SATURDAY'S SERMONETTE.

"Men and women who love themselves very much, are not loved very much by other people."—Elder Brown's Proverbs. Self-consciousness destroys as surely as self-love and self-pity. It destroys beauty, as soon as the mirror and other flatterers tell the pretty girl of her beauty unless she has strong common sense—she becomes self-conscious and loses it. If she has a fine figure she calls attention to it by the little airs only known to the feminine mind. If she has beautiful eyes, bright, expressive, with long lashes, she makes the long lashes sweep her cheek as often as she can and flashes her eyes like searchlights, so that you may see how beautiful they are, and then their power is gone; she loses her beauty.

Men have lost their power because some one told them how strong they were, and it made them vain; and then they lost their strength. I heard, or rather tried to hear and understand, the message a speaker had for us. I think he was a preacher—I wanted to hear the message and I did not think nor care much about the messenger boy, but he told us about himself in every gesture and intonation of his voice. His presence was fine and voice was good, strong and sweet, and he was more conscious of his gifts than we were and so he lost his power over us, and his message failed to reach us, for he made us think of himself and he evidently thought more of himself than of his message.

Sensitive people who get offended at fancied slights or insults, are ruined by their self-consciousness. Exacting wives and husbands lose love for each other, because they insist that their demands shall receive first consideration. To receive, you must give. If you want a harvest give to the prepared ground the seed. If you want consideration consider others, if you want to receive love, love others. If you have lost your heart—to yourself, fall out of love with self, and you will be happier.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

HAIKAPAX, AUG. 2.—Ralph Isaacs, ex-civil engineer on the steamer Briard, attempted to commit suicide here yesterday. He leapt from the end of the wharf of the schooner Flora. He was rescued after some little trouble. The emergency over promptly him to take his life. He was arraigned this morning in the police court on the charge of having attempted to commit suicide.

ST. JOHN STAR.

ST. JOHN, N. B., AUGUST 3, 1902.

THE REPOSEFUL SENATE.

The senate is taking life easy. While the house of commons is struggling to get through with the work of the session the senators are taking a rest. It is their second or third long adjournment, and at no time when the sittings were going on did the senate keep long hours. There is no reason why one house should be so busy and the other so idle. Except that the senate cannot initiate money bills it has the same legislative power as the house of commons.

In the days when Sir John Abbott sat in that chamber as a member of the government and in the period when Sir Alexander Campbell was senate leader many of the government bills were initiated in the senate. The senators are in many ways better fitted than the members of the other house for dealing with the details of business measures. Some of the ablest lawyers in Canada are in that chamber. Men like Senators Belue, Dandurand, Pelletier and Kerr ought to be able to look after legislation on the government side, from a legal standpoint. There are few business men in the commons who have the same experience and knowledge as Senators Cox, Jones, Thibadeau, Power and Mackay on the government side, or Drummond, Forget, McKeen, Baker, Wood, McLaren of the opposition. There are also men of large political experience and knowledge—such as the secretary of state, who has been a member of two governments. Senators Sheehy, Watson, Church have been provincial ministers. These are on the government side. The opposition has Sir Mackenzie Bowell, a former premier of Canada, Senator Ferguson, who has a distinguished career as a member of provincial and federal ministries, Senators Aiken, Carling, Miller, Baker and many others. Then there are a score of members like Senators Ellis, Domville, King, Landerkin, McMullin, and Gibson, who before their appointment were active members of the house of commons.

These senators ought to be able to legislate. They receive the same indemnity as the members of the house of commons. They have no constituents to bound them with correspondence, no election campaign to stare them in the face. Their chamber is practically free from the discussion of the estimates and does not have a budget debate. Yet with full power to initiate public and private legislation the senate under the lead of Mr. Scott takes long and frequent adjournments and waits patiently for the commons to initiate almost everything. It may be said that the government cannot introduce departmental bills in the senate because the working ministers are all in the other house. This means that the two ministers in the senate are not capable of taking charge of important business. But when the sun said that Mr. Scott was not a competent leader for the senate the St. John Globe, whose editor is a member of that body, declared that the secretary of state was quite competent. No doubt he is competent to lead the senate at the pace which it now moves. But there was never a time when so little original work was done in the senate. It is all for the want of direction and leadership, for the majority of the senators are capable of doing and willing to do their share of legislative work.

A GIRL PROBLEM.

The police magistrate has his own difficulties. What is to be done with a young girl who has committed petty theft and who does not appear to fully realize the seriousness of the offence? She can, of course, be sent to jail to serve out a term with older and more accomplished criminals. If she were a Roman Catholic she could be sent to an industrial home, where she would be detained under religious influences, and kept busy at laundry work. If she were a boy she could be sent to the industrial home at Courtney Bay. As a girl and the daughter of Protestant parents, she may be sent to jail and be thus identified with the criminal class, or she may be fined, in which case the family would pay the penalty, or she may be censured and allowed to go. It is a hard choice among three evils.

Senator Watson of Manitoba is strongly in favor of the government's Grand Trunk Pacific policy. Mr. Watson was a member of the house of commons when his party was in opposition. He resigned in 1892 to take the portfolio of public works in the Greenway administration. In the provincial election of 1892, when the Greenway government was swept from power, Mr. Watson was defeated by a large majority in Portage la Prairie. A few months later he was called to the senate. Last month he took an active part in the campaign against the Roblin government, which was sustained notwithstanding an overwhelming vote. Mr. Watson is pretty certain to support any measure proposed by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, but it does not appear that he is in a position to speak for the Canadian West.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is the only Canadian who has taken seriously Mr. Carnegie's suggestion that the United States should abolish the bonding privilege as a punishment to the empire for the adoption of the preferential system. On the other hand Mr. Carnegie is the only person who seems to have been impressed with Sir Wilfrid's hysterics. The Laird of Skibo cannot conceal his delight that the premier of Canada has been affected to emotion by his arguments. It was a great day for Mr. Carnegie when Sir Wilfrid spoke.

