The Kaiser's Sons All to be Soldiers.

In a very few years all the German Kaiser's sons will be engaged in the service of their country. Friedrich Wilhelm, the Crown Prince, though only a major in rank, is colonel commanding the First Hussars of the bodyguard, the famous "Death's Head Hussars," with skull and crossbones as regimental crest. The next older brother, Prince Titel Friedrich, likewise major in rank, commands a squadron of Bodyguard Hussars in Potsdam; but the post is only temporary, for he has already acted as Governor of Pomerania, and will, it is expected, be shortly appointed to a high civil or military position in that province. Prince Adalbert, who has adopted the navy as a profession, is attending the Kiel Naval Academy, though he has had for a few months command of a torpedo boat. Prince August Wilhelm is learning administrative work in Potsdam, and will also doubtless be appointed governor of a province, or at least prefect of a district. Prince Oscar is in his second year of service as a lieutenant at the War Academy, and Prince Joachim, the Kaiser's youngest son, is sub-lieutenant in one of the infantry regiments at Potsdam. Prince Henry, the Kaiser's brother, resides as grand admiral and inspector-general of the fleet at Kiel, where one of his sons, Prince Waldemar, is studying law, probably with a view to entering state service, while the other, Prince Sigismund, is devoting himself to the study of science.

SUN POWER USED. After many years' experiments it is stated that a method has at last been discovered of harnessing the power of the sun. In the current number of "The Engineer" there is an account of a "sun engine," the invention of Frank Shuman, of Philadelphia. The engine, it is said, develops thirty-two horsepower during the hottest part of the day, which gradually decreases as the afternoon passes. "Of course," says The Engineer, "every one recognizes, and no one more than Mr. Shuman, that it has a limited scope. No one expects to see sun plants in use in England, or even in Europe, but in tropical regions, say twenty degrees on either side of the equator, it becomes a practical proposition, for, in that area, not only plenty of sunshine is relied upon, but oil and coal are expensive, and where coal or its equivalent cannot be purchased for less than 10 shillings a ton, a sun power plant has its chance. "Another thing is also to be remarked. Sun power, like wind power, being inconstant, the most profitable use to which it can be put is pumping, and in tropical countries, a great need for water-raising machinery for irrigation purposes exists."—New York Times.

ONE WAY TO SAVE COAL. The Pennsylvania Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis sends out the following bulletin: "Don't conserve if your coal bills are high this winter. It will be your own fault. To fill one's home with a hot, dry air, as most people do, is both expensive and unhealthful. Tuberculosis, pneumonia and colds lie in wait for persons living in this kind of atmosphere. On the other hand, properly moistened air does not have to be heated to as high a temperature as dry air in order to be made comfortable. When you feel cold, therefore, instead of seeing whether the furnace needs fuel, find out if the air does not want water. On a cold day the windows of your room should have the perspired look of a kitchen window on a washday. In very cold weather the panes ought to be frosted. If you find this is not the case, the air probably needs a drink. Place a pan of water in the room, or if you have steam heat, allow a little of the steam to escape. You will soon feel comfortable, although the temperature of the room will not have risen. With properly moistened air a room need to be heated to more than 64 degrees."

UNNECESSARY. Former Senator John M. Thurston, of Nebraska, found Mars, Henry Waterson in the Willard cafe the other day taking a "snifter" all by himself, according to the Washington correspondent of the New York World. "Come over, John, and have a nip," said the famous editor. "John, tell me something. Where have all the orders gone, the men who used to swag multitudes and lift audiences off their feet? There are only three of us left—myself, you and George Peck, of Chicago." "Why mention Peck?" asked Thurston. "He's not here."

AUSTRALIA'S WILD DOG.

Menace to Stock Raising—High Price on His Scalp.

The dingo or wild dog of Australia. The dingo is to Australia what the wolf is to eastern Europe and the coyote to America. Hunting in packs or alone, he is a constant menace to Australia's chief industry, the breeding of sheep. Many are the schemes evolved for the wild dog's destruction, but his capture or death is a comparatively rare occurrence when set against his constant depredations. There are dog trappers who spend their whole lives in trying to catch dingoes, men who have studied every aspect of their work and who spare no pains and avoid no hardships in a constant warfare with the wild and cunning of the sheep slayer. Though the dingo is met with from time to time in almost every part of the Australian bush, his principal habitat is the rough range country in the centre and north of New South Wales and the deep, dark scrub of Queensland.

