THE CODE OF A GERMAN OFFICER

He Stands For What Allies Fight Against

Despotism is His Creed

His Uniform is the Kaiser's and the Wearer is as Sacred as the Emperor; Some of His Privileges

"If I can make the Prussian officer clear," says a writer in the New York Tribune, who is a German by birth, has served in the German army as an officer, and who appears to have manipulated himself from the spell of his earlier environment. He says that the Prussian officer is Germany, the Germany whom the Allies are trying to defeat in this war. He writes of the German officer with understanding and with sympathy. At birth the Prussian officer is like any other baby. What he becomes is not his own fault; it is the fault of a system. Brought up under this system, he finds in the majority of cases, that it works to his advantage, and he becomes a supporter of it, just as the child of a Socialist, if he happened to be adopted by a member of the capitalist class, might well say that all happens for the best in the best of all possible worlds. The Prussian officer, though he is partly a dupe, has a pretty good time of it. He does not protest. The system may be bad, but it suits him.

The Training of an Officer. As a rule the German officer begins to learn his trade at the age of ten. By the time he is eighteen he has become a sub-lieutenant, with certain principles deeply engrained. He has learned to obey the orders of his superiors without question. He has learned that the private soldier is a mere pawn; that the civilian is of still less account. These lessons are not modified by anything he may learn in the future; they are emphasized. They are the basic facts of his existence, and whatever his subsequent actions may be, so long as they are governed by these principles, they will be vouched for by his superior officer and by the Kaiser himself. In a sense the German officer can do no wrong, so long as he remembers what is due to the uniform he wears.

Some extraordinary things are due to it. It is the Kaiser's coat, and the theory is that an officer must bear himself as though he were the Kaiser. The uniform is like the flag. If it is insulted, the insult must perish; and, of course, an insult to the wearer of the uniform is interpreted as an insult to the Kaiser. The Prussian correspondent gives another. A subaltern stationed near Berlin was roughly handled by a drunken civilian, who came up behind him and tore off one of his epaulettes. Then he fled. The officer pursued him, and after a considerable chase caught up with the man and ran him through with his sabre. The rough died. It might have seemed a somewhat drastic punishment, but if the officer had not killed the man, he would have been asked for his resignation from the army. An insult to the officer is an insult to the Kaiser, and he who fails to avenge it is not worthy to wear the uniform. This is the German theory.

Death to Insulters. Not all German officers live up to the code. The Tribune correspondent says that he has seen officers on the streets of Berlin at night shrink into doorways or lanes at the approach of an intoxicated soldier. They did not want to see him; they did not want him to see them. They feared that the drunken private might permit his natural feelings of manhood to get the better of him, in the course of which process he would be likely to say something derogatory to the officer, or even to make an attack upon him. In that case the plain and unescapable duty of the officer would be to shoot the drunken man. If he failed to do this, he would be discharged from the army.

Obligations of Officers. The Prussian officer is the child of the state. He has his privileges, such as shooting or stabbing civilians and private property. But he has his obligations. He has to dress in a certain way. He is forbidden to make any display of wealth. If he has an automobile he is supposed to offer it in turn to every officer of the regiment. They are supposed to refuse. His horse must not be worth more than a certain amount. He cannot marry without the permission of his colonel, and this permission is given only when it is known that the bride has a considerable income. Certainly he must pay immediately, the expenses connected with the service. He is permitted to run other businesses as long as he pleases, and, presumably, to run through civilian creditors who present bills. He is taught that he has but one business on earth, and that is to do the will of the Kaiser, who is his superior officer. If this is done all is done. All is forgiven if this principle is adhered to.

GOOD RICH BLOOD MEANS GOOD HEALTH

JUST A LITTLE MORE RICH, RED BLOOD CURES MOST AILMENTS.

The lack of sufficient rich, red blood does not end merely in a pale complexion. It is much more serious. Bloodless people are tired, languid, run-down folk who do not enjoy life. Food does not nourish; there's indigestion, heart palpitation, headache, backache and nearly always nervousness. If this bloodlessness is neglected too long, a decline is sure to follow. Just a little more rich, red blood cures all these troubles. Then you have new health, new vitality and pleasure in life. To get more rich, red blood the remedy is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. No other medicine increases and enriches the blood so quickly or so surely. This is not a mere claim. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done this over and over again throughout why thousands of people always have a good word to say for this medicine. Miss Gertrude Haffner, Kingston, Ont., says: "About two years ago I was suffering greatly with anemia, so much so that I had to give up my situation. I became so weak that I could scarcely walk without help. I had no ambition, no color, no appetite and was constantly troubled with headaches and dizzy spells. I was taking medicine from the doctor, but it did not do me a particle of good. One day a friend asked me if I had tried Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Though as the result of my condition I was greatly discouraged, I began the use of the pills, and thanks to that good friend's advice after using a few boxes I began to feel much better. Under the continued use of the pills I gained in weight, my color came back, and I grew gradually stronger. I looked so much better that people would ask me what I was taking and I did not hesitate in giving the credit to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I am so grateful for what this medicine has done for me that I will do all I can to extend its use."

