

DANIELS' CRAZY ACT

Attempted to Murder Blanche Sutherland and Killed Himself.

WOMAN MAY RECOVER

Couple Met For the First Time Last Tuesday—Incidents That Led Up to the Tragedy—Both Principals Have Relations Here.

Creed by his strange infatuation for a woman who cared nothing for him Caleb Daniels Friday night fired three bullets from a .38-calibre revolver into the body of Blanche Sutherland, an inmate of the "Clipper Shades" on Hogan's alley, and then turned the weapon upon himself, putting a ball into his brain and killing himself instantly.

The tragedy occurred in the resort mentioned, shortly after 9 o'clock. Daniels' body now lies in the morgue. The object of his insane affection the corpse, but it is thought by the attending physician, Dr. Bowers and Armstrong, that her chances for recovery are good. A corse steel is thought to have been the one that intervened to prevent the infliction of a mortal wound. At least a bullet that was aimed at the woman's abdomen struck the steel and was apparently deflected.

Story of the Tragedy. The circumstances leading up to and attending the suicide and attempted murder make an interesting story of man's infatuation and woman's indifference, culminating in the determination of the former, that both shall die rather than live apart.

Daniels, who was employed as a night attendant in the Sisters' hospital, met Blanche Sutherland last Tuesday. His attachment for her was at once declared, and he was in love with her and he proposed marriage to her. She, however, was not so easily won, and she went away with him to some place where he could have her smiles all to himself.

For 36 hours he was in and near the "Clipper Shades," constantly spending money on her, and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

Determined to see her, he went to her room, and he would never be realized and the conviction set his brain on fire. The more he thought over it, and he could think of nothing else—the wilder he became. Wednesday morning he had attended in the hospital, and he was going to tell her that he would not leave her, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

He talked suicide, too. He revealed about her and swore he would get a revolver and kill her and then himself. Mr. Moffatt threatened to have him arrested if he did not cease his wild talk. Finally he calmed down and consented to go back to the hospital and go to work. He told the doctor he had been to his absence of two days. He even went to see her and he was very kind and satisfying her every whim.

He talked suicide, too. He revealed about her and swore he would get a revolver and kill her and then himself. Mr. Moffatt threatened to have him arrested if he did not cease his wild talk. Finally he calmed down and consented to go back to the hospital and go to work. He told the doctor he had been to his absence of two days. He even went to see her and he was very kind and satisfying her every whim.

He talked suicide, too. He revealed about her and swore he would get a revolver and kill her and then himself. Mr. Moffatt threatened to have him arrested if he did not cease his wild talk. Finally he calmed down and consented to go back to the hospital and go to work. He told the doctor he had been to his absence of two days. He even went to see her and he was very kind and satisfying her every whim.

He talked suicide, too. He revealed about her and swore he would get a revolver and kill her and then himself. Mr. Moffatt threatened to have him arrested if he did not cease his wild talk. Finally he calmed down and consented to go back to the hospital and go to work. He told the doctor he had been to his absence of two days. He even went to see her and he was very kind and satisfying her every whim.

He talked suicide, too. He revealed about her and swore he would get a revolver and kill her and then himself. Mr. Moffatt threatened to have him arrested if he did not cease his wild talk. Finally he calmed down and consented to go back to the hospital and go to work. He told the doctor he had been to his absence of two days. He even went to see her and he was very kind and satisfying her every whim.

He talked suicide, too. He revealed about her and swore he would get a revolver and kill her and then himself. Mr. Moffatt threatened to have him arrested if he did not cease his wild talk. Finally he calmed down and consented to go back to the hospital and go to work. He told the doctor he had been to his absence of two days. He even went to see her and he was very kind and satisfying her every whim.

He talked suicide, too. He revealed about her and swore he would get a revolver and kill her and then himself. Mr. Moffatt threatened to have him arrested if he did not cease his wild talk. Finally he calmed down and consented to go back to the hospital and go to work. He told the doctor he had been to his absence of two days. He even went to see her and he was very kind and satisfying her every whim.