German Programme May Force Great Britain to War. In recent number of the Kieler Nachrichten an announcement was made in a trustworthy source of information that the German government had a new navy scheme impending for the expenditure of 2,000,000,000 marks, which would be distributed over seven years, making an annual expenditure of 285,714,285 marks, or 285,714,285 dollars. It is hardly too much to say that among the seer elements of the German navy and press the decision caused deep dismay. WHY SNIFFLE AND SNEEZE WITH CATARRHAL COLD?

By Breathing the Healing Vapor of Catarrhazone You Get Relief in Ten Minutes.

Every second person that you meet seems to have a sneeze and stuffed feeling in the forehead and nostrils. To cure promptly, say, in half an hour, there is nothing worth using except Catarrhazone. You inhale its balsamic vapor, and feel as if you were among the Norway pines. This is because Catarrhazone contains a heading medicine, light as pine air, which is breathed straight into the lungs and bronchial tubes. Away goes the cold; sneezing and catarrhal cough cease, bronchial irritation stops; in short, you are cured of catarrh by a pleasant, simple remedy, free from sedatives and irritants.

ONTARIO'S 1910 LUMBER ACT.

(Forestry Press Bulletin No. 48) Ontario still produces a little over one-third of the quantity of the lumber cut annually in Canada, but its annual output while increasing, is increasing more slowly each year. Ontario's 1910 cut was 17 per cent. greater than in 1909; 1909 was only 7.5 per cent. more than in 1908. The Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior has compiled statistics showing that 1,642,151,000 feet of lumber was cut in Ontario in 1910, as compared with 1,410,000,000 feet in 1909, but that British Columbia will be Canada's premier lumber province in the short time. The diversified forests of Ontario have enabled this province to hold its supremacy up to the present. As illustrated in 1910, when the chief cut of seventeen species came from Ontario White Pine to the value of $17,743,974 came from Ontario forests and formed 85 per cent. of Canada's white pine cut. Nearly half of the hemlock cut in Canada in 1910 was cut in Ontario, and over 90 per cent. of the red pine. Ontario contributed over 70 per cent. of the hard wood cut. Of the total made up of 25 species cut in Ontario, over one-half was white pine. Red pine contributed 10 per cent. of the total, and 100 per cent. of the soft wood cut. The total value of the cut was $17,743,974, or 17.7 per cent. of the total value of the cut in Canada. The total value of the cut in Ontario in 1910, there must be added to the above number, 1,278,000,000 feet, worth $10,211 and $61,953,000 lath, worth $1,943,544.

Thousands have no doubt read the commendable articles recently appearing in some of the leading American and Canadian papers on the use of alum in baking. Until the Dominion Government follows the lead of England, France and Germany and prohibits the use of alum in foods, there is but one safe-guard against alum, and that is to buy only a baking powder which has the ingredients plainly stated on the label.

ONE THING THE MEN CAN DO.

While in Richmond recently for the performance of "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," Kate Douglas Wiggin was asked how she stood on the vote for woman's question. She replied she didn't "stand at all," and told a story about a New England farmer's wife who had no very romantic ideas about the opposite sex, and who, hurrying from church to sink, from sink to sheet, and back to the kitchen stove, when she wanted a vote. "No, I certainly don't! I say if there's one little thing that the men folk can do alone, for goodness' sake let 'em do it!" she replied.—Buffalo Commercial.

THE AIR MILE.

The "air mile" is a unit of measurement that has come into use with the advancement of aviation. We had the land mile and the sea mile, which is approximately one-seventh longer than the land mile of America. The nautical mile is often incorrectly called a knot as a measure of both distance and time. It is correct to say that a vessel makes 10 knots, but to say that she makes 10 knots an hour is tautology. The air mile is measured differently from the land mile and the sea mile. It is a land mile minus the retardation of an adverse wind or plus the acceleration of a favoring wind. Thus an aviator could cover many air miles while hovering over a given point on the earth's surface. "Blossoms" Magazine.

THE CHINESE COMPLEXION.

