14. That the Seminary be open to children and persons of any religious

15. That to the attainment of the objects of the institution, it is essentially requisite that the whole system should be conducted upon a principal of the most strict and simple economy, and no distinctions among the scholars and students, arising from wealth or external circumstances, permitted to appear; the scholars will, as soon as practicable, be boarded at the Institution; and it is thought adviseable to connect with the establishment a farm, under the care of some respectable person, for the supply of articles of provision for the use of the school, and for affording an opportunity of employing the boys during a portion of their leisure time, in healthful labour; by which they may obtain exercise, acquire a habit of industry, and be less exposed to the irregularities which result from misemployed seasons of leisure. The diet and dress of the Scholars to be of the plainest kind, and to be regulated by the Committee, and made known as part of the terms of the School, to be conformed to without exception.

16. The terms of the Tuition and Board to be fixed at as low a rate as possible.
