THE GREAT PEACE RACE

Canucks Back From Russia Tell of Furious Campaign-Red Soldiers Good At First, Well Equipped and Officered, But Are Losing Morale.

London, July 4.—Canada's very latest fighting soldiers have arrived at Ripon, bearing triumphantly the shell case of the very last shot fired by Canadians. This interesting batch of fighters consists of the 16th Brigade, Canadian Artillery, which for the last six months has been assisting General Ironsides, commanding the fighting against the Bolshevists in Northern Russia.

The brigade sailed homeward at the end of the month. Roughly speaking it was divided up in four sections. This Canadian artillery has been assisting General Ironsides, and his mixed command of British, American and French, in operations over an area of some 200 miles. The whole brigade at Ripon today looked very fit, and was extremely humored and contented in spirit this week. Col. C. H. Sherman, Ottawa, commanded the brigade, the other officers including Major Arnoldi, Toronto; Lieut. J. Roberts, London, and Lieut. A. McCausland, St. Thomas. The brigade arrived at Archar el on October 1st, and within three days they were engaged.

London, July 4.—Officers and monoid of the Canadiar toops just back from Russia attempt to give some connected account of their experiences both of the country and of their enemy, but admitted the whole business was about as mixed as Russian affairs generally are.

Fighting, some maintain, was somewhat of guerilla fashion. Bolshevists, they say, had guns of superior range to our men. Regarding this, it should be said that the British authorities were solely responsible for arming the whole force. The Cana and sonly supplied personnel for their artillery. There were notable ratacks by 500 Bolshevists against 19 odd Canadian artillerymen who were holding a village. Fighting continued for nine hours, and the Canadians were obliged to abandon their hold, but eventually retook the place.

Fierce Fighting.

In January, there started a flerce desultory battle, which continued some two months, the enemy numbering about 6,000. Gen. Ironsides' force of around 1,500 included the 68th Battery of Canada. He was compelled to retreat 60 wounded, but leaving everything else.

The Canadian force for this campaign totalled 22 officers and 900 men. The casualties during the whole campaign was one officer and six others killed, and 20 wounded. The officer killed was Capt. Mowat of Campbelltown, and Col. Sherman handed to the Canadian Press a pathetic little account how he heard of Capt. Mowat being near his end and managed to reach him and pinned on his breast a military cross, which he had earned earlier in the expedition. Col. Sherman said the Bolshevists were well officered, and the men were good fightand 20 wounded. The officer killed was Capt. Mowat of Campbelltown, and Col. The trial is looked for this autumn. The trial is looked for this autumn, if it occurs, and steps for the kaiser's coon, if not already begun. London, July 3.-The former German emperor's guards at Amerongen have been increased, according to the Daily Mail correspondent, and his staff has been reduced. MAURETANIA DOCKS WITH FOUR THOUSAND TROOPS

Halifax, July 4.—The Cunard liner Mauretania arrived last night with nearly 4,000 returning troops, of whom about 1,200 were for Nova Scotia. Among the distinguished officers on board was Brig.-Gen, Brutinel of Montreal, who was in command of the machine gun company, and was the originator of the motor machine gun idea, which was adopted by the Allies. The disembarkation of the troops began immediately after the steamer docked at 11 o'clock, and the trains in waiting at the pier were dispatched as rapidly as possible.

Among the civilians on board was Premier W. F. Massey of New Zealand, whose wife and family also returned. Right Hon. Dr. Massep signed the peace treaty on behalf of New Zealand, and immediately thereafter took a motor car from Versallies to Havre, where he boarded a British destroyer and speeded for Spithead, where the Mauretania was waiting for him, and on which Mrs. Massey and family had embarked at Southampton. Sir Joseph Ward, treasurer of New Zealand, also was on board.

Holland Folk Are Not Inclined To Surrender the Ex-Kaiser.

BILL MUST ENTER DOCK

No Special Privilege in Event of His Trial Being in London.