He talked suicide, too. He revealed about her and swore he would get a revolver and kill her and then himself. Mr. Moffatt threatened to have him arrested if he did not cease his wild talk. Finally he calmed down and consented to go back to the hospital and go to work. He told the doctor he had been to his absence of two days. He even went to see her and he was very kind and satisfying her every whim.

STORY OF A DREAM

How Conrad Zimmermann Lost His Hard Earned Savings.

A SENSATION AT TRAIL

German Winerwurst Peddler Has a Vision and Wakes Up in the Water—Minus $320—He Keeps His Grief to Himself.

TRAIL, May 22.—[Special.]—It sounds like a hop dream but it really happened. The particulars are hard to get. Mr. Zimmermann who knows, is loath to tell. When questioned he merely looks away with a sad far away look on his round Teutonic face.

"To think about it, it makes me to feel bad," says he, with plaintive quietness, and the questioner has to be content with hearsay.

Though very few people know it his real name is Conrad Zimmermann. They call him "Winerwurst," or, more frequently, "Wienies," for short. He is a familiar figure in Trail. He came here last winter from Portland. There was an opening for a nocturnal merchant in hot lunch. He filled it. All winter long he peddled winerwurst and the all-night resorts. With his steaming tangle can and his bland, imperishable face his arrival was always welcome. He announced his coming with a long, mellow canticle that has become well known in Trail. "Pumpkinlike nut limburger cateniches, hart boiled augs, cut ham out-red hot vie-perwurst," quoth he.

Being a frugal soul he prospered. Not only did he prosper, but he prospered well. He had a good demand for his goods and he made much money. A little while ago his savings reached $300 and were steadily climbing up. He had a deep distrust of banks—has not since they broke—so he carried his savings away with him, securely tucked away down in his trousers. Apparently he was very hard pushed for money. The wily German carefully fostered the idea. Should he take the whole town into his confidence? Not he. Everybody supposed that he was broke—nobody except Aaron Racer. Mr. Racer was the Dutchman's boarder, for he had taken in a boarder to reduce the cost of living in his little boathouse. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money.

A little while ago his savings reached $300 and were steadily climbing up. He had a deep distrust of banks—has not since they broke—so he carried his savings away with him, securely tucked away down in his trousers. Apparently he was very hard pushed for money. The wily German carefully fostered the idea. Should he take the whole town into his confidence? Not he. Everybody supposed that he was broke—nobody except Aaron Racer. Mr. Racer was the Dutchman's boarder, for he had taken in a boarder to reduce the cost of living in his little boathouse. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money.

With the coming of spring he decided on a more active career than came with his winerwurst business. In days gone by he had been a sailor at Bremen in the faraway fatherland. So he started a boathouse and again he prospered. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money. A little while ago his savings reached $300 and were steadily climbing up. He had a deep distrust of banks—has not since they broke—so he carried his savings away with him, securely tucked away down in his trousers. Apparently he was very hard pushed for money. The wily German carefully fostered the idea. Should he take the whole town into his confidence? Not he. Everybody supposed that he was broke—nobody except Aaron Racer. Mr. Racer was the Dutchman's boarder, for he had taken in a boarder to reduce the cost of living in his little boathouse. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money.

With the coming of spring he decided on a more active career than came with his winerwurst business. In days gone by he had been a sailor at Bremen in the faraway fatherland. So he started a boathouse and again he prospered. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money. A little while ago his savings reached $300 and were steadily climbing up. He had a deep distrust of banks—has not since they broke—so he carried his savings away with him, securely tucked away down in his trousers. Apparently he was very hard pushed for money. The wily German carefully fostered the idea. Should he take the whole town into his confidence? Not he. Everybody supposed that he was broke—nobody except Aaron Racer. Mr. Racer was the Dutchman's boarder, for he had taken in a boarder to reduce the cost of living in his little boathouse. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money.

