

The Halifax Times Star

PAGES NINE TO SIXTEEN

ST. JOHN, N. B., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23, 1921

SIXTEEN PAGES

A PUZZLE TO PHYSICIANS.

Bohemian twins linked together are a puzzle to the physicians.

et Pp Early So to Miss These Sales.

et Pp Early So to Miss These Sales. A saleswoman who has been depressed over the failure of her sales, is writing to bring the desired results. The saleswoman, who is a member of the Saleswomen's Association, is writing to bring the desired results. The saleswoman, who is a member of the Saleswomen's Association, is writing to bring the desired results.

Notices of Births, Marriages and Deaths, 50 cents.

BIRTHS

QUILTY—At the St. John Infirmary, on March 20th, to Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Quilty (nee McPhadden), of Beauséjour, a son, named John, a daughter (ten pounds).

DEATHS

MCKINLEY—In this city, on March 23, 1921, Susan, widow of Edward McKinley, leaving one daughter, two sons and one sister to mourn.

ARMSTRONG—After a lingering illness, at her late residence, 101 Moore street, Emma Geneva Armstrong, wife of Elvin Armstrong, leaving two children, mother, four brothers and two sisters to mourn.

MUNRO—At his residence, 72 Dorchester street, on March 22, 1921, James Munro, aged 72 years, leaving a wife, three daughters and one son.

WILSON—At his home, Fairview, N. B., on March 22, 1921, Thomas Henry Wilson, aged 72 years, leaving two sons and one daughter.

GOLDEN—In this city, on the 22nd inst., Margaret, daughter of William and Mary Golden, in the tenth year of her age, leaving, besides her parents, three sisters and one brother to mourn.

CROCKER—Suddenly, at East Orange, N. J., Sarah A. Crocker, relict of the late F. S. Crocker.

FUNERAL—Friday at 2:30 from depot on arrival of the Boston train at 1:05 p. m.

IN MEMORIAM

ROBERTSON—In sad and loving remembrance of Lloyd G. Robertson, who died March 23, 1920. One year is passed, our hearts still move. As the years roll on we miss him more. The evening star shines over the grave. Of one we loved but could not save.

PARENTS, BROTHERS AND SISTERS.

PARLEE—In loving memory of our dear Walter, who departed this life on March 22, 1918. Though lost to sight, To memory dear he lives. From memory pass away. MOTHER, SISTER AND BROTHER.

VINCENT—In loving memory of Guy M. Vincent, who departed this life on March 22, 1918. Though lost to sight, To memory dear he lives. From memory pass away. FATHER, MOTHER, BROTHERS AND SISTERS.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF ST. JOHN.

THE CHALLENGE OF THE MOVIES TONIGHT

"The Great Redeemer," being exhibited on the Imperial Theatre screen tonight and again tomorrow, might well be termed a challenge to those who claim the motion picture is incapable of spiritual uplift, that it is a poor imitation of the vocal sermon, an obvious failure in turning people's minds to the better, holier things. The man, woman or child whose heart does not respond to the godly appeal contained in this wonderfully impressive and emotional scene in the prison when the murderer on his way to the scaffold is converted by a visualization of the Saviour on the cross, is sadly lacking in the better qualities of character and humane to sermonizing of any kind. The story is not flippant; it is deeply reverential, sincere and spiritual. In such epics, House Peters, Joseph Singleton, Marjorie Daw and others it is a marvel of truth and realism.

MOVIE BALL

NEXT WEEK

The Film Exchange Managers Association through their managing committee, R. G. March and A. E. Smith, are planning a novel and attractive evening at the Gardens for next Thursday, the 31st. Motion pictures of the floor and the stage will be shown, and for the first time in Canada, so far as an occasion of this nature is concerned. Tickets available at Imperial Pharmacy and Venetian Gardens ticket office.

city council to protest against a proposed change in the traffic ordinance that would prohibit show windows "displays," asserted that they ought not to be penalized if by their ingenuity they make their display windows so attractive that crowds congregate. D. C. Keller, president of the Retail Stores Association, and Adolph Weiss, secretary-treasurer of the Mabley & Co. Co., department store owners, informed the committee that it was placing an enormous construction upon the word "demonstration" if it was considered that the merchants making "displays" is not subject to arrest, but that if an arrest is made, the merchant making "displays" must be hauled in. Existing laws, he pointed out, give police authority to disperse the crowd when "three or more persons congregate."

