

Mito, and from this work we have received very encouraging and satisfactory reports. J. Cosand writes 4th mo. 5th: "The work at Mito is in a flourishing condition, in fact, it is more prosperous than any of our other mission stations outside of Tokyo. Mr. and Mrs. Kato are very faithful, sincere workers, and I wish we had more like them than is the case."

The Yushin Gakwan, or school for poor children, is continuing its good work, and the school has an attendance of about 50 at both the day school and Sabbath school. K. Ito, for whom Pickering College Y. P. S. C. E. have provided a scholarship in the Training School, is now assisting in this school. The Sei ai-Gakko or Training School for young men, has recently been discontinued, principally on account of lack of funds, there being no visible means of financial support to meet the very apparent need of extension and improvement. We regret much the closing of this school, but trust a way may open very soon by which this branch of the Friends Mission in Japan may be re-established.