With the coming of spring he decided on a more active career than came with his winerwurst business. In days gone by he had been a sailor at Bremen in the faraway fatherland. So he started a boathouse and again he prospered. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money. A little while ago his savings reached $300 and were steadily climbing up. He had a deep distrust of banks—has not since they broke—so he carried his savings away with him, securely tucked away down in his trousers. Apparently he was very hard pushed for money. The wily German carefully fostered the idea. Should he take the whole town into his confidence? Not he. Everybody supposed that he was broke—nobody except Aaron Racer. Mr. Racer was the Dutchman's boarder, for he had taken in a boarder to reduce the cost of living in his little boathouse. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money.

With the coming of spring he decided on a more active career than came with his winerwurst business. In days gone by he had been a sailor at Bremen in the faraway fatherland. So he started a boathouse and again he prospered. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money. A little while ago his savings reached $300 and were steadily climbing up. He had a deep distrust of banks—has not since they broke—so he carried his savings away with him, securely tucked away down in his trousers. Apparently he was very hard pushed for money. The wily German carefully fostered the idea. Should he take the whole town into his confidence? Not he. Everybody supposed that he was broke—nobody except Aaron Racer. Mr. Racer was the Dutchman's boarder, for he had taken in a boarder to reduce the cost of living in his little boathouse. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money.

With the coming of spring he decided on a more active career than came with his winerwurst business. In days gone by he had been a sailor at Bremen in the faraway fatherland. So he started a boathouse and again he prospered. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money. A little while ago his savings reached $300 and were steadily climbing up. He had a deep distrust of banks—has not since they broke—so he carried his savings away with him, securely tucked away down in his trousers. Apparently he was very hard pushed for money. The wily German carefully fostered the idea. Should he take the whole town into his confidence? Not he. Everybody supposed that he was broke—nobody except Aaron Racer. Mr. Racer was the Dutchman's boarder, for he had taken in a boarder to reduce the cost of living in his little boathouse. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money.

With the coming of spring he decided on a more active career than came with his winerwurst business. In days gone by he had been a sailor at Bremen in the faraway fatherland. So he started a boathouse and again he prospered. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money. A little while ago his savings reached $300 and were steadily climbing up. He had a deep distrust of banks—has not since they broke—so he carried his savings away with him, securely tucked away down in his trousers. Apparently he was very hard pushed for money. The wily German carefully fostered the idea. Should he take the whole town into his confidence? Not he. Everybody supposed that he was broke—nobody except Aaron Racer. Mr. Racer was the Dutchman's boarder, for he had taken in a boarder to reduce the cost of living in his little boathouse. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money.

With the coming of spring he decided on a more active career than came with his winerwurst business. In days gone by he had been a sailor at Bremen in the faraway fatherland. So he started a boathouse and again he prospered. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money. A little while ago his savings reached $300 and were steadily climbing up. He had a deep distrust of banks—has not since they broke—so he carried his savings away with him, securely tucked away down in his trousers. Apparently he was very hard pushed for money. The wily German carefully fostered the idea. Should he take the whole town into his confidence? Not he. Everybody supposed that he was broke—nobody except Aaron Racer. Mr. Racer was the Dutchman's boarder, for he had taken in a boarder to reduce the cost of living in his little boathouse. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money.

With the coming of spring he decided on a more active career than came with his winerwurst business. In days gone by he had been a sailor at Bremen in the faraway fatherland. So he started a boathouse and again he prospered. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money. A little while ago his savings reached $300 and were steadily climbing up. He had a deep distrust of banks—has not since they broke—so he carried his savings away with him, securely tucked away down in his trousers. Apparently he was very hard pushed for money. The wily German carefully fostered the idea. Should he take the whole town into his confidence? Not he. Everybody supposed that he was broke—nobody except Aaron Racer. Mr. Racer was the Dutchman's boarder, for he had taken in a boarder to reduce the cost of living in his little boathouse. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money.

