

Miramichi and the North Shore, etc.

OSCARA Toboggan Club is expecting a visit from its Newmarket friends this, Thursday, evening.

NORTH BRITAIN.—Mr. W. C. Winslow has been appointed agent at Chatham, of the North British and Mercantile Insurance Company, of Edinburgh and London.

BRICK.—The contract for the brick for the new Highland Society Schoolhouse, Chatham, has been secured by G. A. & H. S. Fleet, of the Steam Brick Works, Nelson.

A B. AD.—The following is clipped from a Wisconsin paper:—On Monday, January 22, there was hailed by Ed. Dwyer with four barrel shot a large flock of geese, a three mile road, a load of logs containing 13 pieces, a seal of 9,210 feet.

"SATURDAY NIGHT."—We admit that the circumstances you state lay the party referred to in a position, but, even if the first of his surmises were true, it would not be the first episode of the kind. He will, perhaps, be a good deal of a "sore" next time, so that there will be no alarm.

ACCIDENT.—While Mr. Matthew Russell was adjusting a young English dog for the past few days employed in the dog show, he was struck by the dog on Monday morning for Chatham, where he joins the Wizard Oil Concert Co. to go on a permanent engagement at a good salary.

WIZARD OIL DID IT.—A Frederickian despatch of 18th, to the Sun says: "A. J. Foley Parker, a young English dog, for the past few days employed in the dog show, he was struck by the dog on Monday morning for Chatham, where he joins the Wizard Oil Concert Co. to go on a permanent engagement at a good salary."

THE LOSTEN LAW.—A correspondent, complaining of the suggestion made by the lobster commission, writes: "I think I understand all about lobsters and lobster fishing. There should be a law passed to stop fishing from July 15th to August 20th, and then give us the remainder of August and September as the lobstering season. As that time season will give the lobstermen ample time to spawn."—Halifax Chronicle.

A TEMPORARY SUBSTITUTION.—The first anniversary of the Blackville division, S. O. T., was celebrated a few evenings ago. There was a programme of songs, etc., interspersed with addresses suitable to the occasion, followed by an oyster supper, Miss Fairly Day, Grady and Mervan were the committee of management. This society has done good work during the past year.—Adelaide.

KILLED ON THE RAILWAY.—A correspondent writes: While a young man named Walter Thompson, aged 17, was engaged on a "working train" in removing snow from the I. O. R. yard at Campbellton, the engine was suddenly started, which caused Thompson, who was on a snow-heaped fat car, to lose his balance and fall under the wheels. His head was literally cut in two. Death of course was instantaneous.—Globe.

SOBERNESS TROUBLE.—A St. John despatch of 19th inst. says: "A meeting of the creditors of George Morrison, Jr., wholesale grocer, at present under suspension, was held on the 18th inst. at the Commercial Hotel, where a statement of his affairs was submitted showing liabilities amounting to $35,000, and assets of $20,000, $10,000 of which are book debts, and the remainder in stock. An offer of 43 cents, payable in 100 days, and eight months, was made, but was not accepted, and the meeting appointed a committee to further arrange the insolvent's affairs."

A CRUELTY AT MOUNT VERNON, Ill., last week, destroyed nearly three hundred residences and places of business, and unhoused from 1900 to 2000 people. In the fall of 1887 many persons were buried under the debris. Thirty-five were killed and twice as many injured, and the loss was enormous. Proceeding the destructive wind was a heavy fall of rain for half an hour, which drove all the inhabitants to shelter. This was followed by a slight snow storm, accompanied by lightning, and then by a furious hail which, falling into a funnel-shaped cyclone, struck the southwestern portion of the city, unroofing everything in its path and taking a diagonal course through the business part of the town.

POPULAR RIVER signal service station in Montana must be a nice place to live. In the months of June, July and August the temperature averages 90 degrees Fahrenheit, and for short seasons the thermometer ranges in the summer time by running up to 100.6. In July, the temperature averaged over 100 for fifteen days in succession. During the winter the temperature ranges from 51 below zero, and on New Year's day, 1888, it was 63.1. The latter was the coldest reading ever recorded in the United States. Such an extraordinary range of temperatures, from extreme heat to extreme cold, cannot be found in any other spot in the world.

