Last Sunday afternoon, while Sam Wing, a Celestial who conducts a laundry business at 100 Eim-street, was at Sunday school, somebody broke into his apartments above the store and stole a sum of money which he had saved up to pay his rent. He went out about 1 o'clock and on returning about 4 o'clock he found that a back window had been pried open and the place ransacked. The sum of $13 was missing from undermeath a mattress and $5 more from a table drawer. About two weeks ago Sam Wing lost $5 under similar circum-stances. Detective Harrison is investigating.

Just a Little Joke.

When Patrick Quinn, who lives at 386 East Front-street, awoke from his slumbers yesterday morning he found that his watch and chain were missing. A few hours later his wife discovered that her wedding ring was missing from her finger, and Quinn reported both alleged thefts to the police at the Wilton-avenue Station. Detective Forrest, who was instructed to make an investigation, learned that the disappearance of the valuables was the result of a joke on the part of other inmates of the house, and the matter was allowed to drop. The watch, chain and ring were found by the officer wrapped up in the bed clothing.
