A CORRESPONDENT writes -" A lectute, by James Croil, Esq. of Montreal, was delivered in St. Matthew's church, Woodlands, on the evening of January 29th, on 'The Mediterranean.' Mr. Cross treated his subject in a most inter esting and masterly manner. Humour and pathos, the gay and the grave, inter est and instruction, were most skilfully and happily combined, rendering the lecture one of the most enjoyable, intel lectual treats to which we have ever listened. The meeting was enlivened by several choice selections of music by the choir The proceeds were devoted to the Poreign Mission Fund of the Church. The pastor occupied the chair."

REV C. F. CHINIQUY has been lectur ing to large audiences in Lindsay, Fen elon Palls and other places in Central Ontario. The Victoria Warder is not well pleased with some Protestants who did not give their countenance to the rever end lecturer It says with some warmith It is a noteworthy fact that, though Rev. Mr. Chiniquy had been cursed from the pulpits of the Church of Rome, though Roman Catholics were forbidden, to attend the lecture, though weak backed Protestants remained away, attend the hall was well filled. Protestants are beginning to remark that certain so-called Protestant merchants are ever ready to give liberally to every Romish horse-race, bazzar, raffle, lottery, concert, or landan go of any and every description, and that these same worthies are unable to buy a ticket or attend anything under special Protestant auspices They are being noted and henceforward will be watched; and, if it is a simple question of trade, why Protestants feel they world rather deal with staunch Protestants or Roman Catholics than with these halfand-half fellows."

A CORRESPONDENT writes to the RE-VIAW .- "The first anniversary services in connection with the opening of the Jubileo Presbyterian church, Stayner, were held on Sabbath, January 20th. The day was cold and somewhat stormy, but, notwithstanding, there were large congregations at the forenoon and evening services The Rev. D H Fletcher, of Hamilton, kindly undertook to conduct the services, at some inconvenience to himself, and delivered discourses which were much admired and enjoyed On Monday evening, 21st, a tea meeting was held, which must have been attended by 500 persons, if one may judge from the receipts. Alter tea in the basement, the chair was taken, shortly after eight o'clork, by the pastor, and the Rev. G. W Sievenson, of the Methodist church, at his request, engaged in prayer. The rhoir sang a numbe of snihems. The Rev G. M. Miligan, B.A., of Toronto, occupied the greater part of the evening with a lecture on 'The Contented Man, Who is he?' The collections on Sabbath and proceeds of teameeting, were about $170.

THE Woodstock Times says: "Rev Wm Robettson, M.A., who preached in Knox Church, yesterday morning and evening, is the honoured father of the Paris Presbytery. He has been settled in his Chesterfield charge for no less than thirty years. The affectionate regard en-tertained for him by his park speple, and by the residents of all that district round about, is the best evidence of the faithfulness with which he has performed his pastoral duties. As al prescher, Mr. Robertson is a master of chaste and cloquent English, while his semons give evidence of careful thought and ripe scholarship. Were his voice and elocution equal to the form and substance of his discourses he would be one of the most powerful preachers in his Church, as he is one of its most thoughtful and largest and most wealthy of all the fural congregations of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. The fact that during so many years he has maintained his usefulness and popularity is creditable alike to himself and to the people whose pastor he listened to with attentive interest and pleasure by the people of Knox Church."

A CORRESPONDENT writes to the RE-VIEW :- "The new St Paul'e church, 7th Concession, Vaughan, Presbytery of Tomorning and evening, in such a manner as will long be remembered by his hearers, so appropriate and effective were his discourses. On each occasion the church was crowded to overflowing. The Sabbath collections and proceeds of the entertainment amounted to the handsome sum of $560. The financial affairs of the new church are in a very satisfactory condition. The church is a brick building, 52 x 33, inside, with stone basement, costing about $4,500.
At a congregational meeting held on January 21st, receips and expenditure were examined, and a debt of $1,100 was still found to be existing; of this, $500 was promptly subscribed, and the building committee feel satusfied that the balance will be obtained in a few days."

The Ladies' Ald Society had raised $600 for carpeting the church, and the Organ Fund Committee had succeeded in extinguishing the debt upon the instrument. A CORRESPONDENT writes to the REview:—" On Sabbath Feb. 3rd, the Rev. Principal Caven, of Knox College, preached morning and evening at the opening of the New Presbyterian church, Churchill, Presbytery of Barrie. The beautiful edifice was filled to its utmost capacity at both services, all available atanding from being occupied, many had to go away not being able to obtain admission. The learned Doctor has lost none of his characteristic clearness and impressiveness, both discourses being very highly appreciated. The social on Monday evening was a great success, about 500 people being present at the tables. As the church seats about 300, an overflow meeting was held in the commodious basement, where Rev. Stuart Acheson occupied the chair. The speak-ers, the Revs. Measts Grant, Dr. Franer, . I. Cochrane, E. D. Murphy, and Stuart Acheson, addressed each meeting. Excellent music was supplied by the Churchill choir and a quartette from Barrie Presbyterian choir who in turn sang in the body of the church and basement. About 9 30 p.m. a social gathering long to be remembered was brought to a close by singing the long metre Doxology, the Rev. E. D. Murphy pronouncing the Benediction The Rev. G. E. Freeman B A, of North Toronto, preached last Sabbath morning and evening. The church is built of red brick with white brick facings. The style of architecture is Romanesque. There are two entrances in front. The main or bell tower is 7! feet in height. The scating is arranged on the amphitheatre plan, the floor sloping towards the pulpit. MET at Orillia, January 29th. A committee was appointed to prepare a minute in reference to the death of the late Rev. S. Porter. Mr. Henry Knoz was elected Moderator for next six months. There was little business of general interest. A few Session records were submitted for examination. The Presbytery received satisfactory accounts of the spiritual and financial condition of the congregations of Orillia and Barrie. A discussion arose on the manner in which congregations are required by the Statistical Committee to report contributions to the Schemes. No sum, contributed for Home or Foreign Mission work, or for other Schemes, is allowed to enter the columns for the Schemes, unless it has passed through the hands of the Agents of the Church The Presbytery agreed to memorialize the Assembly on this matter, and to ask that all contributions to the Schemes be entered into the proper columns, whether they have been paid to the agents of the Church or not. A committee was ap-pointed to comfort and counsel the congregation of Airlie, who have hitherto been permitted to eccupy a building deeded to another body, and who have recently had their subscriptions to the building returned, with the intimation that they are no longer to worship in it. A special meeting of Presbytery will be held at Beston, on Pebruary 19th, at 2 p.m., to consider a call given by the congregations of Tottenham and Beeton. The chief interest of this session of Presbytery was in the fact, that it was the day of the annual meeting of the Presbyterial W.P.M. Society. afternoon a deputation of the Society waited on the Presbytery, and presented the report for the last year. It indicated progress, but the particulars cannot be given here, as a copy was pot left. The deputation was assured of the interest and sympathy of the Presbytery in the work; and Mesars. McLeod and Grant were appointed to convey to the Society the sentiments of the brethren. In the evening a meeting with the Society, and a considerable number of others, was held in the church, when addresses were delivered by Messrs. McLeod and Duncan, on Foreig Missions, and by Mr. Findlay on Home Mission work. The choir was represented on the platform, and the proceedings were enlivened with hymns, and antheme, and a solo by Mrs. Hunter, the singing of which, and the organ accompaniment of Miss K. World, the organist, were much admired.

At the pext general meeting a conference on the state of religion will be held. Naking Fowder.
