the other colonies united to contribute their quota towards the maintenance of the navy. This is a question that Canada must face in the immediate future. We cannot much longer expect to receive the protection of the British navy without contributing towards its support. We have not stopped to consider what our connection with Great Britain really means. Canada could never assert her independence in the North American continent, and in North America if she had not the prestige and power of an empire behind her. The Klondike would not long remain Canadian territory if it was not a part of the British Empire as the construction of the Pacific cable may be regarded both as a business proposition and as an Imperial and political measure. Regarded in either light the Dominion of Canada ought to approve of the project and lend a helping hand in securing its completion. It apparently rests with us to take the initiative. We do not see how Canada could better fulfill the duty it owes to the Empire than by taking steps to secure the construction of the proposed cable from Vancouver to Australia. Sir Sandford Fleming's recent article on the Pacific cable is very timely. He shows that the cable is not less desirable from a business than from an Imperial point of view. Less than half the traffic between New Zealand and Australia and Great Britain would make a Pacific cable self-supporting and profitable. The Federal Government ought to give its immediate attention to this question and invite the co-operation of Australia in carrying the project to an early completion.

To Prevent the Board of Control From Throwing Out Power Offers?

Controllers Strike Out Manufacturers' Committee Report—Architect Lennox Will Go to New York Saturday in Spite of Protest of Mayor-School Teachers' Petition Not Entertained—Grant Voted to Entertain British Artilleryists—The City Hall Yesterday.

The Board of Control yesterday afternoon struck a blow for the abolition of the Manufacturers' Committee, when they threw out its first report. The new committee's first recommendation was in the way of assuming more substantial prerogatives, in that it proposed to make the Assessment Committee a subordinate body, and to have the induction of manufacturers under its own as against the Board's supervision. The Controllers, with the exception of Ald. Leslie, thought they acted in the line of duty in rejecting the report.
