Provincial Live Stock Sale at Fredericton

Agricultural Department of Provincial Legislature will Again Help Farmers of the Province to Secure Good Stock-- Catalogues Contain Much Important Information.

The catalogue of the first provincial auction sale of pure bred live stock, as advertised in another column, has been received and contains interesting information to all who want to secure good stock for the improvement of their horses or cattle. As announced in the legislature by both the Commissioner of Agriculture and the Provincial Secretary, this sale is in the nature of an experiment by the Department of Agriculture as affording a chance not only for breeders and agricultural societies to secure good stock but it also affords a chance for the general public to secure good stock for their own use.

The list in the catalogue shows that some of our breeders are taking advantage of the experiment, for in addition to the Ayrshire importation which is offered, there will be quite a number of horses and some cattle put in by breeders.

The Ayrshires which were selected for the department by Geo. E. Fisher of Chatham, from some of the best stock in Ontario and Quebec, number twenty-eight head, fourteen young bulls and fourteen cows and heifers, all of them selected from the standpoint of milk production being the progeny of cows that have the best milking records of the breed in Canada. They can today be inspected at the Exhibition Grounds, Fredericton, where the sales will begin tomorrow morning at 9.30 a. m.

In addition to the Ayrshires, three Shorthorn bulls are offered by R. A. Snowball of Chatham, ranging in age from 15 months to 20 months, just the right ages to put in the herd; they are well bred and well grown, one of them being from an especially heavy milking cow.

C. H. Giles of Fredericton offers a Holstein bull which has headed his herd for two years, one of the best of the breed in the province and bought by Mr. Giles at a long price three years ago. He is now just in his prime and is only sold to avoid inbreeding.

The horses offered include three thoroughbred young stallions, a French coach stallion, a Hackney and a Clydesdale, also a thoroughbred mare and six Clydesdale mares recently imported from Scotland. Morris Scott, Gagetown, offers a stallion foaled in 1909 out of the mare Lawson Pink, of the same importation, a beautiful type of this beautiful breed and also thoroughly broken to harness and J. E. Taylor, Rousesay, offers a yearling standing 15 hands and weighing 1050 pounds, out of Spice, the largest and highest priced mare of the Kentucky importation, this colt is a giant for his age and has the best of quality

With his size, A. A. Laflin, St. Stephen who has been so successful in raising two beautiful foals from his mare The Charmer, now offers her. She will be remembered as one of the handsomest mares of the importation, and she is now thoroughly broken and accustomed to automobiles, electric and steam cars and is a good buy for any one wanting a driver, let alone getting one of the best bred breeding mares in Canada.

H. C. Jewett, Fredericton, is selling Galloway the well known French coach stallion, a sure breeder that has proved his worth by his many good colts.

R. A. Snowball, Chatham, offers his yearling prize winning Hackney, Cock 'O' the North, that has first prizes at all Maritime exhibitions to his credit as well as championship at Halifax for the best carriage horse of any age or breed. He also contributes a yearling Clydesdale stallion, a prize winner, and a splendid type of the breed.

A. H. Thomson's Clydesdale mares, as above stated are fresh from Scotland, and a well bred growthy lot, just plain growing condition never having been fitted up for show or sale, therefore their buyers will see them as they are and not fattened up to cover possible defects. Their breeding is of the best in Scotland, such as Baron Cedric, Silver Cup and Blacoe Sensation standing for them. They show the best of quality in bone and hair and are well bodied, strong jointed, long quartered fillies that will grow into the best of brood mares. Four of them are coming two years old and two of them coming three years old. Mr. Thomson will have these mares and also two Clydesdale stallions, and two Percheron stallions at Phair's stables today for inspection. The stallions, which are grand good individuals will be offered for sale privately.

MRS. CARRIE NATION IS NOT DEAD YET.

Leavenworth, Kan., April 10.—Reports that Mrs. Carrie Nation, the Kansas saloon smasher died today are untrue. Doctors at the local sanitarium at which Mrs. Nation is a patient, standing 15 hands and weighing 1050 pounds, out of Spice, the largest and highest priced mare of the Kentucky importation, this colt is a giant for his age and has the best of quality Western Coal Operators in Telegram to Hon. Mackenzie King Say They Tried to Avert the Strike.

