

O'NEILL FARRELL MAY SKATE FOR TORONTO CLUB THIS YEAR

CHICAGO Flier AND MEYERS TO CHANGE ABODE

Speed Skating Revival Looked for—Girls Are Active

TORONTO, Oct. 23.—With the Old Orchard A. C. planning a speed skating session at the Ravina the middle of next month, the devotees of the gliding blade are getting down to business much earlier than usual. Many prominent flyers from the various city clubs have been working out at Norm Smith's plant for some days and the indications are that there will be a great revival in speed skating the coming winter. At any rate there was never so much interest in the sport than at this time and the competition should be unusually keen. There is more than a probability that O'Neill Farrell, the Chicago flier, who enjoys a world wide reputation, will be here shortly, skating under the colors of the Old Orchard Club. Eddie Meyers, the New Yorker, who made quite a hit last winter, may also give a return visit. He is talking of making Toronto his headquarters.

LEILA IN TRAINING

Leila Brooks Potter, winner of innumerable titles and holder of virtually all the world's records worth while, is in active training at the Ravina rink and displaying more speed than ever. Mrs. Potter will defend her championship against all comers either indoors or outdoors, and welcomes opposition. Fred Brooks, another member of the well-known family, is also hard at work and his admirers fancy his chances. He made a fine record last season and is expected to improve upon his showing this year.

Old Orchard Speed Skating Club has added another promising color-bearer for its ladies' events this winter in Miss Dorothy Blaney, formerly of Coldwater, Ont. Miss Blaney comes well developed from a district which has produced many ice stars, including Ty and Anson Arbutnot, Bert Corning and other professional hockey stars, and Bobby Rosenfield, probably the greatest of girl hockeyists.

Miss Blaney, though but 18 years of age, is also a finished hockey player, and will probably be seen in action with a local team this winter.

Latest Ring Sensation

Monte Munn, "Big" Munn, former wrestling champion. Well—here's his brother, Monte, one of the latest sensations in the ranks of pugilism. Monte, while comparatively new at the ring racket, has been cutting down opponents in reckless fashion. He seems to carry quite a knockout punch, having won most of his battles that way. Some optimistic critics see him as a real contender for the heavyweight crown. That may be a bit far fetched, of course, but he must at least be given credit for making a good start and that means something.

System of Pro In One Kind Of Sport and Amateur In Another Untenable

(Reprinted From Telegraph-Journal.)
The Amateur News comment favorably on the suggestion put forward in the Telegraph-Journal in regard to re-instatement. The sports editor, R. M. Ross, says:
The Saint John Telegraph-Journal is in the forefront these days with many suggestions for the betterment of amateur sport. It is of interest, and appears to be sound theoretically—and in any event would be an improvement over the present situation. I imagine that it was the intention to have the idea apply to one sport, and who plays some other game for relaxation should not come under the present code. Take men like Bill Stuart and Stanton Jackson—professional hockey players. Jackson, some years ago was rated as the best prospective half miler in the Maritime Provinces, while Stuart, in the summer months is a really good ball player. Owing to the fact that they are both amateurs of hockey they are barred from competition in any other form of sport. It hardly seems fair—and some bright-minded theorist may work around this matter, and offer some live suggestion.

In reply to this, it is pointed out that there was not any intention to differentiate between the boy who was badly advised or the one who calmly took his leap, knowing the consequences. When you open the door to riders, you immediately have your hands full.
There is not a qualification of any rule in the world, it could not be used for nearly every case, and the one now attached to the C. A. definition is about the worst that could be there.
What man who has turned pro, could not say in his desire to get back again that he did not exercise mature judgment?
In seeking to differentiate, as the Union now is doing, the way is paved for charges of favoritism.
Treat them all equally. Punish all offenders by automatic sentences. Abolish entirely a re-instatement board.
If there is not any board by which men can get back, there cannot be any ground for favoritism. If a man is out for three years, he is out for three years, exactly to the day. No more, no less.