Boys' Love to Tools

Like many a local hardware man, A. R. Rogers recently found himself unjustly treated when it came to supplying goods in his line for the local school. Rogers, who is a member of the school board, was asked to supply tools for the school. Rogers, who is a member of the school board, was asked to supply tools for the school.

Knowing that the new course would be very popular with boys, and that they would become greatly interested in tools and the things they could make with them, Rogers decided to make a special attempt to interest them also in having tool sets of their own. Many of the boys were from farms, where there is constant use for a great variety of tools, as well as an opportunity for a display of their skill, which live town boys like to have a few tools and a workshop of their own. With manual training getting all the more popular, it is not surprising that the school board is bringing people at an hour when most persons are just getting out of bed or else are doing household work, letting a certain number go in at a time, as it would be impossible to serve all at once if this system were not followed.

325 Brought in List of Names. The problem of working up a new, live, comprehensive and accurate mailing list, one that almost every retail store has on its shelves, was recently attacked from a new angle by the Bush & Bull Co. department store owners. The plan was most satisfactory.

The firm took advantage of the annual Belknap style and food show to make the stunt which gave it national prominence. A list of the most modern designs was taken out of stock and on it was placed a life-size doll. This arrangement was effected because the firm decided that the doll would attract the girls and the sled would win the attention of the boys. The doll and sled were placed on view at the Belknap show with the announcement that they would be given away free to the boy or girl who held the number drawn at the close of the merchandising event.

The result was that the Bush & Bull Co. secured names by the tens of thousands. The slips were signed so fast that the coupons held by the clerk in charge of the booth filled two bushels after wash-bucket and it took several weeks to arrange the new mailing list in alphabetical order. At the close of the show the firm held a drawing and the sled and doll went to the holder of the number taken out of the hat by the judges.

The whole expense of getting the names was less than $25, but it gave the firm plenty of publicity and put its name in thousands of homes. The advantage of getting such a mailing list, rather than going over the directory, was that the latter source of information too often carries names of people who have died or moved away, and every such listing that much dead wood—causing waste of labor, postage and printed matter.

Dealers Kill Laws Against Displays. When is display not a demonstration? Cincinnati merchants, appearing recently before the traffic committee of

GERMANS IN ABBEY AT GRAVE OF OUR UNKNOWN SOLDIER

Some Things That the Dispatches Did Not Tell

Dramatic Time at Reparations Meeting—Prince Likely to Leave for India in September—A Sign of the Times in Politics.

(From our own correspondent.)

Long, March 23.—Up to the moment of writing no mention of the fact that appeared in any English newspaper, but that the meeting of the Allied and German delegates at the Peace Conference on Wednesday was dramatic in the extreme. Germany's alternative reparations proposals had been definitely turned down and the German delegates were told quite frankly what would happen if they did not accept the demands tendered to them on behalf of the Allies.

They were told that in that respect the British fleet would move and proceed to bombard Hamburg, and that the French army would occupy Mannheim. The hope was expressed that these measures would suffice, but if not a French occupation of the Ruhr would follow. One other item in connection with the secret history of this week may be mentioned. I have seen to my mind the fact of the fact that after their arrival in London on Monday, the German delegates paid a visit to the grave of our unknown warrior.

The act was, no doubt, influenced by the best intentions, but it was a sign of the times that it was just the sort of tactless thing that the Germans would do.

The Germans in London. The arrival of the German delegation occasioned no sort of excitement, public or official, but was none the less an interesting event. The most noteworthy fact was that the delegation did not include the German experts had been left behind, to be summoned "if required." Dr. Simons, Germany's foreign minister, is quite a striking personality and figure, tall, rather austere looking, and somewhat resembling Lord Robert Cecil in his bearing.

He was a quiet looking assortment of Germans in demure Teutonic tailoring, without a trace of the state and the most arresting was Dr. Simons' military adviser, a typical Prussian general officer, uncommunicative and uncommunicative.

Some of these checks brought great joy to the relatives of the "missing" men. The first evidence available to the "missing" men were still in the land of the living. Indeed, the "missing" men were still in the land of the living.