MURDER WILL OUT.—A Banger despatch of 19th inst. says: "The trial of David L. Stain and Oliver Cromwell, for the murder of John W. Baron, cashier of the Dexter Savings Bank on Feb. 22, 1878, was commenced to-day. The history of the case and the mystery in which it is shrouded is still fresh in the mind of the public and the arrest of the two prisoners four months ago after ten years of uncertainty and doubt, makes the case one of absorbing interest and one of the most important known to the criminal practice of New England. The prisoners will be tried together. Ten years ago, they obtained this morning, and record was taken to 2.30 o'clock."

SAFE TO TAKE.—Referring to the fact that there is now a milk cow at the County Almshouse, we say: "The trial of David L. Stain and Oliver Cromwell, for the murder of John W. Baron, cashier of the Dexter Savings Bank on Feb. 22, 1878, was commenced to-day. The history of the case and the mystery in which it is shrouded is still fresh in the mind of the public and the arrest of the two prisoners four months ago after ten years of uncertainty and doubt, makes the case one of absorbing interest and one of the most important known to the criminal practice of New England. Yes, milk is a safe thing to take, and it is not "a dollar a bottle."

HYMNAL.—St. Bernard's R. C. church was the scene of an interesting event yesterday afternoon, the principal participants being Mr. D. D. Frost, formerly of Chatham, N. B., but lately a resident of Pullman, Ill., and Miss M. E. Daly, daughter of Mr. Edward Daly, of the I. O. R. of Montreal. The bride was supported by her sister, Miss Teresa F. Daly; the bridesmaid by Mr. Wm. Conway of the I. O. R. general office. The happy couple left by the night express for Chatham, where they propose to remain a short time. They intend making an extended visit to various parts in the New England states before returning to Pullman, where they propose to reside in future.—Transcript.

LITERARY LIVING AGE.—The numbers of The Living Age for February 11 and 18 contain several photographs, Edinburgh; Count Cavour, and Dr. Johnson on Ireland, Westminster; Shelley, by Matthew Arnold; A River of Rainforest Capital, and Edinburgh; Tennyson, Nineteenth Century; Elk-Hunting, Fortnightly; A Magyar Musician, National; The Three Evis of Destiny, Scottish; Marit, Gentleman's; Cesar Borgia, Blackwood; Thackeray's Letters, Time; The Chateau in China, and Professor Bonamy Brice, Spectator; The Possibility of a Small War in Europe, Economist; Atmospheric Curiousities, and Ice-boating in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, Fraser's Magazine; Natural, with the conclusion of "Richard Cable" and instalments of "Souvenir of an English," "A Financial Operation," and "My Uncle's Clock," and poetry. Messrs. Little & Co., Boston, are the publishers.

"SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN." We have made arrangements with the publishers of the Scientific American to receive subscriptions therefor in Chatham. It is a well known and useful paper. The Scientific American, when ordered through the ADVANCE office will be mailed direct to subscribers from the New York office of publication. Every number contains sixteen large pages, beautifully printed, and elegantly illustrated; it presents in popular style a descriptive record of the most novel, interesting and important advances in Science, Art, and Manufactures. It shows the progress of the world in respect to New Discoveries and Improvements, embracing Machinery, Mechanical Works, Engineering in all branches, Chemistry, Metallurgy, Electricity, Light, Heat, Architecture, Domestic Economy, Agriculture, Natural History, etc.

It should have a place in every Dwelling, Shop, Office, School or Library. Workmen, Farmers, Engineers, Officials, Merchants, Farmers, Teachers, Lawyers, Physicians, Clergymen—people in every walk and profession in life, will derive satisfaction and benefit from a regular reading of The Scientific American.

The prices of the different forms of the Scientific American are as follows: Scientific American, 1 year, $3 00. Scientific American Supplement, 1 year, $2 00. Scientific American and Supplement, both to address, 1 year, $7 00. Scientific American, Architect and Builder's edition, 1 year $2 50. The price of the Supplement is accompanied by the cash.

PERSONAL.—Mr. John P. Burdill, M. P., left yesterday for the coming session of the Local House. He intends to spend the few days intervening between his departure and his return in Chatham. Our St. John correspondent says that the story to the effect that Mr. Burdill would shortly be elected as Commissioner of Public Works has been "falsely denied" by a member of the government residing in St. John. Advertiser.

