The centre of the nerth wal is occupied by Mr. Geo. A. Rold's large poure "The Berry Pickers," a very street painting, full of light and harmofous celer. Near this picture is hung Mr. Bell-Smith's "Dykeland," a baddy and strengly painted picture while represents meet truthiully the wide, flat leds of Helland. In this the coloring and perspective are partionarly geod. On the same wall are hung "The Venetian Bablt," by the late Paul Peel. This was one down paintings by this artist which hung the salon; the other was bought by the Hungarian Government for £7,000, and ne hange in the Reyal Gallery of Buda Pt. By its side the reperter netloced a coloning pertrait of his sister, by Mr. W. Air Bruce. It is called a sketch, but, tugh surreunded by some very fine anatoportant works, it dees not suffer by complien.

Mr. W. A. Sherwood thews werel pictures, all beldly and eleverly theed, but the best is the one called "She Frait," hung under Mr. Beld's big pict.

The south wall has ne largeanvasses, but these here shown at perhaps the meet interesting in collection. A group of seve ociors by Mr. L. R. O'Brien hat side by ided with a similar number offr. Bell-Smith's. The former seems telight in soft grey tenss and realisation of the server of the felt. The effect is refreshing and enjoyable. His "Niag" is an admirable effort. JACKSONVILLE, Fig., Dec. 30.—It look though the Corbett-Mitchell meeting yet take place here. The managers of the David Club are in a state of panic and not knew which way to turn.

The arrest of the principals was designed to define the law and get a declaration from Judge Baker, of the County Court, that the proposed match as described in the article of agreement would not be an illegal act Geverner Mitchell refuses either to count tenance the proceedings while they pend or tenance the precedings while they pend or te respect the declaries of the cent when it is rendered. He says: "I shall not be garreted by any wing to the great number who can-

It has been decided to have the fight take place at 11 c'cleck in the merning instead of at night if it can be arranged for at all. Arrangements for electric lighting at night could not be made.

Hogmanay Concert.

Hogmanay Concert.

There was a big crewd at Pipe-Major George Smith's annual Hegmanay cencert and ball in the Arcade last evening. Mr. Smith's friends always turn out well at these affairs, and ne man deserves their patronage better than Mr. Smith does. Chief McKinnon was Chairman, and a very geed en he made. He opened the proceedings with a neat little speech, and kept the entertainment running smeethly all the evening. There was a good deal of Soetch in the pregramme, but it was nene the worse of that. These whe teek part were: Misses A. Edgar, L. Addisen, May Masheson, and Messrs. James Fax, O. Leckie and F. L. Briggs. The ladies sang their selections remarkably well, receiving encres. Miss Masheson, the little World's Fair dancer, danced the Highland Fling and a Sailer's Hernpipe with much grace. Miss Edgar and Mr. Leckie sang "Ye Banks and Brace o' Bonnie Doon" admirably. It was ene of the pretitest things of the evening. Mr. Briggs and Mr. Fax supplied the fun. Mr. Fax was expecially funny. Seme of his sengs were almost as cemical as Mr. VanAllen's nemination speech. Mr. O. L. M. Harris, Mus. Bac., presided at the plane. After the concert, dancing was indulged in, Anderson's erchestra previding the music and Mr. J. Hackett calling eff.