Ladies in Wax. I have always followed, with respectful attention, the artistic evolution of these essentially British sculptors. During the last few years, however, I have noticed a change in the models used in the shop windows to display the latest feminine fashion in gowns, pyjamas, stockings, hats, and what not.

I have noted, with admiration, the slow but sure development whereby these sylph-like creatures gradually acquired a more mobile and expressive physiognomy, ceasing to be mere waxen sphinxes in fashionable dress.

After deep cogitation and some hesitation, Sir Gordon Hewart has decided to press his claim for the position of Lord Justice. His colleagues in the cabinet are reluctant to lose him, but in this particular instance, even the perceptive powers of Lloyd George are not sympathetic of his candidature.

The plan worked better than he had dared to hope. A large number of boys wanted to own some of the tools they were learning to use. The more modern designs were taken out of stock and on it was placed a life-size doll.

The firm took advantage of the annual Belknap style and food show to make the stunt which gave it national prominence. A list of the most modern designs was taken out of stock and on it was placed a life-size doll.

The result was that the Bush & Bull Co. secured names by the tens of thousands. The slips were signed so fast that the coupons held by the clerk in charge of the booth filled two bushels after wash-bucket and it took several weeks to arrange the new mailing list in alphabetical order.

The whole expense of getting the names was less than $25, but it gave the firm plenty of publicity and put its name in thousands of homes. The advantage of getting such a mailing list, rather than going over the directory, was that the latter source of information too often carries names of people who have died or moved away, and every such listing that much dead wood—causing waste of labor, postage and printed matter.

Dealers Kill Laws Against Displays. When is display not a demonstration? Cincinnati merchants, appearing recently before the traffic committee of

New Spring Fashions

All of the fascinating fabrics, all of the cheerful spring-time colors and all the loveliness and simplicity of lines which characterize the season's most successful fashions are being presented here now at new low prices. We will be glad to show them to you.

Open Every Evening. The Quality Millinery 120 Charlotte St.

time he was either studying for the bar or else was writing for the newspapers or else what he earned from occasional briefs. If he becomes lord chief, the press gallery will have sent two men to the high office, for Lord Russell of Killowen was also a parliamentary scribbler before he won fame in the law.

Some of these checks brought great joy to the relatives of the "missing" men. The first evidence available to the "missing" men were still in the land of the living. Indeed, the "missing" men were still in the land of the living.

Ladies in Wax. I have always followed, with respectful attention, the artistic evolution of these essentially British sculptors. During the last few years, however, I have noticed a change in the models used in the shop windows to display the latest feminine fashion in gowns, pyjamas, stockings, hats, and what not.

I have noted, with admiration, the slow but sure development whereby these sylph-like creatures gradually acquired a more mobile and expressive physiognomy, ceasing to be mere waxen sphinxes in fashionable dress.

After deep cogitation and some hesitation, Sir Gordon Hewart has decided to press his claim for the position of Lord Justice. His colleagues in the cabinet are reluctant to lose him, but in this particular instance, even the perceptive powers of Lloyd George are not sympathetic of his candidature.

The plan worked better than he had dared to hope. A large number of boys wanted to own some of the tools they were learning to use. The more modern designs were taken out of stock and on it was placed a life-size doll.

The firm took advantage of the annual Belknap style and food show to make the stunt which gave it national prominence. A list of the most modern designs was taken out of stock and on it was placed a life-size doll.

The result was that the Bush & Bull Co. secured names by the tens of thousands. The slips were signed so fast that the coupons held by the clerk in charge of the booth filled two bushels after wash-bucket and it took several weeks to arrange the new mailing list in alphabetical order.

The whole expense of getting the names was less than $25, but it gave the firm plenty of publicity and put its name in thousands of homes. The advantage of getting such a mailing list, rather than going over the directory, was that the latter source of information too often carries names of people who have died or moved away, and every such listing that much dead wood—causing waste of labor, postage and printed matter.

Dealers Kill Laws Against Displays. When is display not a demonstration? Cincinnati merchants, appearing recently before the traffic committee of

PRINCE MAKES APPEAL FOR BOY SCOUTS

Reasons in Support of the Movement

Broad and Solid Platform on Which Organization Rests—Bringing Out the Good Qualities of the Lads.