The question is raised by the News writer of a man being pro in one sport and amateur in another. The same idea was advocated by Judge Jackson. Such a plan is untenable, in our humble opinion, under the amateur theory. Furthermore, it creates confusion on confusion, and the first state would be worse than the preceding one.

To begin with amateur sport is amateur sport. It is sport with many different branches of activity, but what distinguishes it from other lines is that it stands for an ideal—playing for the love of the game. Sport for sport's sake.
Not sport of one line for money and another for the enjoyment of it. But sport because there is a real love for it and because of the lessons it teaches.

The system proposed is unsound in theory. It starts out with the ideal of amateurism and then proceeds to allow that ideal to be violated. It boots amateur sport in one sense and works an eye at professionalism in another.
No system built on such an unstable foundation in this country would stand very long. A man is either an amateur or a pro, and it makes no difference whether he takes part in one line of sport or a thousand.
He is either in favor of an ideal or he is not. He may be the greatest athlete in the world and receive a princely salary for one line of sport, but how in the name of common sense could you class him as a real amateur, as the terms are now understood, under such a system as proposed.

IF SUCH AN IDEA were adopted, we would sincerely pity an amateur official. He'd be as busy as a dog trying to tackle two dozen fleas at the same time.
For example, a man would be an amateur hockey player and a professional baseball player. As a track man he would be a strong pro, but at rugby football, the lure of the greenback would be too strong to resist. As a boxer he would be allowed to compete with the pugilistic gentlemen known as brutes and continually extend an outstretched and itching palm for services while as a wrestler he could mix with the purebreds to his heart's content. As the genuine amateur article of a track man, he could be also at the same time a perfect example of a box office artist at the speed skating game. You say this is an exaggerated example. Not a bit of it. They'd all be trying it if they could.

Can you picture President Doyle and his already over-worked staff keeping track of ONE athlete let alone thousands?
An athletic cloak of many colors, this beats our Biblical friend Joseph by several dreams.
There is enough trouble now keeping track of simply whether they are pro or amateur without tossing a few sticks of dynamite like this into the arena.

W.E. STERLING RESIGNS POST

H. E. Blakeney or C. G. Gillespie, Moncton, May Succeed

W. E. STERLING, New Brunswick vice-president of the Maritime Provinces branch of the Amateur Athletic Association, has forwarded his resignation to S. F. Doyle, president of the M. P. B., at Charlottetown, asking that it take effect immediately. Questioned regarding this report, Mr. Sterling confirmed it, and said it was a matter for the executive now to deal with. It is considered likely here that Harry Blakeney, of Moncton, who ran against Mr. Sterling at the August meeting of the M. P. B. in Charlottetown, will be appointed to fill the vacancy. Mr. Blakeney would be the logical appointment under the circumstances. Mr. Sterling's resignation also means the appointment of a delegate from New Brunswick to the Canadian annual here, and in view of the fact that Moncton already is represented, it is likely a Saint John man will be appointed.

VOTE IN N. S.

HALIFAX, Oct. 22.—By a vote of 13 to 1, representatives of Nova Scotia amateur athletic clubs decided at a meeting here tonight to form a Nova Scotia branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada.
The following officers were elected provisionally: President, C. Pettipas, Dartmouth; first vice-president, A. D. Campbell, Sydney; second vice-president, Mr. Bishop, Kentville; third vice-president, Rev. Dr. Boyle, Antigonish; secretary-treasurer, J. F. McManis, Dalhousie University, Halifax. Representatives to attend the annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Union will be A. C. Pettipas, A. C. Millie, Halifax, and A. L. Mercer, Sydney.

PICTOU DISSENTS.

