Omri and Ahab Lead Israel Into Greater Sin .-- 1 Kings 16: 15-33.

COMMENTARY .- 1. Zimi's Shaping (vs. 15-20). Baasha had conspired against Nadab, had slain him and seized the throne, so Elah the son of Baasad was the victim of a conspiracy and his kingdom was wrested from him by Zimri, Elah's servant, Zimri, was an off cer in the army and was captain over a half of the charions. In order to make himself secure in the kingdom he slew al of the family of Elah that there might be none to dispute his right. His reight was short, only seven days. The arm was waging a campaign against the Phil istines and were besieging Gibbethon. As soon as the army learned of Zinris act they made their commander, Omri, withdrew from Gibbethon and att tacked Zimri in the palace at Tirzah. Rather than fall into the hands of saw erah."-R. V. The hill Samaria-The palace of Tirzah being in ruins, Omri, in selecting the site of his royal residence, was naturally influenced by considerations of both pleasure and advantage. In the centre of a wide amphitheatre of mountains, about six miles from Sheenem rises an oblong hill with steep, yet a cessible sides, and a long, flat top extending east and west, and rising five hundred or six hundred feet above the valley. What Omri probably built as a mere palatial residence, became the cup-ital of the kingdom instead of Shechem. he choice of Omri was admirable in se eting a position which combined strength, beauty and fertility.--Stanley which combined the covenant people, by forbidding his Shemer--The Hebrew form is Shomer from whence the hill was called She altar of Jehovah at Jerusalem, and by meron, or Samaria. I have been treated by doctors for twenty-live years for a bad case of eczoma on my leg. They did their beat, but failed to cure it. My own doctor had advied me to have my leg cut off, but I said I would try the Outleura itemedics first. Ho said, "ary than if you like but I do not think they will do any rood." At this time my leg was peeled from the knee down, my foot was like a piere of raw field and I had to walk on crutches. I bought a cake of Catteara Soap, a box of Cutleura Oint-ment and a bottle of Cutleura Roodvent. After the first two treatments the swelling went down and in two months' use of the Cutleura Romedias my leg was cured and the new skin grown on.