You can get these pills from any drug store or by mail for 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MONEY NEEDED FOR PATRIOTIC FUND

Only 500 People Regular Contributors—Plans are Discussed

August 4, the second anniversary of the declaration of war will be marked by special services to be held afternoon and evening in the city. The business houses will be closed from 9 to 4 in the afternoon, while the meeting is being held, so it was decided at a meeting of the patriotic society, held in the board of trade rooms, yesterday afternoon. It was further announced at the meeting that the 75,000 people living in and about St. John, only 500 were contributing monthly to the patriotic fund, a state of affairs that is discouraging and humiliating to those who are trying to further the interests of the country. C. E. A. Macdonald, of the local society, said that the present deficiency is close around $1,000, and he predicted that this year would be at least $2,000. Dr. Barnhill suggested that a committee be named to form a second committee of citizens to take active part in collecting the funds necessary to put the society on a proper basis. Following the meeting of the members present, observing August 4, as the second anniversary of the declaration of war was discussed, and it was voted that the society be organized to make a public announcement of the fact that exercises would be held in King squares from 9 to 4 in the afternoon, during which all business houses would be closed, and that exercises would be held in the evening, beginning at 8:30. Prominent speakers will be present at the time. A committee, consisting of the three gentlemen present, was appointed to meet with the mayor at 11 a.m., Monday, to make further arrangements for carrying out the plan. It was suggested at this point that if there are deficiencies in the patriotic fund, later they may be made up by the province.

May Hold Excursions

The plan of the Rotary Club, advocating the holding of public excursions during the four Saturday's in August, to raise money for the cause, was heartily approved by the members present. Another resolution was passed, after a motion made by Senator Thorne had been seconded, that a committee of citizens be appointed with power to act to adopt the best means of collecting funds to meet the requirements of the patriotic fund to provide for needy families up to December 31. Mr. Barnhill and Mayor Hayes were named to select this citizens' committee. The local government has contributed only $25,000 toward the fund, an amount that is altogether too small, it is felt. It is the belief of the committee that many rich sources of revenue for the fund have not yet been touched. Senator Thorne said that there should be little difficulty in raising $50,000 for the fund almost immediately.

GERMAN AUTHORITY ADMITS PRESENCE OF FOOD SHORTAGE

Especially in Towns is Shortage Most Aggravating—Supply of Potatoes is Small.

Amsterdam, via London, July 21.—The Berliner Tageblatt says that at a recent conference at Darmstadt with regard to the food situation, Adolf T. Von Batocki, president of the German food regulation board, frankly admitted that there was a shortage of foodstuffs, especially in towns, which it was impossible to overcome, and that he did not believe the present supply of potatoes would permit of the raising of the maximum allowance from one and a half to two pounds per week per head, as had been proposed.

NEW BRIDGE AT PORTLAND IS OPENED TO THE PUBLIC

Portland, Me., July 22.—The new $1,000,000 bridge across the upper harbor between Portland and South Portland has been opened to the public and will be dedicated on next Thursday. Construction of the bridge was authorized by the legislature in 1913 and the survey was begun in March, 1914. One-half of the cost was borne by Cumberland county, 40 per cent by the Portland Terminal Company and 10 per cent by the Cumberland County Power and Light Company. The structure is of steel and reinforced concrete, with a roadway 60 feet in width, is 4,000 feet long and has a draw span 266 feet in length.

Catarhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrh Cure acts through the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Circulars free. All Druggists, 75c. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

ALLISON TO RESIGN?

Ottawa, July 21.—In it understood that militia orders in the near future will contain the interesting notice that Hon. orary Colonel J. Wesley Allison is permitted to resign his rank. The comment of the Meredith-Duff commission on Colonel Allison gives one reason. The absence of Sir Sam Hughes and the resting of his authority for the time being in Mr. McCurdy's hands, the new parliamentary secretary for militia and defence, gives the second reason. It may be noted, however, that under the terms of Mr. McCurdy's appointment he is not allowed to change the policy of the department without securing the consent of the cabinet. In the present instance, however, there can be little doubt that a ready consent will be given to Sir Sam's policy.