The Advertiser's friends, no doubt, imagine the above is all very witty, and it is as well, as it relates to a public matter of some importance, that the origin of the report should be known. There were two prominent fishery officers, an ex-journalist (John Miramichi), and an ex-M. P. of St. John together in a certain place in Chatham and they were talking of tickets such as those being published in the Chatham organ of the left wing of the great Liberal-Conservative party. One of the gentlemen proposed the following to the other:—

M. Adams, Esq. Robinson, Tabernacle, Wm. Jones, Esq. Rogers, An older gentleman than the former, said:—

Romain Savoy, J. L. Stewart, Adams, G. Watt, would be a good ticket. Then another of the party asked the ex-M. P. if he had heard that Mr. Ryan was to resign and Mr. Burdill take the position of Chief Commissioner of Public Works? The reply was that he had not. "It's all arranged," said the latter speaker, "and the fishery officer saw that the bill of news found its way into the columns of his favorite paper and his fellow-officer in Newcastle was delighted over the joke he had played off on his wise friend."

Scott Act in Westernland.

The Scott Act was carried in Westernland by a majority of over 700, and the temperance people of Westernland and the province are jubilant over the result. At the last election for repeal three years ago the act was sustained by a majority of 73 only. The town of Moncton polled 60 votes in favor of the act and 304 against, a majority of 396 in favor of the act. Sackville gave 300 majority for the act and Dorchester and Shediac were of the only two parties that went in favor of repeal.

Graduated with Honor.

In the recent examination for graduation certificates, conducted by Superintendent Maxwell, two young ladies of the Public School No. 22, Juv. St., successfully passed. They were Miss Rosemary Morrissey, aged fifteen years, a talented daughter of Dr. W. P. Morrissey, whose percentage was eighty, and Miss Nellie Gwynne, whose percentage was eighty-five. The examination papers were exceedingly difficult, and the young ladies may be congratulated on their success.—Fredericton Daily Star, Feb. 11.

Dr. Morrissey, father of Miss Rosemary, is a well known and successful physician in Chatham, paid Miramichi a visit in 1885, accompanied by his talented daughter, whose success, as above recorded, will be a source of pleasure to her many friends here.

The Small Fishery.

The President of the Miramichi Fishermen's Protective Association, Mr. Geo. Watt, has received the following letter from the Minister of Fisheries.

OTTAWA, 20 Feb. '88
My Dear Sir:—Your letter and memorial concerning the small fishery have been received. I have extended the season at the request of the fishermen, and I propose to make a personal enquiry into the matter as soon as a more definite permit. I should be glad to hear a deputation on the subject, yet it would likely be more convenient for them to meet me when I visit the County.

Yours truly,
Geo. E. Foster.

GEORGE WATT Esq.,
Chatham N. B.
The fishermen will be glad to know that the Minister is to come amongst them, and they must be prepared to acquaint him with the facts connected with the points at issue between them and the department. We have no doubt that the visit will result in a better understanding all round of the interests involved and disabuse the Minister's mind of some of the erroneous impressions growing out of the misleading official reports made to him.

The Advocate, we observe, confines a memorial sent by the fishermen's Association to the Minister of Fisheries, the season for small-fishing. It also publishes a cable expressing the thanks of a number of fishermen to Mr. M. Adams for his prompt and efficient manner in which he acted in the matter.

Mr. M. Adams vs. The Telegraph.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE ADVANCE:—The question of annexation to the neighboring Republic has several times been brought before the inhabitants of this Province through the columns of the press as well as upon the public platform, but of late years little has been said upon the subject. Recently, however, the subject has been revived by the St. John Globe, who advocated it in the interests of this Province and its inhabitants, which, it contended, would be greatly benefited by the movement. The St. John Globe, who, it appears, is opposed to such a movement, has mounted the l'opinion stump and denounces Mr. Ellis, the editor of the Globe as a traitor to his country and calls upon him to resign his seat as representative for St. John in the Dominion Parliament. The reason advanced by the Telegraph for taking this course are that the opinions expressed by Mr. Ellis upon this subject are not only foreign to those entertained by the great majority of his constituents, but that they are in direct opposition to the oath administered to and taken by members of Parliament previous to their entering upon the duties their constituents elected them to perform upon the floor of that house.

