

THEATRE
A new musical comedy, "The Girl from the Hills," was presented at the Winter Garden Theatre by the New York Stock Exchange Chorus. It is the first musical comedy to be produced by the stock exchange.
The play, "The Girl from the Hills," was written by George M. Cohan and directed by George V. Hobart. The music was composed by Harry Ruby and the lyrics by Harry Ruby and George M. Cohan.
The story concerns a girl from the hills who comes to the city to find work. She finds it in a job as a singer in a restaurant. She falls in love with a man who is a member of the stock exchange. They get married and live happily ever after.
The cast includes George M. Cohan, Harry Ruby, George V. Hobart, and the New York Stock Exchange Chorus. The play runs for three weeks at the Winter Garden Theatre.
The play, "The Girl from the Hills," was presented at the Winter Garden Theatre by the New York Stock Exchange Chorus. It is the first musical comedy to be produced by the stock exchange.
The play, "The Girl from the Hills," was written by George M. Cohan and directed by George V. Hobart. The music was composed by Harry Ruby and the lyrics by Harry Ruby and George M. Cohan.
The story concerns a girl from the hills who comes to the city to find work. She finds it in a job as a singer in a restaurant. She falls in love with a man who is a member of the stock exchange. They get married and live happily ever after.
The cast includes George M. Cohan, Harry Ruby, George V. Hobart, and the New York Stock Exchange Chorus. The play runs for three weeks at the Winter Garden Theatre.
The play, "The Girl from the Hills," was written by George M. Cohan and directed by George V. Hobart. The music was composed by Harry Ruby and the lyrics by Harry Ruby and George M. Cohan.
The story concerns a girl from the hills who comes to the city to find work. She finds it in a job as a singer in a restaurant. She falls in love with a man who is a member of the stock exchange. They get married and live happily ever after.
The cast includes George M. Cohan, Harry Ruby, George V. Hobart, and the New York Stock Exchange Chorus. The play runs for three weeks at the Winter Garden Theatre.
The play, "The Girl from the Hills," was written by George M. Cohan and directed by George V. Hobart. The music was composed by Harry Ruby and the lyrics by Harry Ruby and George M. Cohan.
The story concerns a girl from the hills who comes to the city to find work. She finds it in a job as a singer in a restaurant. She falls in love with a man who is a member of the stock exchange. They get married and live happily ever after.
The cast includes George M. Cohan, Harry Ruby, George V. Hobart, and the New York Stock Exchange Chorus. The play runs for three weeks at the Winter Garden Theatre.
The play, "The Girl from the Hills," was written by George M. Cohan and directed by George V. Hobart. The music was composed by Harry Ruby and the lyrics by Harry Ruby and George M. Cohan.
The story concerns a girl from the hills who comes to the city to find work. She finds it in a job as a singer in a restaurant. She falls in love with a man who is a member of the stock exchange. They get married and live happily ever after.
The cast includes George M. Cohan, Harry Ruby, George V. Hobart, and the New York Stock Exchange Chorus. The play runs for three weeks at the Winter Garden Theatre.
The play, "The Girl from the Hills," was written by George M. Cohan and directed by George V. Hobart. The music was composed by Harry Ruby and the lyrics by Harry Ruby and George M. Cohan.
The story concerns a girl from the hills who comes to the city to find work. She finds it in a job as a singer in a restaurant. She falls in love with a man who is a member of the stock exchange. They get married and live happily ever after.
The cast includes George M. Cohan, Harry Ruby, George V. Hobart, and the New York Stock Exchange Chorus. The play runs for three weeks at the Winter Garden Theatre.
The play, "The Girl from the Hills," was written by George M. Cohan and directed by George V. Hobart. The music was composed by Harry Ruby and the lyrics by Harry Ruby and George M. Cohan.
The story concerns a girl from the hills who comes to the city to find work. She finds it in a job as a singer in a restaurant. She falls in love with a man who is a member of the stock exchange. They get married and live happily ever after.
The cast includes George M. Cohan, Harry Ruby, George V. Hobart, and the New York Stock Exchange Chorus. The play runs for three weeks at the Winter Garden Theatre.