The dissenting vote was cast by the Pictou A. A. C. representative. Only club delegates with power to vote for the clubs they represented were allowed to vote on the resolution which was moved by A. C. Millie, of the Wanderers, Halifax, and seconded by C. J. Burke, Crescents, also of Halifax. The resolution was that the representatives assembled formally establish a provisional set of officers with full powers and authority to take whatever steps necessary to bring about, at an early date, the formation of a Nova Scotia branch of the A. A. U. of C. for the purpose of controlling, promoting and advancing amateur sport. The resolution was that representation be made to the annual meeting of the A. A. U. of C. for full recognition of such union apart, separate from the so-called Maritime Province branch.

CHANGES TALKED IN BASEBALL CIRCLES

Fletcher Reported to be Slated For Manager of Pittsburgh Team

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Baseball Row encouraged by its success in beating President Baker to his announcement of Stuffy McInnis as manager of the Philadelphia Nationals is buzzing again. The dopesters had the widely named Fletcher, who was Arthur Fletcher's successor nearly a week before the president of the Phillies took his public into his confidence.
Advancing from a little retail forecasting to predicting on a wholesale scale, the informal baseball experts today were assigning managerial jobs right and left. They insist that Fletcher, released by the Phillies, will move over to Pittsburgh to take up where Bill McKelchle left off.
Lee Fohl, retiring as manager of the Boston Red Sox, was suggested as coach for the Pirates, taking care of two departed managers at one swoop. A minority group, however, thinks that Fred Clarke will be formally named manager and Pittsburgh although he already handles much of the club's business responsibilities.

RACE AT HALIFAX

HALIFAX, Oct. 22.—John C. Miles, Sydney A. A. world's champion marathon runner, Clarence Demar, Melrose, Mass., Charles Snell, Toronto, and 52 other runners representing clubs in the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland, will line up tomorrow afternoon for the annual ten-mile road race conducted by the Halifax Herald and Evening Mail.

Howley To Remain

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 23.—The Toronto Globe today publishes the following in its sporting columns:

"Evidently misled by the constantly circulated rumour that Daniel Howley will manage some other team than Toronto next season, 'Heinie' Groh, former New York and Cincinnati third baseman, applied yesterday to the Toronto Club for the position of manager. He has been informed that 'Dan' Howley will again direct the play of the Leafs.

"While the diminutive third baseman, who formerly performed for J. J. McGraw, was not told so, it was a fact that Howley has already commenced rebuilding his team for next season, and no less than three deals are under way.

"Groh's application to the Toronto Club arrived at about the same time the Associated Press sent out a despatch to the effect that Groh might succeed Lee Fohl, who yesterday announced his resignation as manager of the Boston Red Sox."

SOME OF U. N. B. MEN ON CRIPPLED LIST

FREDERICTON, Oct. 22.—The Rugby squad of the University of New Brunswick has developed a considerable number of cripples and every effort must be directed towards getting them in condition for the hard match at Sackville on Thursday next when the western section of the Intercollegiate League will open, Mount Allison meeting U. N. B.

Keene, who has played two seasons with the red and black team, but who did not return to college the first of the term, has resumed his course and is turning out with the Rugby squad. A month's delay places him at a big disadvantage.

U. S. FOOTBALL TODAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Today's football menu held but few choice morsels for eastern gridiron followers. Although traditional rivalries were revived in many conflicts, decisive victories were forecast by critics in a half score game involving major elements. Absence of games between teams in the thick of the hunt for the mythical eastern championship diverted major interest to Harvard's desperate attempt to recover from the most disastrous start in gridiron history.

Jack Dempsey Is Given Greater Reception Than That Accorded To Tunney

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Fickleness of a sport-following public was shown at Madison Square Garden last night, when Gene Tunney, world's heavyweight champion, and Jack Dempsey, from whom he won the title, were presented belts emblematic of the championship by the Boxing Writers' Association of Greater New York.
Two months ago, when Dempsey attended a boxing show at the Garden, he was booed and hissed by the crowd. But last night the former champion's reception was more enthusiastic than that of the champion. Tunney and Dempsey met in the ring and shook hands warmly, each leading the applause for the other as the belts were presented. Dempsey's belt was for the championship he held seven years, his emblem not having been bestowed upon the heavyweight champion while he held the title.

