MONDAY MORNING
Pastor Russell's Sermon
A FAMINE IN THE LAND—"I will send a famine in the land; not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the Lord." (Amos viii, 11.)
Pastor Russell of Brooklyn, N.Y., Tabernacle, preached on Sunday from the text, "A Famine in the Land."
He said: "This prophecy is fulfilled in our midst! Notwithstanding the fact that during the past century Bibles have been printed and circulated among the people by the million, and notwithstanding the fact that education has become general so that rich and poor, old and young, have the ability to read God's word, nevertheless we are in the midst of the very famine specified by the prophet. It seems almost incredible that we should be famishing now in the midst of our abundance. When our sanctified forefathers did not famish, the education was limited. The secret lies in the fact that increasing intelligence on every hand has awakened our reasoning faculties along religious lines, and the result is the gnawing of hunger in our hearts. Our hearts and our flesh cry out for a living and true God, and God does not furnish more just, more powerful, more loving. Feeling our own impotency, we more than ever feel our need of the Friend above all others with a love that sticketh closer than a brother's."
Consequently we cannot find the rest and refreshment and comfort of the Scriptures which our forefathers derived. Consequently the young men and the purest of heart in the world are repelled by the religion of the past as represented in the creeds of all denominations. They are hungry for the truth. They are thirsty for the refreshment which they need. They are intellectually more looking, wandering, from sea to sea, desiring the bread of life and the water of life. Scanning the creeds of all denominations they find them practically all alike in their respect to the theories of eternal reprobation and damnation for all except the elect, the saints. They are faint for lack of spiritual food and are seeking the spiritual life and health and examine the theology of India, the Buddhism of Japan and the Confucianism of China, seeking for some satisfying portion. These are in the trying portion of their lives. They are in the beaten paths of their day, so we may expect also to be hated without cause. They are in the trying portion of their lives. They are in the beaten paths of their day, so we may expect also to be hated without cause. They are in the trying portion of their lives. They are in the beaten paths of their day, so we may expect also to be hated without cause.
(1) They perceive that the teaching of the doctrines of purgatory and eternal torment has not had the beneficial influence upon mankind in all the sixteen centuries in which it has been preached. They fear that to deny these doctrines is to deny the God of the Bible. They fear that to deny these doctrines is to deny the God of the Bible. They fear that to deny these doctrines is to deny the God of the Bible.
(2) They fear also that a certain amount of discredit would come to themselves, because knowing that the Bible does not teach eternal torment, according to the Hebrew and Greek original, they secreted the knowledge from the people. They fear that this would discredit them with their hearers. Hence they still outwardly lend their influence to the doctrine of eternal torment, which they do not believe, and feel angry towards those because we teach the people the truth upon the subject, which they know will bring them hundreds of questions difficult to answer or dodge.
I ask you, dear readers, were you constrained to become children of God and to render to the Lord the homage and the obedience of your lives thru fear or thru love? I am not asking you whether you never have feared; but I am asking you what brought you to the point of consecrating your life to God? Surely, if you were not afraid of the consequences, there is a proper, godly fear, reverence, and that the scriptures declare it—"The fear (reverence) of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." (Psalm 111, 10). But this is not the fear of eternal torment, which tends to drive out love. How could we love or esteem or truly worship a God who punishes the eternal torment of His creatures from before their creation?

Miss Robertson's Recital.
That the recitals offered by the Conservatory School of Expression have the lost none of their popularity was evidenced Friday night, by the large audience that greeted Miss Helen B. Robertson, one of the senior pupils in the Conservatory Music Hall. Miss Robertson's charming manner and naturalness, and her clear, ringing voice, her friends, the clever work of the young reader found ample scope in a varied and well arranged program. Several of the numbers, "George in the Kitchen," "A Selection from Dickens' 'Old Curiosity Shop,'" and "Hugo's 'The Children of the Bonnet Rouge,'" were of a dramatic and pathetic character, and in them the reader appeared with splendid effect. A singularly beautiful lyric, "Hike and Seek," and Kipling's "L'Envoi" were rendered with a most sympathetic appreciation.