H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, the Chief Scout for Wales, appears in the "Daily Telegraph" for a sum of £200,000 or more to meet the necessary expenses of the Boy Scouts Association.

Why should the public, even in these hard times, give an instant and a most generous response to this appeal?

As one known to many Boys throughout the world and who is humbly connected with the movement, I will try very briefly to answer the question.

First of all, what is this Organization which since the year 1907 has grown to such vast proportions principally as a result of the inspiration and energy of the Chief Scout, Sir Robert Baden-Powell?

It is an organization which aims at including as many as possible of the lads of the Empire, and its object broadly is to inculcate in the hearts of those lads all that is high, honorable, pure, good and true by instruction, discipline, and the observation of natural things in the open air.

Every Scout promises on his honor that he will be true to the Scout's code, that he will be true to the Scout's code, that he will be true to the Scout's code.

Such, as I think, are the qualities which the Boy Scouts Association, and the principles of its ancestors who have lifted it into the fore-front of the nation, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code.

Such, as I think, are the qualities which the Boy Scouts Association, and the principles of its ancestors who have lifted it into the fore-front of the nation, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code.

Such, as I think, are the qualities which the Boy Scouts Association, and the principles of its ancestors who have lifted it into the fore-front of the nation, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code.

Such, as I think, are the qualities which the Boy Scouts Association, and the principles of its ancestors who have lifted it into the fore-front of the nation, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code.

Such, as I think, are the qualities which the Boy Scouts Association, and the principles of its ancestors who have lifted it into the fore-front of the nation, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code.

Such, as I think, are the qualities which the Boy Scouts Association, and the principles of its ancestors who have lifted it into the fore-front of the nation, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code.

Such, as I think, are the qualities which the Boy Scouts Association, and the principles of its ancestors who have lifted it into the fore-front of the nation, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code.

Such, as I think, are the qualities which the Boy Scouts Association, and the principles of its ancestors who have lifted it into the fore-front of the nation, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code.

Such, as I think, are the qualities which the Boy Scouts Association, and the principles of its ancestors who have lifted it into the fore-front of the nation, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code.

Such, as I think, are the qualities which the Boy Scouts Association, and the principles of its ancestors who have lifted it into the fore-front of the nation, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code.

Such, as I think, are the qualities which the Boy Scouts Association, and the principles of its ancestors who have lifted it into the fore-front of the nation, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code.

Such, as I think, are the qualities which the Boy Scouts Association, and the principles of its ancestors who have lifted it into the fore-front of the nation, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code.

Such, as I think, are the qualities which the Boy Scouts Association, and the principles of its ancestors who have lifted it into the fore-front of the nation, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code.

Such, as I think, are the qualities which the Boy Scouts Association, and the principles of its ancestors who have lifted it into the fore-front of the nation, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code.

Such, as I think, are the qualities which the Boy Scouts Association, and the principles of its ancestors who have lifted it into the fore-front of the nation, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code.

Such, as I think, are the qualities which the Boy Scouts Association, and the principles of its ancestors who have lifted it into the fore-front of the nation, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code, and the Scout's code.

LOCAL NEWS

SEAMEN'S INSTITUTE. Return visit Empress of France, grand concert party, Wednesday night, eight o'clock. Admission 20c. Reserved 25c. Our old favorites Charley Neary, Haugage and Pierce, Sherrin, Ylack, Lawson, Atkinson, Miss Roberts, Jack Peters and others.

"CLIMO'S PHOTO ANNIVERSARY" Comes but once a year. Begins Monday, March 21, ending Monday, 28th. An offering of lovely photos at half price. Don't miss it, 88 Gormston street. 22088-8-29

Stainer's Crucifixion, Stone church, Wednesday. Wm. McEachern tenor soloist. Silver collection. Confettie and streamer dance at Strand, Thursday, March 24. 22150-8-29

MEETING. Open meeting for Stationary Engineers Friday evening next, March 25, at 8 p. m., in Trades' Council Hall, Union street. A. F. of L. Organiser, Wm. Varley and others will address the meeting. All interested cordially invited to attend. 22159-8-28

SPECIAL NOTICE. City Public Service Employees Union will hold their meeting in the Trades and Labor Hall on Thursday evening, March 24, at 8 o'clock. Open meeting. The meeting will be addressed by Organiser Varley and Thomas and Local Organiser Tighe. All civic employees are requested to attend. By order of President. 22160-8-28

LATE SHIPPING. PORT OF ST. JOHN. Arrived March 23. Coastwise—Stur River, 70, Moore, from Bear River, N. S.; gas, schr. Page, 25, Adams, from Beavers Harbor, N. B. Cleared March 23. Coastwise—Stur River, 70, Moore, for Digby, N. S.