After the presentation ceremony at the suggestion of Joe Humphries, announcer, the audience stood in silence for one minute, as a tribute to Harry Greb, former middleweight and light heavyweight champion, who died yesterday.

Jim Maloney of Boston scored technical knockout over Arthur Diky of New York, in the second round of a ten-round bout in the heavyweight eliminations at Madison Square Garden last night. Preliminaries resulted in Monte Munn, Nebraska, winning from Carl Carter, Cuban negro; Yalc Okun of New York won a decision over Bob Lawson, Alabama, and Jack Demave of Hoboken, drew with Sandy Seifert, Pittsburgh.

FOR centuries in England the pipe has been the most popular smoke, due beyond doubt to the very fine smoking tobacco obtainable there. Now in Canada you can obtain—at a price no more than the ordinary kind—the finest Virginia tobacco, made by an English process, which from the first puff, we believe, will make the pipe your most satisfying, pleasant and enjoyable smoke. ARGOS CLASH WITH ANCIENT RIVALS ALSO

Upper Canadian Football Menu Is Varied One

TORONTO, Ont., Oct. 23.—Albeit somewhat battered, the Argos are still in the ring and it will be a strong team that will wear the Double Blue when they meet their ancient enemies from Hamilton today at the Maple Leaf Stadium. The invasion of the Bengals is usually the outstanding feature of the Big Four rugby season and the clash Saturday promises to be no exception. It is a case of do or die with both teams. The Scullers cannot afford to lose and the striped gentry are in the same boat.

The Scullers were put over the jumps in great style at Ottawa and they emerged from the gruelling somewhat bruised but with their courage unimpaired. The experience doubtless will do the younger players on the squad a world of good. They played a much better game against the champions than the score might show and if they play back to the form displayed in the earlier stages of the contest against the Senators the Tigers will return to their jungle habitat with their tails between their legs.

With Coach Mike Rodden on the job looking none the worse for his strenuous experience at the Capital the Oarsmen had a snappy workout at the Fleet street grounds, Scott, Roadway and Foster showing up brilliantly in the backfield. Tommy Barrett, who will play at flying wing from now on, surprised the on-lookers with his speed. McLean and Stewart are slated to take care of the outside positions and they should prove capable performers.

BEACHERS AND BORDEN.

While the Argos are entertaining the Tigers on the bay front, Balm Beach and Camp Borden will be doing it all over again at the Varsity Stadium and if the game is half as interesting as the initial meeting between the teams last Saturday at the Maple Leaf Stadium O. R. F. U. enthusiasts will not lack for excitement. Last Saturday's tilt between those two husky squads was a thriller with but little to choose in the early period when Harding probably had the better of the booting exchanges with Foster. When the former Queen's star meted the Beachers forged to the front and enjoyed a fair margin on end.

Other games today will see the U. of T. O. R. F. U. squad tackling Hamilton in the Ambitious City, Ottawa ten rounds. Jack Kirk, Sacramento negro, defeated Dallas Bateman, St. Paul featherweight, 4.

BOOTS LAST NIGHT

TAMPA, Fla.—Julian Moran, Spain, outpointed Jack Rapoport, Newark, N. J., 10 rounds.

SANTA ROSA, Calif.—King Tut, St. Paul junior lightweight, won a technical knockout over Young Carpenter, Stockton, in fourth round of a ten-round bout.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—Mushy Callahan, scored a technical knockout over Charley Pitts, Chicago, two rounds.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal.—Frankie Campbell, San Francisco, and George Cook, of Australia, fought a drawn ten rounds. Jack Kirk, Sacramento negro, defeated Dallas Bateman, St. Paul featherweight, 4.