In the course of his great railway speech, Sir Wilfrid Laurier boasted that he had done all he could to delay and prevent the construction of the short line railway through Maine. As this is the road which has done practically all the winter port business, and is the one likely to do it all for some years to come, it does not appear that St. John or the dominion generally has much reason to be grateful for the premier's intentions.

"The St. John Telegraph" thinks that the editor of Collier's Weekly knows a good thing when he sees it. It is most unfortunate that the temporary editor of the Telegraph has not the same gift of pleasing his readers.

This unkind cut is from the Fredericton Gleaner, which is a fellow worker in the Telegraph's political field. It is trying to provoke another Milligan versus Crockett libel suit?

There is to be a dry dock at Sydney with a shipbuilding equipment. This enterprise has been taken up by an engineering company of Boston and by local investors and is likely to be pushed rapidly forward. Meanwhile, the St. John dock company, which has several years start of the Sydney enterprise, is moving forward with extreme deliberation.

The retirement of Mr. Schwab has enabled the directors of the United States Steel Corporation to cut down expenses. The salary of the president has been reduced from $100,000 to $75,000, but Mr. Corey is said to have a chance to make up the deficiency by a commission on the profits.

Mr. Fielding, acting minister of railways, is smashing Mr. Blair's estimates. Mr. Blair asked for $637,000 for rolling stock. Mr. Fielding proposes to do the business with $227,000.

PUBLIC MEETING AT SUSSEX.

SUSSEX, N. B., Aug. 7.—A public meeting was held in Medley Memorial hall at 10 a. m. today to hear the report of the committee recently appointed by Attorney General Pugsley to define the boundaries of the district proposed for incorporation as the town of Sussex. Attorney General Pugsley was appointed chairman. The object of the report is to ascertain the boundaries of Sussex to facilitate incorporation. Some of the suggestions embodied in the report were objected to. A vote was taken favoring the extension of the boundaries from Roachville bridge to McMonagie bridge at Upper Corner. The chairman stated that he would make representations at once to the governor in council, and a decision would be arrived at that would be generally satisfactory. The meeting then adjourned.

ONCE REIL'S RIGHT HAND MAN.

Gabriel Dumont, who was Louis Reil's right hand man in the rebellion in Northwest Canada 18 years ago, has returned to the territory from the United States, where he has been living since his chief was executed, after the suppression of the trouble. Dumont, in his younger days bore a great reputation as a scout and hunter, and many romantic stories are told of his feats and adventures in the backwoods. He was outlawed for a long time after the Reil rebellion. He proved himself, beyond his experienced knowledge of the woods and streams, a military strategist of great talent, and he gave the dominion forces much trouble in 1885.

A POSER.

An inspector of schools on one occasion told a class that they were the dullest set of boys he had ever met. A few days later he received through the post an effusion addressed "To the Examiner What Goes to School."

It was a long letter, in which the writer complained of the gentleman's smartness and wound up as follows: "If we're the dullest set of boys you ever met, why do you set such posers? Why don't you give us a chance? You ask us questions as men couldn't answer. Any rule can ask questions. I'll ask you one of feythers. 'If it takes three hundred and forty-five and a half yards of white codderoy (codroy?) to make a helphant a black waistcoat, how long would it take a lame black beetle to crawl through a barrel of treacle?' There, answer that.—London Globe.

CUSHING PULP MILL.

Capt. Edward Partington of Manchester, England, is registered at the Royal. He is here in connection with the Cushing pulp mill, in which he is largely interested.

Capt. Partington said to the Sun last night that on an average 130,000 tons of pulp were shipped annually from the mills in which he is interested in New Brunswick, Austria and New Brunswick, 9,000 tons from New Brunswick alone. England and the United States were the two markets he sold in. The shipments this year would be in advance of the average.

It required a good deal of skill and attention to business now, he said, in order to make ends meet. Pulp wood has increased 50 per cent. in price, and the product has dropped 25 per cent since he commenced business in New Brunswick. The New Brunswick industry, nevertheless, he said, was paying, and his intention was to continue it to its fullest capacity.

Mr. Cushing, who has been practically manager for the past two months, is doing good work. Mr. Cushing is a stockholder, but no longer manager.

The little one is at present well out of danger, although the case for some time was a very serious one.

A REMARKABLE TENDENCY OF CANADIAN PEOPLE.

"It is remarkable the change which has come over our people with regard to higher quality foodstuffs," said a wholesale merchant of Halifax to a press representative a few days ago. "Ten years ago we sold mostly medium and lower grade flour in all parts of this province, but today the demand is largely for Ogilvie's, the best flour that Canada produces. The people now realize that it is false economy to buy low grade flour when they can get Ogilvie's at a slightly higher cost. They are following the lead of H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, who chose Ogilvie's Flour for the Royal Household."

The house had been full of aunts come to spend the holidays, and the baby's six-year-old brother was heard one morning confiding his woe to his father:

"Say, papa, do you know, I've had to sleep a whole week in a room full of women?"—Lippincott's Magazine.

"There is a SOMETHING about VIM TEA that is to be found in no other tea" so said a Saint John lady to a grocer the other day. She did not know exactly what or how to describe the difference, only there was a "something" VIM TEA had that other teas lacked. That something was a little more QUALITY.