Fernie, B. C., April 10.—The meeting of the executive of the Western Coal Operators Association called presumably to take into consideration the action of the department of labor regarding the calling of a conciliation board under the Lemieux act, is now in session at Fernie, with the new manager of the Crow's Nest Pass Company, W. R. Wilson, in attendance.

Mr. Wilson arrived in Frank on the Westbound express this morning and Mr. Ashworth having gone up on the last night's express both managers were in attendance at the conciliation board which was held Saturday night at which speeches were made to men explaining in two or three minutes the position of the coal operators and the department of labor.

Reports from Burnis, Passburg, Frank, and Colman state that everything is quiet no operations being carried on except provided for by mutual agreement. A few men are doing such work at the above named places. At Colman there are only twelve men working at repair work and everything is perfectly quiet. The following is a copy of the telegram despatched by the western coal operators' association to Hon. Mackenzie King, minister of labor, Ottawa: "J. McNeill has lauded the western coal operators' association copies of your telegrams to him dated April 7th and 8th. From the tenor of your telegrams and press reports your remarks in the House on Friday, we feel that you are not fully informed as to the action taken by the operators."

FEARS TEMPTATION, RETURNS TO PRISON

St. Paul, Minn., April 11.—Tired of his lone fight against temptation and anxious to see the familiar faces of his old time friends and associates, "Sinbad the Sailor," whose true name is Charles Price, decided to return to the state prison at Stillwater.

Price has been tending the lawn and greenhouse at Robert C. Wright's home. He told the state's prison authorities that he was too much for him that he feared he would break his parole.

"Sinbad" did not get his old position in charge of the greenhouse where he made the reputation that resulted in his release, when he returned to the situation. Instead he was placed in the blacking shops as a "striker," temporarily until the authorities are enabled to investigate the causes leading to his return.

He was convicted of murder in the first degree, but in the last winter, The Wight house is on River Boulevard, near the Town and County Club. In the summer "Sinbad" found plenty to keep him busy, but with the coming of winter his work slackened and he became morose.

It was his custom to journey once a month to the Stillwater prison, where for 19 years he had been a prisoner. The pleasure he derived from these visits, say the authorities, made him reluctant to return to St. Paul on these occasions.

The prison authorities have only "Sinbad's" story of his return and they will investigate further, believing Price may have broken his parole and feeling guilty returned of his own accord to captivity.

He was convicted of murder in the second degree. His victim was a fellow tramp, whom he killed with a pick axe in North St. Paul. He was sent to the state prison December 2, 1890, for life. On July 13, 1910, the Pardon Board commuted his sentence to thirty years. Having served more than fifteen years Price was eligible to parole, and this was granted him August 1.

While in prison he acquired some little fame as a modern Barbant. He succeeded in producing a number of lemons by grafting grape fruit upon lemon trees. One of his lemons weighed forty-eight ounces and had a maximum circumference of nineteen and one-half inches. He also grew other hybrid plants. It is probable he may be released if the investigation shows him guiltless and a new position may be secured for him.

Under his commutation Price still has two years of his sentence to serve at the prison here, but he can be discharged a free man without the restraint of a parole.

ST. JOHN TEMPERANCE ALLIANCE ORGANIZED

Movement to Abolish Treating System, and Eventually Make City Dry, Started in Every Day Club Rooms.

There was a fair attendance at the Every Day Club room last night when the St. John Temperance Alliance was organized. The movement was started a short time ago by the club members, and invitations were sent to the different churches and temperance societies to attend last night's meeting. There was a good attendance of the club members, but the churches and societies were not as well represented as was expected. The delegates in attendance were as follows:

- Frank Murphy, Calvin church; Ald. Hays, Portland Methodist church; Rev. A. A. Graham, and Frank McFarlane, St. David's church; W. H. McGerman, German street Baptist church; James Patterson and J. S. Smith, Waterloo street Baptist church; E. A. Coupe and C. G. Flewelling, Congregational church; A. E. Coates and Kendrick, Ouburg street Christian church; Miss Scott, North Street Baptist church; Rev. D. Hutchinson, Main street Baptist church; C. Fraser MacTavish and E. T. C. Knowles, Centenary Methodist church; P. McFarlane and J. Sullivan, Temple of Honor; P. M. Stephens, Sons of Temperance; H. McCavour, Gurney Division; R. N. Cother, N. B. Temperance Federation; T. W. Moore, No Surrender Lodge I. O. G. T.

