John A. Flett, president of the Trades and Labor Congress, was a visitor to the city this week.

Robert Glicking, Secretary Labor Bureau, paid Welland a visit this week in connection with some trouble up that way.

A movement has been set on foot by the Trades and Labor Council of Victoria, B.C., looking to the establishment of a school for technical education in their city.

The cigarmakers of Montreal have voted their London brothers $200 to assist them in their strike. Toronto Union gave the London boys $400, and also $5 to the builders' laborers.

The daily press during this week make the statement that the builders' laborers are about to call off their strike. This, however, is not in any way indicative, as no such move has yet been made.

The United Garment Workers of America have 30,000 members in New York City alone—as many and in some instances a greater membership than some international unions have altogether.

Six non-union girls employed by the Kellogg Switchboard and Supply Co.,

Chicago, have sued union pickets for $1,000 each, claiming they were assailed and prevented from working during the recent strike.

After staying out of strike all winter,

7,000 glove makers of New York have returned to work, now that the season has arrived when they can't wear gloves.

Nevertheless, they must get out their next winter's stock.

The printers of Halifax, N.S., have received an increase in wages of 10 per cent. Another effort to settle the strike between the Chronicle and its employees, a difficulty which has been in existence since last July, has been unsuccessful.

In looking back upon the London (Ont.) street railway strike of a few years ago, when the employees apparently lost the fight and the company gained what seemed a complete victory, an exchange says the company never got over the set-back it got in that strike.

The carpenters are still out, largely owing to the stubbornness of the bosses, who have refused arbitration in any form. The men are willing to arbitrate, and have so notified the bosses. The case of the bosses must be a very bad one when it will not stand arbitration.

The Chicago News has a knockout blow for the man who is always complaining of "high dues" and wants a cheaper union. It says: "You can get more wind out of a 10-cent one—and the same may be said of a 10-cent union man."

London Trades and Labor Council is arranging for a mammoth Labor Day celebration in Queen's Park. Labor affairs in the Forest City are forging ahead. William Burleigh was recently elected secretary of the Trades and Labor Council, and will be in charge of the organization and five members of the Trades and Labor Council.

The Ship Laborers' Union of St. John, N.B.,

Laborers' Society, of St. John, N.B., have amalgamated, and in future will be known as the Longshoremen's Association. This was accomplished through the committee of five from each organization and five members of the

Trades and Labor Council.

To show the extent of Chinese cheap labor used in British Columbia mining,

George Hargreaves, labor correspondent at New Westminster, says: "It is a fact that large parties of Chinese have been brought into the coal fields to perform certain work. Last week one party of 250 Chinamen passed through Nelson for Fernie."

Vacuumers, B.C., has 42 trade unions.

Victoria has 24, Nelson 20, Rossland,

Greenwood and Kamloops 7 each. Nanaimo and British Columbia have been