With the coming of spring he decided on a more active career than came with his winerwurst business. In days gone by he had been a sailor at Bremen in the faraway fatherland. So he started a boathouse and again he prospered. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money. A little while ago his savings reached $300 and were steadily climbing up. He had a deep distrust of banks—has not since they broke—so he carried his savings away with him, securely tucked away down in his trousers. Apparently he was very hard pushed for money. The wily German carefully fostered the idea. Should he take the whole town into his confidence? Not he. Everybody supposed that he was broke—nobody except Aaron Racer. Mr. Racer was the Dutchman's boarder, for he had taken in a boarder to reduce the cost of living in his little boathouse. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money.

With the coming of spring he decided on a more active career than came with his winerwurst business. In days gone by he had been a sailor at Bremen in the faraway fatherland. So he started a boathouse and again he prospered. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money. A little while ago his savings reached $300 and were steadily climbing up. He had a deep distrust of banks—has not since they broke—so he carried his savings away with him, securely tucked away down in his trousers. Apparently he was very hard pushed for money. The wily German carefully fostered the idea. Should he take the whole town into his confidence? Not he. Everybody supposed that he was broke—nobody except Aaron Racer. Mr. Racer was the Dutchman's boarder, for he had taken in a boarder to reduce the cost of living in his little boathouse. There was a good demand for his boats and he made much money.

FRIDAY NIGHT'S TRAGEDY

The Woman is Getting Better—Daniels to be Buried Today.

Mrs. Nellie Redding, better known as Blanche Sutherland, the woman who was shot three times by Caleb Daniels on Friday night at the "Clipper Shades," is out of danger and it is thought that she will recover. The final arrangements have been made for the burial of Daniels' body, which will leave the undertaking parlors at 2:30 this afternoon. His two brothers, who were supposed to be living here, have not appeared to claim the remains.

A resident of Rossland who has known the woman since she was a girl, told the story of her life in Chilliwack. She was a native of Chilliwack and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

A resident of Rossland who has known the woman since she was a girl, told the story of her life in Chilliwack. She was a native of Chilliwack and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

A resident of Rossland who has known the woman since she was a girl, told the story of her life in Chilliwack. She was a native of Chilliwack and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

A resident of Rossland who has known the woman since she was a girl, told the story of her life in Chilliwack. She was a native of Chilliwack and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

A resident of Rossland who has known the woman since she was a girl, told the story of her life in Chilliwack. She was a native of Chilliwack and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

A resident of Rossland who has known the woman since she was a girl, told the story of her life in Chilliwack. She was a native of Chilliwack and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

A resident of Rossland who has known the woman since she was a girl, told the story of her life in Chilliwack. She was a native of Chilliwack and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

A resident of Rossland who has known the woman since she was a girl, told the story of her life in Chilliwack. She was a native of Chilliwack and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

A resident of Rossland who has known the woman since she was a girl, told the story of her life in Chilliwack. She was a native of Chilliwack and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

A resident of Rossland who has known the woman since she was a girl, told the story of her life in Chilliwack. She was a native of Chilliwack and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

A resident of Rossland who has known the woman since she was a girl, told the story of her life in Chilliwack. She was a native of Chilliwack and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

A resident of Rossland who has known the woman since she was a girl, told the story of her life in Chilliwack. She was a native of Chilliwack and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

A resident of Rossland who has known the woman since she was a girl, told the story of her life in Chilliwack. She was a native of Chilliwack and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

A resident of Rossland who has known the woman since she was a girl, told the story of her life in Chilliwack. She was a native of Chilliwack and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

A resident of Rossland who has known the woman since she was a girl, told the story of her life in Chilliwack. She was a native of Chilliwack and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

A resident of Rossland who has known the woman since she was a girl, told the story of her life in Chilliwack. She was a native of Chilliwack and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

A resident of Rossland who has known the woman since she was a girl, told the story of her life in Chilliwack. She was a native of Chilliwack and she was very kind and satisfying her every whim. All the time the thought of talking to her from the place was uppermost in his mind, and he was determined to go to her and tell her that he would not leave her.