There are a great variety of opinions entertained, not only of the meaning of the word loyalty, but of the duties of a member of Parliament. Whatever may be the views and opinions of the Telegraph in respect to the power and authority the inhabitants of this province are in duty bound to be loyal to, I can assure that journal that, no matter what it may say to the contrary, they have already made up their minds upon the subject. They, above all things, consider that it is their duty to be loyal to the land of their birth, the land in which the great majority of them were born and bred, and their families, and at last, and they will not quietly consent to have their political, commercial and other interests sacrificed for the political or commercial benefit of any other power no matter how nearly allied it may be to them in blood or tradition.

With respect to the duties of members of Parliament—either in Great Britain or Canada—the people, whose representatives they are, expect them to carefully guard and protect their vested rights and liberties from being encroached upon either by the crown or the Government of the day. They also expect them to study their interests and advocate and support every measure that is calculated to better and improve the condition of the great mass of the people, socially, politically and commercially. When a member conscientiously and fearlessly pursues this course he loyally performs his duty, not only to his country, but to the consistency of his representative here.

In the early days of colonial history the inhabitants of these Provinces were brought up to believe that it was their duty to be loyal to the Mother Country and not to have much to do with the Colonies. They were taught to believe that the Colonies were to be loyal to the Mother Country and not to have much to do with the Colonies. They were taught to believe that the Colonies were to be loyal to the Mother Country and not to have much to do with the Colonies.

remain at home and I have not the least hesitation in asserting that in the majority of the country districts of the Maritime Provinces the inhabitants are as deeply interested and familiar with American politics and news as they are with that of the Dominion of Canada.

Although politically united to Ontario and Quebec, the inhabitants of the Maritime Provinces have a but little sympathy with them in comparison to that they have with the United States. This state of affairs is partly due to the facts we have just stated, but there is another and that is that the United States and not Ontario and Quebec is the great and increasing market in which the products of the Maritime Provinces find a profitable and a ready sale. These are facts with which our people are only too familiar but not only interested and let anything of a political nature take place that would hurt these markets being closed to our people and I would not attempt to say what would be the result.

The Telegraph is quite in the wrong with respect to the prevalence of annexation sentiments among the people of the Maritime Provinces. As long as the question is not brought prominently before the public we will have little or nothing to say about it, but let it once become a live issue and its male as well as female advocates will be found in every household throughout the land. In addition to this, from the same land which supplies Parrell with means to carry out his agitation will also come the means, supplied by the Maritime Provincialists, to carry annexation to a successful issue. Yours,
FACIS.

Chatham Feb. 15, 1888.

The Council of 1887 fully Sustained.

The Municipal Council of the County did two things in the Session of January 1888, which certain new members of last January took occasion, both in and out of session, to sneer at. One of those was the appointment of an inspector to enforce the laws relating to the gaming of the County, and the other the ordering of an assessment to provide for his salary. In the event of the fines to be secured being insufficient for the purpose. The power of the Council to appoint the inspector was challenged by means of an ill-considered injunction which has already been set aside and the fact that the Council was in the right established on the authority of the Supreme Court of the province. We do not suppose the anti-gaming councillors will now sneer as they did before.

In the Kings County case in which a rule nisi was obtained to quash the assessment of that Municipality, so far as it related to an amount to be assessed to pay the cost of an inspector, the rule was discharged on Monday last at Fredericton, with costs.

We commend these judgments particularly to the attention of the new councillors for Chatham and suggest that he will be obliged to find some other subject to sneer over at the next meeting of Council.

The Late Daniel Hustler.

The Gleaner gives some further particulars concerning the late Dan Hustler, who was killed on the 19th inst. by the Montreal & Atlantic Railway. He was a well known and popular man, and his death was a great loss to the community. He was a native of the United States, and had been residing in Chatham for some time. He was a member of the local militia, and was known for his bravery and courage. His death was a great shock to the community, and his funeral was attended by a large number of people.

There is a great variety of opinions entertained, not only of the meaning of the word loyalty, but of the duties of a member of Parliament. Whatever may be the views and opinions of the Telegraph in respect to the power and authority the inhabitants of this province are in duty bound to be loyal to, I can assure that journal that, no matter what it may say to the contrary, they have already made up their minds upon the subject.