Why does a Stradivarius occupy such an exalted place among violins, when another, to all appearances the same, can be bought for a few dollars? One has the genius of the builder in it, while the other is but a lifeless shell—an imitation. It is the genius of the builder, alive in the Gourlay Piano, that compels the admiration of musicians everywhere throughout Canada.

ELEANOR ROBSON WEDS
Ceremony Took Place Quietly Ahead of Announced Time.
NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—August Belmont, sr., the banker and millionaire racehorse owner, and Miss Eleanor Robson, the actress, were unexpectedly married at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Miss Robson's house.
In a quiet ceremony, the announcement of their engagement, it was said that the marriage would not take place until some time in March. It became known Saturday that Miss Belmont and Miss Robson appeared late Friday night at the city hall and took out a marriage license, avoiding by the lateness of the hour the scrutiny of bridesmaids or ushers, and the list of guests was closely restricted to the immediate family and intimate friends. The bride was followed by her cousin, Miss Belmont, after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Belmont left for a trip thru the south. In March they will sail for the Mediterranean.
Mr. Belmont was a widower and is 57 years old. His first wife died in Paris in 1888, and they had three sons, August, jr., and two daughters, Miss Belmont and Miss Belmont. Miss Belmont is a clerk in his father's banking house, and now is attending an evening preparatory school. Miss Robson gave her age in taking out the marriage license as 31.
WOMEN TO ORGANIZE
Scheme on Foot to Unionize Factory and Restaurant Girls.
Is there going to be a general organization among women employees in the City of Toronto? A woman who is much interested in the welfare of her fellow-workers, and who is prepared to work for a living has arrived here from Buffalo and is trying to get as many girls and women interested as possible.
The idea, as explained to The World yesterday, was the organization of those girls known as the "factory girls," who include chiefly those employed in restaurants and factories. By carrying out such a scheme, it is believed, the conditions of the girls as to wages and hours will be much improved. It is figured that between fifteen hundred and two thousand girls are employed in the city, and that many of them are affected by such organization, and labor leaders have been approached for assistance. James Simpson has expressed his willingness to render any aid possible.
SOME INTERESTING AUTOMOBILE FIGURES.
The mechanical engineering laboratories of the School of Mines, Queen's University, Kingston, have just forwarded to the McLaughlin Motor Car Company, Oshawa, the figures showing the results of tests made on the engine and transmission of a McLaughlin-Buick touring car, model "17." These figures are exceptionally interesting, showing as they do, that this engine, advertised by the McLaughlin company as having 40 h.p., at 1200 revolutions per minute, is the standard speed for engine ratings. The test was made on low grade gasoline of only 65¢ test. The report makes very interesting reading, and every motorist should write the McLaughlin company for a copy of the results, which are being issued in pamphlet form, and which will be sent to any applicant free of charge.

enquiry, with the confidence that what is God's view is best, and we can await the result of His enquiry with calmness and courage if we are really in search of the living God.
"We in man an unbeliever who does not believe in gospels past and gone."
Referring to the question of miracles, the speaker observed that such things are a matter of opinion, but not of fact.
"If we had to choose one book from the literature of the world, we would choose the Bible, because in it we find eternal truths; we find a living person who can kindle life; a human soul to whom our hearts go out, as a perfect revelation of the true meaning of our life. We meet our Master there, and we grasp by faith what God is, and what man should be."
In conclusion the speaker said that opinions changed in every generation and that it was impossible to think of Christ as even our grandfather's God, or that after grasping the essential things our task would be to incarnate and reinterpret the Saviour and make Him a living force.
Jurors Act in N. B.
FREDERICTON, N.B., Feb. 27.—In legislation the premier introduced the Jurors Act, and said that at present selection was in the hands of the sheriff, who was open to the charge of favoritism in making a choice of men. The bill provides for a commission, consisting of the clerk of the court, clerk of the peace, and the sheriff, to make the selection of both the grand and petit jurors by drawing names from a box containing the names of all eligible of all eligible to serve, thus securing absolute fairness.
Yonge Street Mission.
Notwithstanding the rain, the Yonge Street Mission was again crowded with 287 young men for the breakfast yesterday morning. Rev. W. F. Graham of First Avenue Baptist Church spoke to the men.
Was Weak and Nervous.
Mr. Paul Poul, Cacacopia, Que., writes: "About five years ago I gave up all hope of getting better of heart trouble. I would nearly choke, and then my heart would stop beating. I could not lie on my left side, and became so nervous and weak I could not work. A friend told me to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and before the first box was taken I was almost well, and the second box completed the cure. I have advised many others to try them, and they have all been cured of the same trouble. I have offered to pay for a box for anybody they do not cure."
Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are a specific for all diseases of disorders arising from the heart or nerve system. They make the weak heart strong and the shaky nerves firm by imparting a strengthening and restorative influence to every organ, and give the body a curing, purifying, sensation of "pins and needles," general debility, lack of vitality, etc.