THE DAILY ROSSLAND MINER

Published every day in the week except Monday.

Full telegraphic reports from all parts of the world. Special reports from Victoria and Ottawa. The only daily paper in British Columbia having exclusive cable service from London. THE DAILY MINER is especially devoted to the Mining Interests of Rossland and Southern British Columbia. It is the most complete daily mining journal published in the world.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES.

Table with 2 columns: Subscription type and Rate. Includes Daily, per month, by carrier; Daily, per month, by mail; Daily, per half year, by mail; Daily, per year; Daily, per year, foreign.

For advertising rates and for sample copies address

THE ROSSLAND MINER, Rossland, B. C.

C. J. WALKER, 108 Bishopsgate St., LONDON, ENGLAND. London Agent of The Rossland Miner. Receives advertisements of all kinds for European press. Rates quoted. Contracts at special prices.

KOOTENAY LAKE SAWMILL. KASLO, B. C. All departments now running. Lumber, rough and dressed shingles, laths, doors, sash, finish factory work. The best equipped saw mill in the interior of British Columbia. G. O. BUCHANAN.

Wilson-Drumheller Packing Co., Spokane, Wash. PACKERS OF THE "CHINOOK" BRAND OF HAMS, Bacon, Pure Leaf Lard, Etc. Mail orders have our prompt attention.

MINING THIRTY-SEVENTH YEAR. WORLD-WIDE CIRCULATION. Twenty Pages, Weekly, Illustrated. INDISPENSIBLE TO MINING MEN. THREE DOLLARS PER YEAR, POSTPAID. MINEING AND SCIENTIFIC PRESS, 220 MARKET ST., SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.

L. I. PARKER, Consulting Engineer. Cable Address: "Parker," Rossland. Moresing & Neill and Bedford McNeill's Codes. DABNEY & PARKER, Mines and Mining. Mines examined and reported on. Special attention given to the planning and management of mines. Box 64, Rossland, B. C.

Liberal Comment on Balfour's Reform. LONDON, May 21.—Referring to Mr. Balfour's proposals regarding Ireland, the Daily News reminds Mr. Balfour that he failed to carry a similar Irish local government bill in 1892, and that he is now growing much nearer to the fatal error of his ways.

SPAIN'S SENATE EXCITED. STORMY DEBATE ON AMERICA'S ACTION.—Duke of Tetuan Slapped a Senator. MADRID, May 21.—In the Spanish senate today there was a heated and a tumultuous debate on the resolution of Senator Morgan, passed by the United States senate, and debate here was followed by an excited discussion in the lobby.

REFORMS FOR IRELAND. Mr. Balfour Makes an Important Announcement in the Commons. LONDON, May 21.—The first lord of the treasury and government leader, Mr. Balfour, made an important statement in the house of commons today regarding the government's policy which will be carried out next session, the object of which is to give Ireland an equivalent for the relief in agricultural rates given to England.

Fatal Explosion in a Distillery. HAZELTON, Pa., May 21.—Two persons were fatally scalded today by the bursting of a still in Michael McGarrity's distillery. The steam and scalding water rushed out upon Michael McGarrity, a laborer named Andrew Garitz, and another man named Charles McGarrity, who were in the building. The explosion and cries of the men attracted the attention of the distiller's wife and she rushed to their assistance. In doing so she was badly scalded in wading through the boiling liquid. The flesh peeled from her face and neck.

Reason for the Terry Divorce Case. PARIS, May 21.—The trial of the cross divorce suit brought by Antonio Terry against his wife was begun today. Mr. Terry is reported to be a man of high social position, and the Terry-Sanderson marriage being contingent upon the success of this action.

Yerkes' Great Telescope Completed. WILLIAMS BAY, Wis., May 21.—To the accompaniment of many cheers, the great objective lens of the Yerkes observatory were fitted into place today evening. An hour later the eye piece was adjusted and the world's greatest telescope became a reality. The sky, however, was too cloudy last night for observation.

