

Comic Section

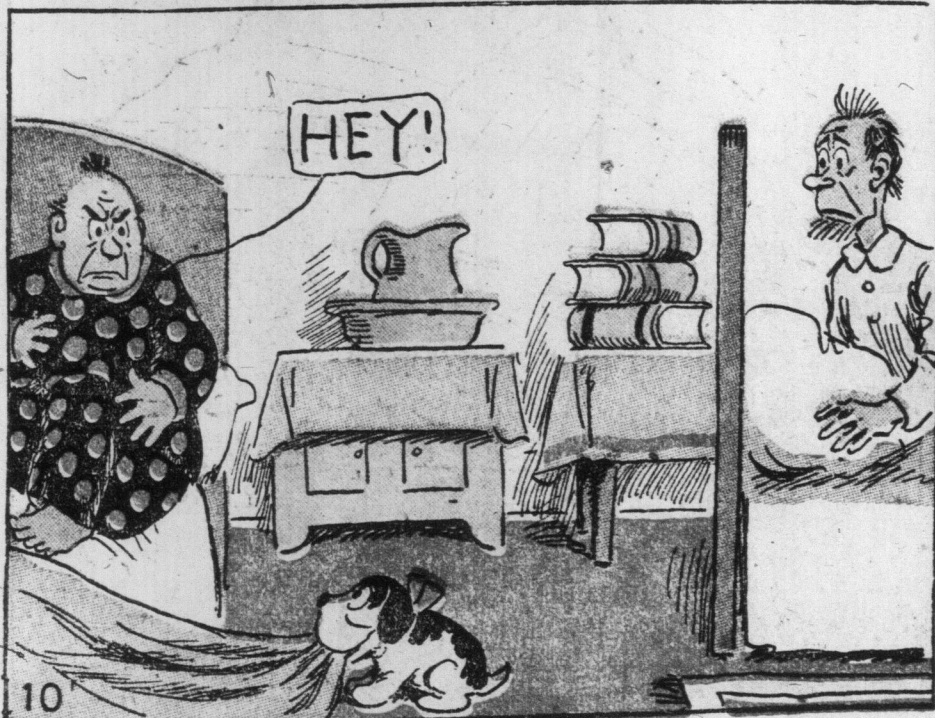

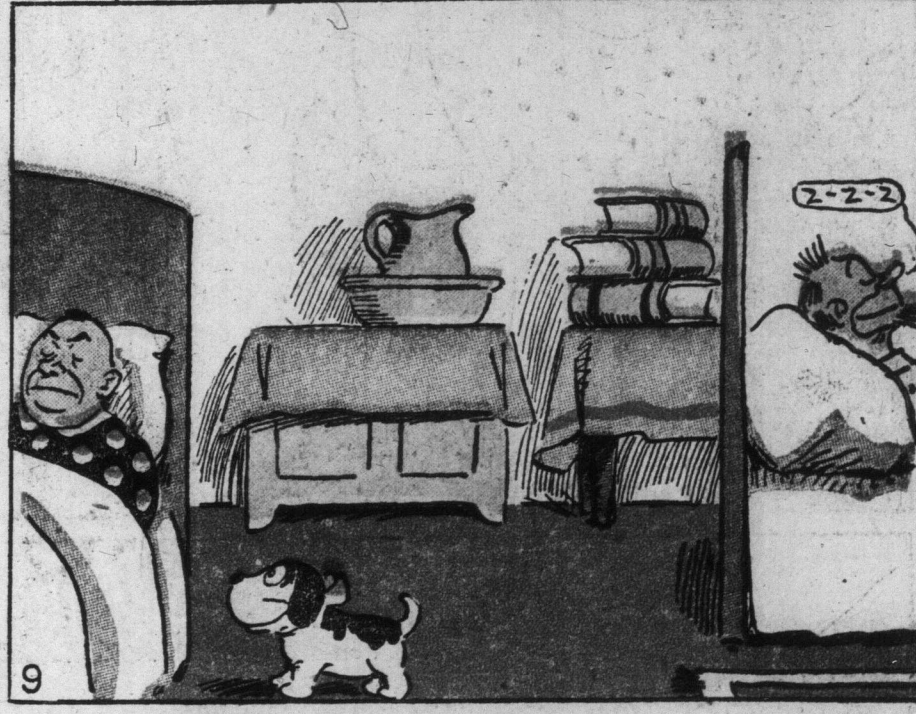

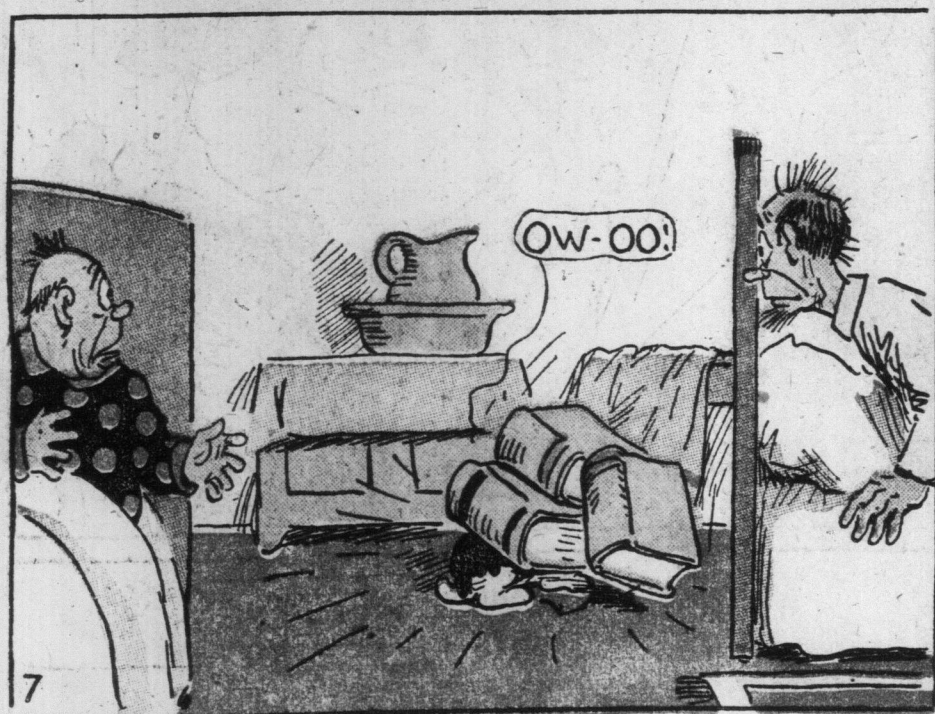

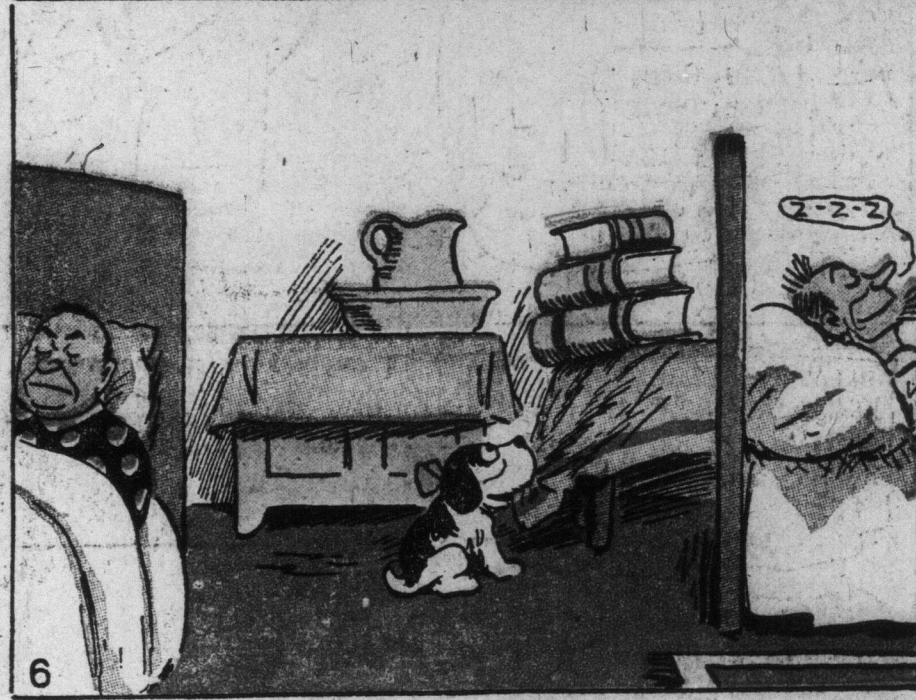

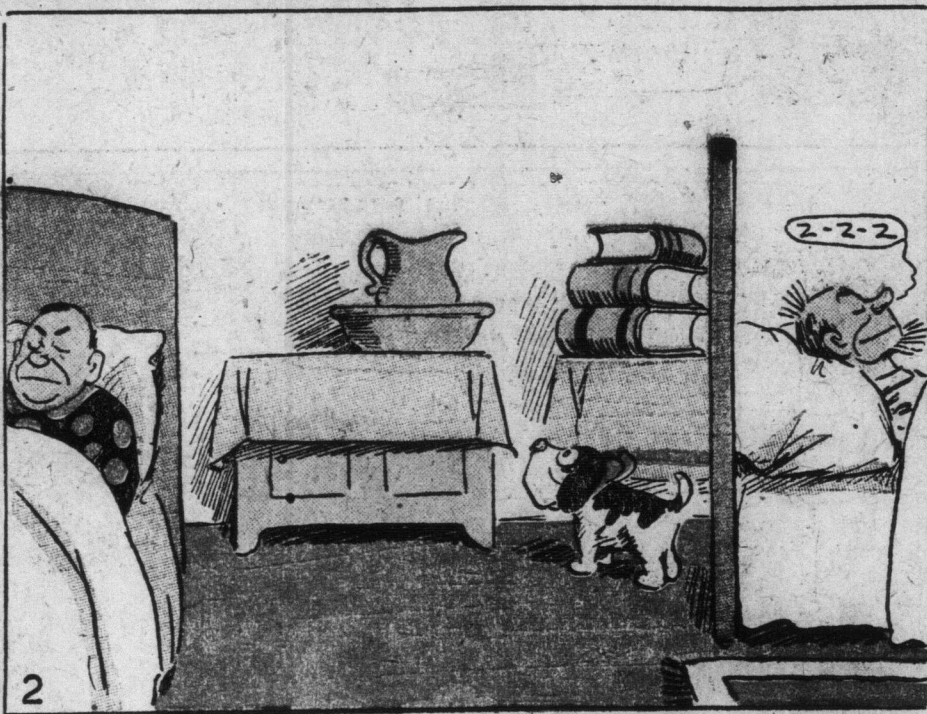

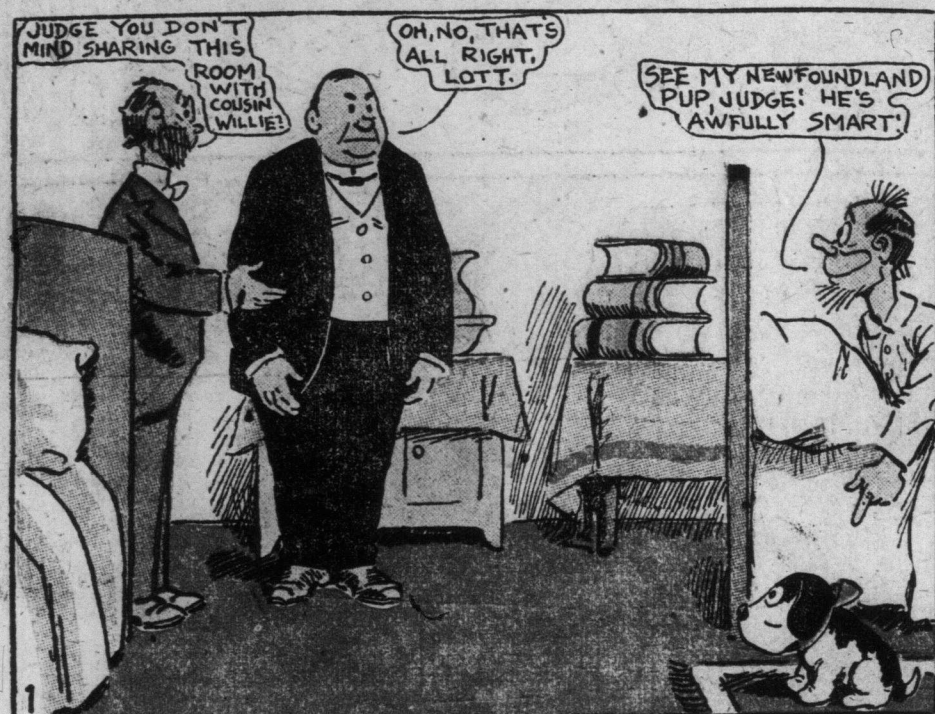

of the
Toronto World

January 7th 1912.

Cousin Willie's Pup!

Oh, Howson Lott's Place Is a Perfect Haven of Rest!

Copyrighted, 1912, by the American-Brampton.
Great Britain Rights Reserved.

an Ski Men Putting
kies. They Can Make
es an Hour On a
de.

significance of these
be appreciated when
ered that the record
ug broad jump is less
ve feet. The Norwe-
or ski-jumping is forty-
or nearly a hundred and
et.

to make, these ap-
ps on skis is of the
rtance to the Norwe-
when on scouting duty.