University Sermon
"Wherefore henceforth know we no man after the flesh; yea, tho we have known Christ after the flesh, yet now we know Him no more."
henceforth know we Him no more."
The greater portion of St. Paul's sermon in Convocation Hall yesterday.
"People used to imagine in a vague sort of way," announced the speaker, "that things were made easy for the first Christians, in regard to the problems of their faith. It was generally believed that they had a definite list of truths, like so many concrete problems of Euclid, and that these truths were handed down from Jesus to His apostles, and then came down thru a chain of credible persons to our own day. In short, a fixed deposit handed down from one generation to another."
"This is the doctrine now dominant in the Catholic Church, and believed not only by Catholics, but Protestants as well."
"But it is a relief to find that the first disciples of Christ were not such pillars of rock, and that such things as a matter of opinion, but not of fact, that there was a good deal of human nature among them, and that they did not see eye to eye on all matters, and uniformity of opinion was at no time a characteristic of the early Christians. In the greatest portion of St. Paul's life was spent in controversy, which was far from being gentle. In fact, Paul could make use of incredible strong language. He was not a smooth suave person with an aureole round his head, but, on the contrary, he could use considerable forcefulness in theological debate."
"St. Paul's opponents were not always in the wrong. They accentuated some side of Jesus, the side according to the flesh. But Paul refused to be tied down to narrow ideas. He laid stress on Christ according to the spirit, not on the flesh, and he would do if he was present at the time."
It was a bold doctrine, but no one called Paul a heretic or sect leader. He showed the remarkable spirit in stilling by Jesus into Peter and John that they took no umbrage at Paul.
"St. Paul saw what others did not see. He saw that the world was not for all time. The apostle insisted on but three facts in regard to Christ: His birth, His death and His resurrection."
The weekly recital in the Conservatory Music Hall on Saturday afternoon last was by pupils of the piano, organ and singing departments—intermediate grade—the program being as follows:
Gretchen, Miss Rita Ellis; Bachmann, Gigue Bretonne, Miss Mary Seon; White, To Mary, Miss Ida Jackson; (a) Schmitt, Etude Mignonne, (b) Mendelssohn, Hunting Song, Miss Hilda Lalley; Stojowski, Prelude Op. 1, No. 2, Miss Mildred Dracas; (a) Rachmaninoff, Prelude, (b) Lavigne, Papillon, Miss Muriel Ralston; Schumann, Novelllette, No. 1, Miss Irene Weaver; Schubert, Romance, Op. 24, No. 3, Miss Gretta Robinson; (a) Godard, Chant de Florian, (b) Gluck, O Del Mio Dolce, Miss Greta Harper; Raff, Etude Melodique in A major, Miss Ella Warren; Cowen, Border Ballad, Mr. Stanley G. Three Years for Forgery.
WINDHAM, Ont., Feb. 27.—The man arrested here a few days ago, and who gave his name as Otto Webber, has been sentenced to three years in Kingston Penitentiary by Judge Barton of the County of Bruce, at Walkerton, where the accused was taken for trial. The offence, it appears, was the obtaining of $200 from the local branch of the Bank of Commerce at that place by forged notes, and alleged letters of credit.