FOREIGN PORTS. Antwerp, March 22—Arrd, str. Bollingbrook, St. John, N. B.

MARINE NOTES. The steamer Italy sailed from Norfolk, Va., at 7 o'clock yesterday morning for this port to load potatoes and hay for Cuba. Furness Withy & Co. are the local agents.

The steamer Canadian Trapper is expected to sail this evening for Liverpool and Glasgow with general cargo. Furness Withy & Co. announce the following movements of ships for which they are the local agents: The steamer Megantic arrived at New York on March 19 from the West Indies; the steamer Kronland arrived at Antwerp on March 18; the steamer Mongolia sailed from New York on March 18.

The steamer Artisan Mendel sailed last night at 9 o'clock for Gibraltar for orders with a cargo of grain. R. C. Eklund is the local agent.

Whatever one may think, while man is man there will be wars, and the League of Nations will desire for plunder from which war springs; for alas! the League of Nations with its high ideals does not yet exist.

Still in considering this aspect of the Association, namely that in the future it may be called upon to assist in the defence of their hearths and homes do not let us make a mistake. Do not let us suppose that its objects or its principles are primarily connected with war. On the contrary, if the fundamental doctrine of the League of Nations is that it is to prevent war, it is to prevent war.

Another of its objects is to tie the Empire together and to desire for plunder from which war springs; for alas! the League of Nations with its high ideals does not yet exist.

Still in considering this aspect of the Association, namely that in the future it may be called upon to assist in the defence of their hearths and homes do not let us make a mistake. Do not let us suppose that its objects or its principles are primarily connected with war. On the contrary, if the fundamental doctrine of the League of Nations is that it is to prevent war, it is to prevent war.

Another of its objects is to tie the Empire together and to desire for plunder from which war springs; for alas! the League of Nations with its high ideals does not yet exist.

Still in considering this aspect of the Association, namely that in the future it may be called upon to assist in the defence of their hearths and homes do not let us make a mistake. Do not let us suppose that its objects or its principles are primarily connected with war. On the contrary, if the fundamental doctrine of the League of Nations is that it is to prevent war, it is to prevent war.

Another of its objects is to tie the Empire together and to desire for plunder from which war springs; for alas! the League of Nations with its high ideals does not yet exist.

Still in considering this aspect of the Association, namely that in the future it may be called upon to assist in the defence of their hearths and homes do not let us make a mistake. Do not let us suppose that its objects or its principles are primarily connected with war. On the contrary, if the fundamental doctrine of the League of Nations is that it is to prevent war, it is to prevent war.

Another of its objects is to tie the Empire together and to desire for plunder from which war springs; for alas! the League of Nations with its high ideals does not yet exist.

Still in considering this aspect of the Association, namely that in the future it may be called upon to assist in the defence of their hearths and homes do not let us make a mistake. Do not let us suppose that its objects or its principles are primarily connected with war. On the contrary, if the fundamental doctrine of the League of Nations is that it is to prevent war, it is to prevent war.

Another of its objects is to tie the Empire together and to desire for plunder from which war springs; for alas! the League of Nations with its high ideals does not yet exist.

Still in considering this aspect of the Association, namely that in the future it may be called upon to assist in the defence of their hearths and homes do not let us make a mistake. Do not let us suppose that its objects or its principles are primarily connected with war. On the contrary, if the fundamental doctrine of the League of Nations is that it is to prevent war, it is to prevent war.

Another of its objects is to tie the Empire together and to desire for plunder from which war springs; for alas! the League of Nations with its high ideals does not yet exist.

Still in considering this aspect of the Association, namely that in the future it may be called upon to assist in the defence of their hearths and homes do not let us make a mistake. Do not let us suppose that its objects or its principles are primarily connected with war. On the contrary, if the fundamental doctrine of the League of Nations is that it is to prevent war, it is to prevent war.