A. M. Belding was chosen chairman and E. T. C. Knowles, secretary. In opening the meeting Mr. Belding stated that he had sent out 60 invitations to churches and temperance organizations and he expected that there would have been a larger attendance of delegates. The club is a total abstinence organization and they wish to work with the churches and other organizations in the cause of temperance. He thought that more good would be obtained if all were working together. He submitted the following propositions to the meeting for their approval:

1st.—That there be a rigid inspection of all liquors offered for sale in St. John.

2nd.—That a city-wide total abstinence campaign, organized and directed by a strong central committee be instituted.

3rd.—A campaign to secure an amendment of the license law to make the treating habit in liquor saloons illegal.

4th.—A local option campaign to be begun at once and to be carried steadily on throughout the year.

The chairman said that it was a surprise to find the number of church members who say they can't sign the total abstinence pledge. What was wanted was the workers for temperance to get into touch with the business men, the employees and the heads of the labor organizations, to have especially prepared literature and to hold public meetings. Prince Ward was known in slang phrase as "The Boose Bell," there being so many saloons in it and if the alliance was successful and local option carried in Prince and Wellington wards, there would not be a saloon on King Street or Brunswick street to the Marsh bridge. It would increase the valuation of property and would make matters better. There was a whole year to work on the campaign and he thought it could be carried successfully. He also stated that he had the promise of hearty co-operation of the Roman Catholic organizations.

Each of the propositions was then put to a vote and they were carried unanimously.

Rev. D. Hutchinson gave a brief address in which he said that he was heartily in favor of the movement as it meant they were getting down to a practical issue. He would do all in his power to help.

Rev. A. A. Graham said he was in favor of the movement and spoke on each of the propositions adopted.

Some of the delegates thought that a movement should be made to try and carry the whole city for prohibition.

T. W. Moore of Fairville stated that the temperance work in Fairville was going along well and they expected to have local option there in a year. On motion of Rev. Mr. Graham, the president and vice-president of the Every Day Club with E. T. C. Knowles were appointed a nominating committee to nominate officers for the alliance and submit a general report of the work at the next meeting to be called by them.

The meeting then adjourned.

Our Present Complicated System

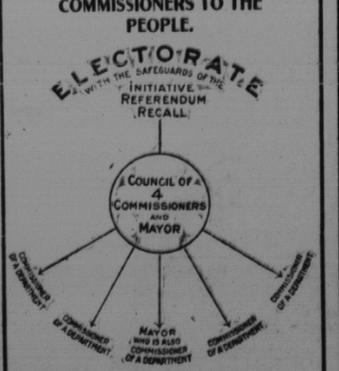

NO INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY TO THE PEOPLE.

Note how the citizen having business to transact can be referred from council to board, from board to committee, from committee to some official, and from that official perhaps back to where he started. What has been YOUR experience in transacting business with the City?

The Elective Commission System

INDIVIDUAL RESPONSIBILITY OF THE COMMISSIONERS TO THE PEOPLE.

Under this system a citizen having business to transact with the city gets quick action by going at once to a Commissioner who has power to act in ordinary routine affairs. In a matter requiring the attention of the Council, it is only one step further, and it is disposed of at once.

WAITERS VICTIMS OF TRAIN ROBBERS

Masked Bandit Gets $40 From Dining Car Employees On Iron Mountain At St. Louis.

St. Louis, April 4.—Iron Mountain passenger train No. 4 was boarded early today within the city limits by an armed masked robber, who robbed the steward of the dining car four negro waiters and a negro chef. The robber, as far as has been disclosed, in reports to the police of the occurrence, did not get more than $40.

This train is the same one on which the Pacific Express Company's messenger was held up and robbed a month ago by two masked and armed men.

No arrests were made in the former case, and the police are inclined to believe that one of the men who participated in the first hold-up, emboldened by his first success, probably held up the train today. No passengers were molested. The man leaped from the moving train and escaped.

S. A. LAND GRANTS.

Ottawa, April 10.—Up till April 10 the total South African veteran war grants issued were 7128 of which 5927 are off the market, 4571 being located by substitutes, and 599 by veterans. 1291 are still going around the markets.

RECIPROCITY AND THE FAVORED NATIONS.

Washington, April 10.—The customs court in a decision today, held in effect that the so-called "favoured nation" clause in the existing commercial treaties, with England, France and Germany, does not restrict the United States in affording the proposed reciprocity agreement with Canada.