The exquisite complexion of the young Chinese woman is due not to an smelting, as has been suspected, but to careful manipulation of the face done by expert masseuses. They begin by a gentle pinching of the cheeks between the tips of their fingers, which lasts fully ten minutes; then apply lotions on absorbent cotton, then an unguent, and finish by kneading the cheeks with an extreme delicacy of touch, always proceeding from the nose and commissures of the lips toward the ears. This is a harmless and physiologically correct process which can be recommended in cases, rarer than they should be, where the physician is consulted concerning a faded or otherwise unattractive complexion.—From La Presse Medicale.

TURKISH ETIQUETTE.

The etiquette of the members of the Turkish chamber almost viva with the politeness of the young (Chinese to his prospective father-in-law, so amusingly told by Goldsmith. At the commencement of the new era, either by accident or design, a custom arose that when any member of the house entered all those who were present rose from their seats and made their salaam to the newcomer. Even if a member was addressing the house, a breach in the speech was considered preferable to a breach of courtesy, consequently the orator paused, and the civilities complied with, proceedings resumed. To put matters bluntly, the ancient practice proved themselves a nuisance, so Mukhtar Pasha took the matter in hand, with the result that the house agreed that these courtesies should only be observed before the house was in session. As the members drop in now all in their seats rise and exchange compliments with the late comers, but as soon as the business begins the belated one, metaphorically, like Longfellow's Arab, "folds his turban and silently steals away" into his seat.—London Globe.

THE JEWISH FARMERS.

The third annual convention of the Jewish Farmers of America, now going on at the Educational Alliance building in Manhattan, was morally certain to evoke a letter from Mayor Gaynor. The mayor in that inevitable letter declares that ten thousand push-cart men in New York would be better off on farms. He adds: "There is no reason why the Jews should not be farmers. Originally, and for thousands of years, the Jewish race was given almost exclusively to agriculture. Everything should be done to induce the Jews to return to agriculture." As a matter of fact the Jews by thousands are farming large sections in Brazil, and have thousands of colonists on some 17,000,000 acres of land in the Argentine. They have a number of prosperous agricultural colonies in Palestine. They have 35,000 persons on the agricultural reservations in unfriendly Russia. In Canada, and at a score of places in the United States they have succeeded as farmers.

But broader thinkers will doubt the theory of the mayor that "everything should be done to induce the Jews to return to agriculture." The Jew is the greatest millstone on earth. Distribution is fully as important as production. Our civilization depends upon the efficiency of distribution. In such efficiency the Jew is a marvelous factor. We suppose what the mayor really meant was that everything should be done to give any Jews who desire to return to agriculture an opportunity of doing so. In that form the proposition is entirely defensible.—Brooklyn Eagle.

PREPARING HIS SPEECH.

A reply very characteristic of the statesman and diplomat who made it is given in the "Autobiography of Alfred Austin." Lord and Lady Salisbury were among the guests at Hiewell Grange. Lord Salisbury had come to speak at a public meeting. On the morning of the day when the speech was to be delivered, seeing Lord Salisbury passing into the study, I said to him: "I suppose you are going to think over what you will say to-night?" "No," he said, in his ironical way, "rather to think over what I must not say."

On the main line the end of track has now reached 1,037.5 miles west of Winnipeg. On the Alberta coal branch, which is being built from Bickerdike into the Brazeau rail fields, the track has reached mile 21.4 south of Bickerdike. On the Toifield-Calgary branch the steel has been laid 165.3 miles south of Toifield. On the Young-Prince Albert branch the end of the track is at mile 67.3 north of Young. The entire portion of the branch between Melville and Regina has been completed, a mileage of 99.4. The 52 miles on the Melville-Canora branch has also been completed. On the Moose Jaw branch, between Regina and Moose Jaw, track has been laid 11 miles west of Regina.

BONDS WILL INCREASE YOUR INCOME

Your surplus money, your savings, float most of the big undertakings in Canada. The banks, loan and insurance companies, etc., use the money you deposit with them to buy bonds. The government charter under which these companies act, restricts them to certain kinds of investment. They cannot invest where their money is not quickly available when wanted. They can and do buy bonds. When you increase the yield of your money it is equivalent to increasing your principal. When you can do this without any sacrifice of security, as is the case when purchasing bonds, it is a matter which demands your close and immediate attention. Literature on the subject of bonds which we will send you on application, describes fully this premier form of investment.