London, July 4.—The only surprise of the report by Premier Lloyd George on the work of the peace conference to the House yesterday was the news that the former German emperor would be tried in London. The premier has a habit of launching news in speeches, a notable previous instance being his address in which he said that three submarines had been sunk in one day. The address came at a time when the submarines were the most menacing factor in the war situation.

A Well-Kept Secret.

The decision to bring the former emperor to London, with other prominent accused persons, had been a well-kept secret, and it is said Mr. George was prepared for the proposal. Holland has yet to be reckoned with, it is reported. Dutch public opinion has seemed to strongly support the kaiser's right of asylum there, and there are many predictions that Holland may refuse to give up the deposed monarch, and that the powers will not coerce her.

Great state trials in England, of which there have been none for many years, have been held: Westminster Hall; but it is not believed that William Hohenzollern will be given that honor. The procedure for his trial will be laid down by a commission which will be appointed, by, a committee which the Allies will soon set up to execute the provisions of the peace treaty. Five judges will be chosen by the British. American, French, Italian and Japanese Governments, and it is said they will constitute the court. In that event the Earl of Reading, lord chief justice, will sit for Great Britain, and Edward Douglass White, chief justice of the supreme court of the United States, is regarded as the logical choice of the American Government. Parliamentary gossip holds that the former emperor certainly should not be given a privileged position in court, but should be put in the dock like any other man charged with a crime.

The trial is looked for this autumn.

be a humiliation for Holland to surrender the former monarch at the demand would be untenable under the law, since the kaiser's case does not come under extradition treaties, and the charge of "a supreme offense against international morality and the sanctity of treaties is not covered by existing laws.

Press Satisfied.

With one or two exceptions, the morning newspapers expressed satisfaction with Premier Lloyd George's speech in the House yesterday. Several, including some most friendly to the premier, refer to its "defence" of the peace treaty, but there is a general agreement that he gave a good answer to those clamoring for more drastic terms, as well as those objecting to the oppressive features of the peace treat. The Laborite Herald alone sweepingly condemns the speech, asserting it to be unsatisfactory to most Labor and Liberal members of the House. The Liberal Daily News, however, while continuing to criticise certain terms of the treaty, says the validity of many of the premier's arguments is incontestable, and warmly praises his declaration of faith in the league of nations. Only a few comment on the announcement of the trial of the former German Vancouver. July 4.—At the end of the afternoon session of their convention yesterday, the G. W. V. A. elected Comrade W. P. Purney of Halifax president of the G. W. V. A. of Canada. This begins Comrade Purney's third term of office. The election of other officers of the association will take place this morning. The convention rose to its feet and cheered President Furney most enthusiastically. The president responded briefly.

Consideration of committee reports and the land settlement resolution occupied the time of the convention all afternoon. In addition to concurring in the principles of law and order, minimum wage legislation, old age, illness and unemployment insurance, improved conditions for labor, proportional representation, restriction upon immigratice and nationalization of aliens, equal opportunities for children, the convention passed clauses in the report of industrial commission disclaiming sympathy with factions controlled by the extremists who strive by all means to overthrow their institutions and breed discord and advocate riot or revolution. Other principles approved by the convention were: Public ownership of cold storage plants, the superannuation of a certain number of civil servants whose positions could easily be filled by returned soldiers, and a longer period of training in the vocational training system, with properly qualified craftsmen in charge of every department. only a few comment on the announcement of the trial of the former German emperor, saying that the Allies are honoring England's reputation for fair play, which must be lived up to.

Whether the bylaw will pass the council is another matter. It is being prepared by the city solicitor and the special railway committee at a special meeting of the latter body this afternoon. With one exception, the members of the special committee are opposed to it, but have no alternative but to obey the behest of the council and have it drawn in preparation for submission to the whole council on Monday night.

May Be Delay.

As an emergency measure the bylaw could be given its three readings at the one meeting, but in case an objection is raised to it, as almost certainly will happen, a two-thirds majority of the council will be required to finally pass it at the one meeting. If the necessary two-thirds majority is not obtained, the final reading will have to be deferred until a further meeting can be called, and as this would require the usual twenty-fout hours' notice, the bylaw could not be made operative in that event before Tuesday afternoon or evening.
