en of Quetd would one ee of their very likeness to this secret

erted to the and more of Malant-

Aztees; or natiuh—the

of the Fea-

conrad, to object of before him good King ause, howat, a noble ad into his idding his heer until he saw him again. Our hero, then, with a lightened spirit, followed after his new conductor, who left the court of reception, and held his course rapidly along a lateral corridor of the palace.

END OF VOL. II.

LONDON:
Printed by Schulze and Co., 13, Poland Street.