passable gulches are
assed over and rivers
y frozen to sustain the
arching soldiers are
a similar manner.
orwegian soldiers
wonder-working skis
e illustrations.
nt winter manoeuvres
thousand infantrymen
e value of Skis as an riare was clearly de-

ied so high with snow
ould have been un-
any progress what-
nrymen mounted on
an hour without mis-
nd.

It would not be practices for the
their heavy guns to
anry over the snow-
y passes, but for ski-
scouting the skis
ould be extremely
e northern countries.
e soldiers often make
oes. In Canada, too,
ave been utilized to y the military. But asians nor the Cana-
the efficiency of the men.

amous Explorer

emselves out on the
xcitement kept othen
The town of Bam
ich it lies are plainly

comes a faint breeze
easterly wind would
ur, that the watchful
oon. It is 9 o'clock.
en have finished their
bread back into their
sterbags to lighten the

hall not have time to ady." The men at will ride faster only
you will follow me
a little behind."
goal. It is still five
now distinguish the
er. Suddenly a dog
ed the dromedaries.
aries race along; they
their necks are almost eam flies from their
ever; some of them
ach the village gate.
sleeping people are
s. There is no time
the attack has come
able inhabitants rush
them. Shah Sevar
medary. The other
men and six children Beluchis while the
y is two young men
some silver.

s of the extra drome-
me way back."
some of the drome-
s have discovered a
s ring out and Shah
medary is scared and
is caught in the stir-
staunches the blood

"the riding king" has