In the Afterglow.

Mother to mine, in the afterglow of mothering years, I love you so; For loving me 'er life I knew;

"When next you meet a new life grow, Loving me on into fatherhood, When I so little understood;

The long, hard way we all must go, Mother to mine, I love you so.

Loving me, too, when life so sweet Tempted my wayward, girlish feet A way from paths of truth and right;

To paths that led to sleep and pain, Winning me back with loving tone To ways that you had made your own;

By struggle and strife and pain and power, By love's own courts you held me there, Mother to mine, I love you so.

The long, hard way we all must go, Mother to mine, I love you so.

The joy, the pain, the love, the tear; 'Tis mine to give you what you gave me, Mother to mine, I love you so;

My girlish lips the music fringed With all the mother hopes and fears, That fit to the bride's mothering years.

Mother of mine, in the afterglow of motherhood's years, I thank you so For gifts to me from out your heart.

As thoughts that rise my hot tears, that shed give me ways to my every day.

How great is my love before you go How ready to rest from your mothering; I would remove life's every sting.

And give you rest in the afterglow; For, mother of mine, I love you so.

—FLORENCE RIVOLA, in the Christian Herald.

Four Tappers in the War.

Lieut. Charles Tapper, son of Sir Charles Hilbert Tapper, is at Rockcliffe Ranges attending the school for musketry prior to going to the front with his regiment, a British Columbia battalion.

All four sons of Sir Charles Hilbert Tapper are in service. Reginald Tapper was wounded at St. Julien. He stuck to his machine gun until twice wounded. He is convalescing in England. Gordon Tapper, an officer of the Second Contingent, is reported to have joined one of the regiments in Flanders. He has been kept out of action for some time through an attack of pneumonia. James is an inspector in the Northwest Mounted Police, and has been refused permission to go to the front, as officers in the Mounted Police are required in the West. Charles Tapper, the youngest of the family, has now joined the colors.

Lieut. Merritt, a son-in-law, died at St. Julien while leading his men in an attack on the German trenches.

Painless Advice.

The rule of give and take applies to many things, but not to advice. Whoso attempts to take advice as freely as he gives it must either be dumb, to begin with, or else will end badly. In this connection an amusing moral is pointed out by the action of a certain Kansas girl. The Kansas City Star clips her story from its neighbor, the Hiawatha World:

A girl in Hiawatha had a proposal of marriage Sunday night, and asked a week to consider it before filing her answer. She then organized herself into an investigating committee and commenced taking testimony from the married ladies of her acquaintance.

The first one she visited used to be a belle and the most admired girl in the town before she was married six years ago. The cross examination brought out the fact that she had three children, did all her own work including her washing and ironing and hadn't been down town for a month, and that her husband had given her but $2 a week she was married, and that he had borrowed and forgotten to pay back $10 which her brother once gave her for a Christmas present. She bought himself a new overcoat with the money, while she wore the same plush coat that she wore when he was courting her.

Another woman whom she visited quite teaching school three years ago to marry the "handsome and best dressed man in town" and she is now supporting him. A third didn't dare to say her soul was her own when her husband was around, though she used to write some lovely essays when she was at school on the emancipation of women, and the fourth woman she visited was divorced. After visiting them and summing up the evidence, she went home and wrote to the young man. She will be married next month.

Much Adler-i-ka Used in Wolfville.

It is reported by A. V. Rand, drug dealer, that much Adler-i-ka is sold in Wolfville. People have found out that ONE SPOONFUL of this simple, buckthorn bark and glycerine mixture relieves almost ANY CASE of constipation, sour or gassy stomach. It is so powerful that it is used successfully in appendicitis. ONE MINUTE after you take it the gasses rumble and pass out. It is perfectly safe to use and cannot gripe.

'Lift Up Your Heads.'

We have nothing here to do with slackers, but only with our British soldiers, who have gone readily to the help of the Lord against the might. They may not have thought much of their danger, but they knew their danger; they were prepared, as they said themselves, to do their 'bit of work,' and to risk the sacrifice of their lives; and their wives, their children, their mothers, their fathers, their sisters, joined in the sacrifice, not, perhaps, without apprehension, but without any attempt to turn them from the perilous road. The spirits of our fallen warriors would turn from us if their death brought them any or cowardice to our souls. Let no man or woman think that the loss of life is fruitless, or that our soldiers have fallen in vain.—Inverness Courier.

There is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets for little ones. They are absolutely safe and are guaranteed free from opiates and never fail in giving relief from the minor ills of babyhood. Concerning them Mrs. Albert Bergeron, St. Agapit, Que., writes: "My baby was suffering from constipation and teething troubles and Baby's Own Tablets quickly cured him. Now I always keep them in the house." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The People On Whom You Can Depend.

One of the things which amazes me most in my observation of people, is to see a man whose wide interests have brought him in contact with a great variety of human kind, in the same percentage who can be depended on. It does not matter whether you are engaging a waiter to take care of your property, or securing the cooperation of a young girl in a charitable work. You can never feel certain that you will get the best of the crucial moment arrives.

There is hardly a more serious charge to be brought against young people than that of being undependable. A desire to be thought obliging prompts them to make easy promises, which seemingly rest as lightly on the hearts of the giver as if they were not promises at all. It is incredible how many people pledge themselves to aid with this thing or that, to present on some occasion, to give something, to help somewhere, and then when the time arrives serenely present any excuse which happens to occur to them for failing to carry out their agreement.

It is the people who cannot be depended on who block the wheels of progress, upset the calculations of real workers and break down the dependable people who are perforce obliged to attempt not only their own work, but that of the unreliable, beside.

It is not remarkable in any way but one, said a business man recommending one of his workers, 'but you can always rely on him.' And that peculiarity secured the youth the advancement he wanted. In the long run, reliability outweighs brilliancy. There is nothing the business world needs quite as much as people who can be depended on.

Eczema and Sore Eyes.

My daughter suffered from inflamed eyelids and eczema on her head, writes Mr. H. W. Lear, Port Stanford, Nfld. "The child was in a bad state and suffered greatly. The doctor failed to help her, and on recommendation of a friend, I used Dr. Chase's Ointment, which made her well in a few days."

Good Sentences.

One can only give from what one has to give, not from what belongs to someone else.

If good people would but make their goodness agreeable, and smile instead of frowning in their virtue, how many would they win to the good cause!

Love—true love—is so far from being 'blind' that it is the greatest of eye openers.

Inspection of the Truro and Cornwallis districts.

Inspection of the Truro and Cornwallis districts. Garnet Chilli potato fields is being done this week by Mr. E. J. Wortley, Director of Agriculture for Bermuda. Prof. W. H. Brittain, representing the Provincial Government, and Messrs. S. J. Moore, Dominion Seed Inspector, and Paul A. Murphy, Dominion Plant Pathologist, representing the Federal Government. According to Mr. Wortley, the inspection so far reveals the fact that the N. S. potato growers have earned a lesson from past experiences, and that by the use of rigidly selected seed and regular spraying they can save their potato crops from being condemned. The N. S. growers have not yet fully realized the importance of spraying, and what losses they may have this year will be due to a lack of thoroughness in this matter. But it must be said that the growers have been much more thorough this year than in any previous year.

A Recruiting Song.

Can't you hear us calling, calling, from the trenches far and wide, In Britain's broken billy and France's shell torn side?

We've held them for a twelvemonth, through mud and storm and rain, And we think it's due to you, lads, to come and share the same.

For all must fight for Britain, shoulder arms and play the game.
