THE CHINESE MUST NOW GO.

Unnatural and Unhealthy Condition of Affairs in S. Africa

Discussed in Both Houses at Westminster.

Churchill Says it Seals the Fate of Chinese Labor.

go away from his section of the sea, and in their place there comes a shoal of snelts, he is not much of a fisher-New York, Nov. 19 .- The Tribune Parliament to-night debated the unpleasant subject arising from the recent unauthorized publication of the contents of the Bucknill report, which gives the results of an inquiry into the conditions of Chinese labor in South Africa, and which reveals the systematic practise of upnatural vices in the Chinese compounds there. Notice of this debate was given to day by R. C. Lehman, Liberal, who in the House of Commons obtained leave to move the adjournment of the House to discuss the "prevalence of gross immor-ality in the Chinese compounds in the 'Transvaal," as disclosed by the Buck-nill report, and "the imperative necessity he Government to take immediate to stop this state of affairs, es pecially by a more rapid and systematic repatriation of the Chinese."

Position of Radicals. The Government has hitherto declined to publish this report, on the ground that it was confidential. Among the Radicals the hope scenningly pertains that this scandal may be used in justification of the abolition of Chinese labor. The motion that all strangers should withdraw having been rejected by 320 votes to 25, Mr. Lehman before a crowded House moved the adjournment in a studiously moderate speech he de-clared the country was in the presence of a great moral disaster and asked the Government for information on specific points and what it intended to do in the Lyttelton Responsible.

Winston Spencer Churchill, Parliamentary Secretary to the Colonial Office, replied on behalf of the Government. He plied on behalf of the Government. said it had been decided not to publish the Bucknill report because it was un-printable, and because the evidence upon which it was based had been obtained confidentially. It was undoubtedly true. Mr. Churchill said, that such vices exist ed in many compounds, but the oppon-ents of Chinese labor always recognized that such a state of affairs was almost inevitable and the responsibility rested largely in the first place with Hon. Alfred Lyttelton, until lately Colonial Minister. It was quite untrue, however, as alleged, that these practices amounted to an open public scandal, or were tolerated by the police or mine managers These evils had long been foreseen; there why this belated intervention on the part of the Bishops and Archbishops? sked Mr. Churchill.

Chinese Lator Must Go.

The revelations of the Bucknill report although they did not bear out the statements alleged, nevertheless disclosed a condition of affairs sufficiently unhealthy and unnatural to seal the fate of Chinese labor. It was a matter, however, that should be left to South Africa, which was on the eve of responsible government.
Mr. Lyttelton then declared that no shred of evidence of this horrible and as they now drive automobiles. There monstrous system of vice had reached will be a short apprenticeship, but that him while in the Colonial Office. In brief, the members spoke on the subject and then day is not far distant when the aero-Premier Compbell-Bannerman said the plane of locomotion, will replace in the Government had every reason to believe the evil would be diminished, if not altogether eradicated. The motion was evidently talked over.

Discussion in the Lords.

stion was raised in the House of Lords by the Archbishop of Canter-bury, who asked if the Government had any information thereon. Lord Elgin, any information thereon. Lord Eigin, the Colonial Secretary, said the evidence of the Bucknill report went to show that the practices prevail in nearly all the compounds, and in his opinion strengthens the view that the permanent adoption of a system of Chinese labor was impossible. The grosser alhowever, were not substan tiated by the report.

Lord Lansdowne. Foreign Secretary the late Ministry, defending the late Government, said the Opposition would go as far as possible to assist the Government in stamping out the evils.

Welland, Nov. 1.4.—The Fort Eric lottery case was taken up here to-day by Judge Wells. W. E. Hunt, of Fort Eric, was charged with dealing in lottery tickets. The Crown produced evidence that Hunt received money, packages and letters from the express company. Many of the most eloquent preachers, he said, pastors of fashionable churches, were preaching to less than fifty men on the fairest Sunday mornings. W. C. T. U. REPORT DECREASE IN USE IN COMMUNION.

Co-operation With Women's Council Effort to Establish Homes for Feeble-minded Girls and Women. London report: The feature of this morning's session of the W. C. T. U. convention was the re-election of the offiers chosen last year. Following is the list: President, Mrs. S. G. E. McKee, of Barrie; Vice-President, Mrs. May R. Thornley, London; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Flora Yorke Miller, London Recording Secretary, Mrs. H. E. Irwin, Weston; Treasurer, Mrs. B. O. Britton, Weston; Treasurer, and Gananoque.

The reports presented this morning were those of the legislation, and law enforcement department, by Mrs. Emma Pugsley; the department of franchise, by Mrs. Helen Deltor of North Bay, and the report on unfermented wine, by Mrs. (Rev.) Hager, of St. George. The report on legislation and law enforcement showed that the interest in this depart ment had greatly increased during the last year ..

A step taken during the year by the W. C. T. U., which was mentioned in the report, was co-operation with the Woman's Council in an effort to establish homes for feeble-minded girls and worden who were not able to care for themselves but still were not proper subjects for insane asylums.

The report of the department of unfermented wine showed that there had been a great decrease in the use of fer-mented wine at the communicn services of all churches, even among the Episcopalians. Another effort made by the W. C. T. U. was to get doctors to encourage the use of unfermented wine s a tonic for their patients.

Mrs. Mary Teats, of California, again to-night addressed the convention, this time on the subject of "Temperance."

The evening conference on "Legislation and law enforcement' was conducted by Mrs. Will Pugsley, and many were the questions considered.

The election of a Provincial "Y" Secretary was the next business, and after much balloting Miss Harris, of Toronto, was duly elected.

"Press work" was reported on by Mrs. McCordick, of Roach's Point, her letter being read by Mrs. Irwin. "The local option campaign," as it was conducted in Owen Sound, was explain-ed in a capable manner by Miss Winnie Doyle, who comes from that temperane campaign. RELIGIOUS LIBERTY DENOUNCED.
