NEW STRIKES. An important fact of which notice should be taken in considering the future outlook for the district is the number of stampedes that have taken 1 place of recent date to creeks which have been staked and abandoned in past years.

Reference to the files of the Nugget brings to light the fact that as many as a half dozen tributaries to the main creeks of the district have been re-staked in the past few months, Þ every one of which has been the scene of a new find.

The most recent of these is a gulch on Eldorado which was long ago abandoned but which by persistent 1 and continued prospecting has been proven at length to carry excellent values. The same thing is true of other localities which will shortly be made to contribute to the annual golden yield of the territory. The facts serve to illustrate
