The president of the Canadian Intercollegiate League, E. H. McCarthy of Ottawa, not only attended the Varsity-Ottawa College game on Saturday, but played for his college on the half-line. Mr. McCarthy is an Ogdensburg boy, and is one of Rev. Father Stanton's finds. He is one of the mast popular presidents the league ever had.

The regular summer racing season of 1908 on this continent, fraught with many disappointments and much uncertainty, has only five more days to run. Here is the story of one of the longest horse races of the year, that took place Oct. II in Paris: To win the Prix Gladiateur is the great test of a stayer, for the distance of the race which was decided on Sunday at Longchamps is only a furlong short of four miles. Only five runners went to the post, and the outsider of the party was successful, altho the betting was very close. The winner Rabat Jole, is a 4-year-old horse by Launay, a son of The Bard, who has certainly imparted the gift of stamina to his descendants. His owner is the Comte Le Marols who bred him, but, his family being in mourning, the horse carried the colors of his trainer. M. P. Hanse. The race was worth $6000, added to an objet d'art valued at $2000. It was a desperate race between Rabat Joie and Kalisz, the former just winning by a head, so Kalisz, who is a son of the lately-deceased Perth, is also among the stayers, and there is certain to be competition for the stud services of these two horses when their turr careers are ended. Probably they will be bought by the government.

Tom Longboat refuses persistently to professionalize himself for a race with Alfle Shrubb, and the latter threatens to go clean daffy. After his campaign in Montreal the Englishman raced in Buffalo on Sunday, finishing up with a speech. In running costume he mounted the judges' stand platform and made a brief address, in which he challenged Tom Longboat for any part of $5000, and included in the defi all the distance professionals of the world. "I am sorry I went to Montreal," said Shrubb the other day, "for it tired me all out on the cars, and I was afraid I would not be able to do 'myself justice against the Buffalo trio. But I want to say, Longboat cannot run me too quickly for $1000, or anything he likes."

NEW YORK, Oct. 26,—(Special.)—At the annual meeting of the Eastern League, which convenes to-morrow, it is considered certain that President Powers will be returned to the presidency, altho he will be strongly opposed by George Stallings of the Newark Club and also the Buffalo Club. It is no secret that George Stallings would like to see Powers dethroned, and the opposition of A. B. Potter, the Buffalo president, has been known for years. Secretary Barnard of the Cleveland American League is talked of to succeed Powers. Not only is President Powers almost assured of re-election, but Powers almost assured of re-election, but Pimlico is such an historic spot that the authorities will brook no opposition. When the anti-betting law was passed in two different parts of this state with the object of building tracks. The promoters were notified that they could build their courses, but they would never be allowed to race. Still they raced because the folks in Baltimore enjoy the spring and autumn meetings and do not intend to have their sport marred by outsiders.