Latham Defeats Fennell. CHICAGO, Ill., May 22.—At Queen's club today Peter Latham, the English tennis champion defeated J. Fennell.

No Graduated Inheritance Tax. ALBANY, N.Y., May 21.—Governor Black today vetoed the Dunley graduated inheritance tax bill. Under the provisions of this bill, estates below $100,000 would pay 5 per cent, and estates over $100,000 would pay 10 per cent. Governor Black stated as one of his reasons for not approving the bill that the state is not in need of money as taxes are now, and taxes are likely to decrease in future.

Suit Begun Against Spaulding. CHICAGO, Ill., May 22.—A declaration has been filed in the circuit court in a suit brought by the University of Illinois against Charles W. Spaulding, who was treasurer of the institution, to recover $50,000 on his bond. The declaration recites that the university entrusted to Spaulding's care $50,000 in cash and $50,000 worth of bonds which he has failed and refused to deliver to his successor.

Laurier in Montreal. MONTREAL, Que., May 21.—The Hon. Wilfrid Laurier arrived here today at noon. At a Windsor hotel and he was presented with a life sized portrait of himself. He stated that it is not to the knowledge of the Canadian government that the imperial authorities have signed the Peterson fast line contract as reported.

Bickerdyke Had 17 Majority. MONTREAL, Que., May 21.—The recovery in St. Antoine division of Montreal of the Bickerdyke Cycles works and proceeded to Balmoral, where she will arrive tomorrow.

Father Knipp is Dead. LONDON, May 22.—A dispatch to the Daily Chronicle from Paris says that Father Knipp, well known through his water cure, is dead. He had been suffering for some days from inflammation of the lungs and received the last sacrament of the church a week ago at Worthloffe. Subsequently, however, he rallied and it was thought he would recover.

Italy Will Retaliate. ROME, May 21.—Replying to an interpellation in the chamber of deputies as to the attitude of the government in regard to the Dingley bill, Viscount Venosta, minister of foreign affairs, said that Italy did not wish to make any reprisals, but if the United States government persisted in maintaining the attitude it has assumed Italy would defend herself by the adoption of similar tariff measures affecting American imports.

Reason for the Terry Divorce Case. PARIS, May 21.—The trial of the cross divorce suit brought by Antonio Terry against his wife was begun today. Mr. Terry is reported to be a man of high social position, and the Terry-Sanderson marriage being contingent upon the success of this action.

Yerkes' Great Telescope Completed. WILLIAMS BAY, Wis., May 21.—To the accompaniment of many cheers, the great objective lens of the Yerkes observatory were fitted into place today evening. An hour later the eye piece was adjusted and the world's greatest telescope became a reality. The sky, however, was too cloudy last night for observation.

Latham Defeats Fennell. CHICAGO, Ill., May 22.—At Queen's club today Peter Latham, the English tennis champion defeated J. Fennell.

No Graduated Inheritance Tax. ALBANY, N.Y., May 21.—Governor Black today vetoed the Dunley graduated inheritance tax bill. Under the provisions of this bill, estates below $100,000 would pay 5 per cent, and estates over $100,000 would pay 10 per cent. Governor Black stated as one of his reasons for not approving the bill that the state is not in need of money as taxes are now, and taxes are likely to decrease in future.

Suit Begun Against Spaulding. CHICAGO, Ill., May 22.—A declaration has been filed in the circuit court in a suit brought by the NS stock and Ltd. Stock 300,000 up and share.

200 feet of work and day shifts to tap now but the trust

worth, B. C.

Silver, oz. Lead per cent.

E. M., Kaslo.

rossland, B. C.

ine by us and we need not hesitate a big one. efficient to cover cur-

on Co., Telephone 18. and A B C Codes.

Pacific Nav. Co. (LIMITED). Sailing schedule for Vancouver, Victoria, and other ports.

ST. JOHN IRVING, Manager.

JOHN IRVING, Manager.